Allies Bar Czech Air Trips Over West Zone

No Reason Given for Action—No Comment on Oatis

Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 13 (AP)—The allied high commission has barred all Czech airline flights across West Germany, high commission officials disclosed today.

Officials gave no reason for the action.

An American official said the United States, Britain and France had concurred in the joint action in barring the Czechoslovak plane flights, effective last Tuesday midnight.

Asked whether the decision had anything to do with the case of William Oatis, Associated Press correspondent, who was sentenced to jail by the Czechoslovaks for 10 years on spy charges, he answered "no comment."

Prompted by Dispatch

The inquiry was prompted by a dispatch Aug. 16 from Washington which said that the State Department was studying a plan to bar the Communist country's planes from flying over the U. S. zone.

Washington officials said that it was one of several moves being considered as retaliatory steps to the Czechoslovak treatment of Oatis. The State Department has termed the espionage charges against Oatis ridiculous and called his trial a hoax.

State Department officials said on Aug. 16 that a U. S. ban on Czech plane flights over the U. S. zone would inconvenience the Czechoslovaks but that consultations with Britain and France were then being held for a move which would virtually halt all Czechoslovak plane flights to the west.

Given Note Monday

The high commission official here disclosed that the Czechoslovak military mission in Berlin was handed the note on the ban last Monday.

It said "The allied high commission has suspended until further notice the permission of the Czechoslovak Airlines (CSA) to fly over territory of the (West) German Federal Republic."

He said the brief notice contained no explanation.

The U. S. Congress has voted overwhelmingly to recommend that commercial relations with Czechoslovakia be severed until Oatis is freed.

Czechoslovak Ambassador Vladimir Prochazka told U. S. reporters after seeing Secretary of State Acheson that his government will not yield to American economic, political or "propaganda" pressure.

The Czechoslovak Airlines Company has regularly scheduled flights to Switzerland, France, Britain and Holland.

Banning its planes from the air over West Germany would force long detours in an attempt to maintain the schedules. The airlines company is a government monopoly.

The high commission spokesman confirmed that the Czechoslovak government has been notified of the ban but said no official announcement is being made.

Good of Fluorine Depends on Locale

New Flaw Is Discovered in Treatment for Teeth of Children

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Editor)

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Discovery of a flaw in the fluorine treatment for childrens' teeth was reported to the Twelfth International Congress of Pure and Applied Chemistry yesterday.

Fluorine is added to drinking water in many American cities, to give children better teeth. Dentists all over the country treat childrens' teeth with fluorine.

The flaw is not the fluorine itself, but another mineral, the metal magnesium, which you get in food and drink. Too much magnesium blocks the good work of fluorine.

This means that how much good the fluorine treatments do may depend on where you live and what you eat and drink.

There is magnesium in the soil everywhere. Plants contain a little, and animals get a little from eating the plants. Human plant food contains some. The amount of magnesium you take in depends on how much there is in the soil where your food comes from.

Magnesium is a normal part of your tissues and blood but in very small amounts.

Suggested Remedy

A possible remedy for the magnesium was suggested by Dr. Albert E. Sobel of Brooklyn who made this report. He said a little added phosphorus, in diet, probably would block off the magnesium.

He is head of the biochemistry department of the Jewish Hospital, Brooklyn. He discovered the magnesium effect when looking for diets to make good teeth.

He found diets that made either bad or good teeth in rats. Bad teeth came when the animals ate food high in calcium in proportion to the amount of phosophorus. Good teeth came from diets low in calcium in comparison to phosphorus.

Fluorine helped make good teeth but not when a little too much magnesium was present.

Sanitarium Is Sold

St. Benedict's Sanitarium, located at 120-122 Fair street, under the ownership of Mrs. Carlotta Cummings, has been sold to Mrs. Madeleine Wanda, a licensed nurse, it was learned today. Mrs. Wanda was recently employed at the Benedictine Hospital. She will take immediate possession. Mrs. Cummings, who is retiring, will continue to be a resident of Kingston.

Lovett Gets Group's Okay

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today unanimously approved confirmation of Robert A. Lovett as secretary of defense to succeed Gen. George C. Marshall.

The action came just 24 hours after Marshall resigned and President Truman nominated Lovett, now deputy secretary, to succeed him.

The nomination now goes to the Senate where an effort probably will be made for confirmation later in the day.

No Ruling Given On Petition About Tuition Charges

Excessive Rate for Pupils Charged by Bush for Township District

No decision was given Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of the hearing before the New York State Education Department on the petition of the trustee of Common School District No. 8, Town of Ulster, who is appealing the non-resident tuition charge of $88 per year fixed by the Kingston Board of Education for pupils attending city schools from the district.

Following oral argument and submission of a brief of Lloyd R. LeFever, counsel for the district, Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly asked for 10 days to answer. This was granted by Deputy Commissioner Allen, before whom the hearing was held. LeFever was given five days additional time to reply should he desire.

Attending the hearing in Albany were Percy Bush, trustee; Clarence Johnson of Saugerties, district superintendent and Attorney LeFever for the petitioners. Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly, Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw, President of the Board Clarence Rowland, Trustee Robert Herzog, a former president of the board, and Trustee N. McDonald Is Strongly for Bail Forfeit

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Gambler Harry Gross, urbane and grinning after his one-day flight from his cop guards, was shuttled through legal proceedings today to put him back on tap as star graft case witness.

Brought back from New Jersey where he had spent a leisurely day at the races, he was hustled before a U. S. commissioner to answer a federal fugitive warrant issued after he disappeared.

Commissioner Martin C. Epstein dismissed the federal charge so as to formally return Gross to custody of the state, which has billed him as chief prosecution witness in its gambling-graft trial of 18 policemen.

The trial, still in its jury-picking stage after two days, appeared likely to collapse after Gross, ex-boss of a multi-million dollar bookmaking empire, slipped away from guards at his Atlantic Beach, L. I., home Tuesday night.

Before the federal commissioner, Gross was in jovial, wisecracking mood. Asked if he were the missing man, he grinned wryly and said, "I guess I must be."

Will Fight Attempt

Gross' attorney said he will seek to vacate an order—issued after Gross vanished—forfeiting the gambler's $25,000 bail. But District Attorney Miles F. Mc-

Peiping Hints UN Admission Price for Resuming Parley

Acceptance of 'Military Realities' by Americans Is Suggested by Peiping Radio—Allied Command Says Nothing at Present

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Peiping radio threw out a hint tonight the price for resuming Korean truce talks would be allied admission that all Red truce violation charges are true.

The United Nations Command has rejected all of a long string of Red charges except one. It has admitted the accidental strafing of the Kaesong neutral zone Monday.

The Peiping radio quoted a Communist correspondent at Kaesong as declaring:

"The cease-fire talks could start again immediately and agreement could be reached in a short time if the Americans accepted the military realities" and took the responsibility for all the alleged neutrality violations.

Comment Refused

The UN command for the moment was saying nothing. It would not even say what was in the latest Red note handed allied liaison officers Wednesday.

The allied officers had just handed the Reds a note apologizing for the accidental strafing of the Kaesong neutral zone by an allied B-26 bomber on Monday.

The command usually releases copies of such notes as soon as they are received from the UN advance headquarters at Munsan.

The public information office for the headquarters of supreme allied commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said it has been unable to develop information on the note after several tries. A PIO spokesman said he had "no idea" when the note would be released.

Sources in Korea said spokesmen at the advance headquarters were advised from Tokyo not to disclose the contents of the note until specifically instructed to do so.

When the note was first handed over, correspondents speculated that it was the Reds' official rejection of Ridgway's suggestion that the stalled negotiations be re-

Postal Authorities Smash Money Ring Giving Reds Cash

Federal Inspector Worked in Orient to Expose Operation Aiding Communists

Honolulu, Sept. 13 (AP)—American postal authorities have smashed a fantastic black market money ring that diverted $32,000,000 in American dollars to Communist China for the purchase of war scarce materials.

Federal Postal Inspector R. Frank Ogden of Honolulu worked undercover for eight months in the Orient to expose the complicated financial operation.

A veteran of 24 years in the postal service, he trapped a counterfeiting gang in Manila by ordering 500 fake money orders.

Ogden said the money juggling scheme was the largest in post office history.

The ring worked with U. S. postal money orders, federal checks and military payment certificates. The money orders were altered upwards, and later counterfeited. Signatures on treasury checks and certificates were forged.

Bought Money Orders

Ogden said Chinese Red agents bought the money orders outside post offices in Manila at a 25 per cent markup. They stood the expense in Filipino pesos to get the more valuable American dollars without which they were unable to get the goods they wanted.

On the counterfeit money orders, Ogden said Hong Kong banks stood most of the loss. He said the U. S. government didn't lose a penny.

Military payment certificates which could not be spent on the open market were converted to money orders. Filipino wives of American soldiers were bribed to

Boy Is Wounded By .22 Bullet

Raymond Lucas, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas of 30 Sycamore street suffered a slight neck wound after a playmate tossed several .22 calibre bullets into a fire Wednesday evening, the police reported.

The boy was treated at Kingston Hospital and was later released. His physician described the injury as a "superficial wound on the front of the neck," according to the police report.

Investigation by Patrolmen William Hanley and Albert Eisele disclosed that a neighboring boy found several bullets and threw them on a fire about which the boys were playing. One of the bullets exploded and struck Lucas, police learned.

Hospital to Open Drive for Building Funds at Dinner

Special Gifts Phase Will Begin at That Time, Others to Follow

The campaign to raise $600,000 in Kingston and Ulster county for the Benedictine Hospital will be launched with a kickoff dinner Thursday evening September 20, Senator Arthur H. Wicks and James A. Dwyer, general co-chairmen of the campaign, announced today.

The dinner, which will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, will open the special gifts phase of the campaign which will be under the direction of Roger H. Loughran. The day following the dinner workers will select their prospects and solicitation will begin immediately, Mr. Loughran said.

The remaining divisions of the campaign—industrial, commercial, public employes, area and residential—will follow in rapid order. It is hoped that solicitation of Kingston and Ulster county will be completed by the first week in November.

Senator Wicks and Judge George F. Kaufman will be the principal speakers at the special gifts kickoff dinner, Loughran said. Progress on the construction of the two new wings will be outlined and the ultimate value of these additions to Ulster county will be explained.

Mr. Loughran said that he expected between 350 and 400 persons to attend the opening dinner at the Governor Clinton.

This fall marks the Golden Anniversary of the Benedictine Hospital. Records show that during the last 50 years the equivalent of every man, woman and child in Ulster county has been a patient at the hospital.

The campaign to raise $600,000 is necessary to help defray the cost of construction and outfitting the two new wings. The total cost of these additions will be slightly less than $2,000,000. All of this money is in hand with the exception of the last $600,000.

Food Prices Rise

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Retail food prices rose seven-tenths of one per cent during August to bring the nation-wide index to 227.2 per cent of the 1935-39 average, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday. The new figure was one-half of one per cent below the record high of 227.7 reported last July 15, and about 12 per cent above the pre-Korean level.

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D.-Va.) announced today a joint Congressional committee will begin public hearings tomorrow "on the problem of lost Congressional control over expenditures."

Action Is Slow in West Korea Area

Observer Declares Reds Have 250,000 Men in Position in Western Sector

Estimates 800,000

Van Fleet Puts Enemy Strength at Close to Million in Korea

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 13 (AP)—Allied troops won another commanding mountain peak today in their roller-coaster drive to force Reds off high points in rugged east-central Korea.

The allies gained the mountain top northeast of Kumhwa in less than three hours of fighting against only light Red resistance.

The same United Nations troops captured another peak and seven surrounding ridges in the same area Wednesday. The Reds put up a foot-by-foot defense.

An allied officer said Thursday there was "a definite decrease of Red strength in the sector." The area is just east of the Reds' old "iron triangle" troop assembly area in central Korea.

Allied troops with flame throwers and bayonets captured six vital peaks Wednesday in bitter local fights that raged east of Kumhwa to the vicinity of Kansong on the Sea of Japan coast.

The battleline in the east is roughly 25 miles north of Parallel 38, old dividing line between North and South Korea. The fighting of the past few days has pushed allied positions forward as much as three and one-half miles in some sectors.

Reds Are Shot

On some of the heights, die-hard Reds were shot or burned to death in stone bunkers that sometimes had only one opening—a firing slit facing the oncoming allies.

The fighting for the peaks erupted four days ago.

On the rolling hills and plains of the western front, action was slow. Allied patrols scanned Red positions for signs of a strike from their built-up forces there.

AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported that at least 250,000 tank-supported Communist troops were believed in position on the western and west-central fronts for a possible thrust at Seoul, south Korean capital.

He said there are no signs that a Red smash is imminent but that there was speculation the Communists might try a drive this weekend, when the Korean moon is full.

No Assault Rations

Carter added there has been no indication that the front line Reds have received assault rations and equipment for an offensive.

Gen. James V. Van Fleet, eighth Army commander, has said he does not expect a Red offensive soon but that he would welcome one for the opportunity it would give his forces to destroy Red troops.

Van Fleet has estimated there are about 800,000 Communist troops in North Korea, where terrain is more suitable for a large scale offensive than in the jagged peaks of the east.

Carter said the Reds in the west were believed backed up by at least 200 Russian-made T-34 tanks. Allied officers have estimated publicly that the Communists have about 1,200 Manchuria-based planes at their disposal in case of an all-out offensive.

Peiping radio asserted Thursday night that Communist forces, "put out of action" more than 8,800 troops in the week ended Sept. 6. The broadcast said 58 allied plans were shot down in the same period.

Statement Not Supported

There was nothing in allied communiques to support the Red statements.

Sparkling clear fall weather gave allied warplanes their best opportunity in weeks for close

Hearing Scheduled On Claims Law

Newkirk Asks Reaction of Public to Bill Before Council

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk will seek public reaction tonight on a proposal to protect the city from claims for damages from falls on public streets and sidewalks unless the city had been notified in writing of a dangerous condition before the time of the accident.

The proposed law, which would amend the city charter, was approved by the Common Council on September 4 and is awaiting the mayor's signature. Mayor Newkirk has called a public hearing on the law for 7:30 p. m. in the Common Council chambers.

The proposed amendment to Section 118 of the charter would provide that "no civil action shall be maintained against the city for damages or injury to person or property sustained in consequence of any street, highway, bridge, culvert, sidewalk, cross walk, grating, opening, drain or sewer being defective, out of repair, unsafe, dangerous or obstructed unless prior to the occurance resulting is such damage or injury written notice shall have been filed

Moscow to Pay for Speeches, If UN Group Has Its Way

United Nations, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Moscow will have to pay thousands of dollars more for the privilege of making speeches in the UN next year, if the UN committee on contributions has its way.

The committee in a report made public here yesterday slapped an increase of 2.87 per cent on the Soviet Union dues for the next year and cut the United States assessment 2.02 per cent.

If the Assembly meeting in Paris Nov. 6 approves the new scale of contributions—and it usually does—the Russians will pay 9.85 per cent of the total cost of the UN instead of 6.98 per cent and the Americans will be cut from 38.92 per cent to 36.c

The reduction for the United States was approved over the bitter protests of A. A. Soldatov, Soviet member of the committee, who said that the U. S. really ought to pay 50 per cent of the entire bill, its economy was in such good shape. Soldatov complained that the Soviet Union and its fellow countries in the UN, White Russia, the Soviet Ukraine, Czechoslovakia and Poland, suffered such damage from the war that they have not been able to restore their economies and really should have their assessments reduced.

The new scale of contributions is in line with opinions voiced in Congress in Washington, where a move has been started to limit the

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D.-Va.) announced today a joint Congressional committee will begin public hearings tomorrow "on the problem of lost Congressional control over expenditures."

Hearing Scheduled On Claims Law

Newkirk Asks Reaction of Public to Bill Before Council

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk will seek public reaction tonight on a proposal to protect the city from claims for damages from falls on public streets and sidewalks unless the city had been notified in writing of a dangerous condition before the time of the accident.

The proposed law, which would amend the city charter, was approved by the Common Council on September 4 and is awaiting the mayor's signature. Mayor Newkirk has called a public hearing on the law for 7:30 p. m. in the Common Council chambers.

The proposed amendment to Section 118 of the charter would provide that "no civil action shall be maintained against the city for damages or injury to person or property sustained in consequence of any street, highway, bridge, culvert, sidewalk, cross walk, grating, opening, drain or sewer being defective, out of repair, unsafe, dangerous or obstructed unless prior to the occurance resulting is such damage or injury written notice shall have been filed

Van Fleet Puts Enemy Strength at Close to Million in Korea

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 13 (AP)—Allied troops won another commanding mountain peak today in their roller-coaster drive to force Reds off high points in rugged east-central Korea.

The allies gained the mountain top northeast of Kumhwa in less than three hours of fighting against only light Red resistance.

The same United Nations troops captured another peak and seven surrounding ridges in the same area Wednesday. The Reds put up a foot-by-foot defense.

An allied officer said Thursday there was "a definite decrease of Red strength in the sector." The area is just east of the Reds' old "iron triangle" troop assembly area in central Korea.

Allied troops with flame throwers and bayonets captured six vital peaks Wednesday in bitter local fights that raged east of Kumhwa to the vicinity of Kansong on the Sea of Japan coast.

The battleline in the east is roughly 25 miles north of Parallel 38, old dividing line between North and South Korea. The fighting of the past few days has pushed allied positions forward as much as three and one-half miles in some sectors.

Reds Are Shot

On some of the heights, die-hard Reds were shot or burned to death in stone bunkers that sometimes had only one opening—a firing slit facing the oncoming allies.

The fighting for the peaks erupted four days ago.

On the rolling hills and plains of the western front, action was slow. Allied patrols scanned Red positions for signs of a strike from their built-up forces there.

AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported that at least 250,000 tank-supported Communist troops were believed in position on the western and west-central fronts for a possible thrust at Seoul, south Korean capital.

He said there are no signs that a Red smash is imminent but that there was speculation the Communists might try a drive this weekend, when the Korean moon is full.

No Assault Rations

Carter added there has been no indication that the front line Reds have received assault rations and equipment for an offensive.

Gen. James V. Van Fleet, eighth Army commander, has said he does not expect a Red offensive soon but that he would welcome one for the opportunity it would give his forces to destroy Red troops.

Van Fleet has estimated there are about 800,000 Communist troops in North Korea, where terrain is more suitable for a large scale offensive than in the jagged peaks of the east.

Carter said the Reds in the west were believed backed up by at least 200 Russian-made T-34 tanks. Allied officers have estimated publicly that the Communists have about 1,200 Manchuria-based planes at their disposal in case of an all-out offensive.

Peiping radio asserted Thursday night that Communist forces, "put out of action" more than 8,800 troops in the week ended Sept. 6. The broadcast said 58 allied plans were shot down in the same period.

Statement Not Supported

There was nothing in allied communiques to support the Red statements.

Sparkling clear fall weather gave allied warplanes their best opportunity in weeks for close

Moscow to Pay for Speeches, If UN Group Has Its Way

United Nations, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Moscow will have to pay thousands of dollars more for the privilege of making speeches in the UN next year, if the UN committee on contributions has its way.

The committee in a report made public here yesterday slapped an increase of 2.87 per cent on the Soviet Union dues for the next year and cut the United States assessment 2.02 per cent.

If the Assembly meeting in Paris Nov. 6 approves the new scale of contributions—and it usually does—the Russians will pay 9.85 per cent of the total cost of the UN instead of 6.98 per cent and the Americans will be cut from 38.92 per cent to 36.9

The reduction for the United States was approved over the bitter protests of A. A. Soldatov, Soviet member of the committee, who said that the U. S. really ought to pay 50 per cent of the entire bill, its economy was in such good shape. Soldatov complained that the Soviet Union and its fellow countries in the UN, White Russia, the Soviet Ukraine, Czechoslovakia and Poland, suffered such damage from the war that they have not been able to restore their economies and really should have their assessments reduced.

The new scale of contributions is in line with opinions voiced in Congress in Washington, where a move has been started to limit the

No Reason Given for Action—No Comment on Oatis

Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 13 (AP)—The allied high commission has barred all Czech airline flights across West Germany, high commission officials disclosed today.

Officials gave no reason for the action.

An American official said the United States, Britain and France had concurred in the joint action in barring the Czechoslovak plane flights, effective last Tuesday midnight.

Asked whether the decision had anything to do with the case of William Oatis, Associated Press correspondent, who was sentenced to jail by the Czechoslovaks for 10 years on spy charges, he answered "no comment."

Prompted by Dispatch

The inquiry was prompted by a dispatch Aug. 16 from Washington which said that the State Department was studying a plan to bar the Communist country's planes from flying over the U. S. zone.

Washington officials said that it was one of several moves being considered as retaliatory steps to the Czechoslovak treatment of Oatis. The State Department has termed the espionage charges against Oatis ridiculous and called his trial a hoax.

State Department officials said on Aug. 16 that a U. S. ban on Czech plane flights over the U. S. zone would inconvenience the Czechoslovaks but that consultations with Britain and France were then being held for a move which would virtually halt all Czechoslovak plane flights to the west.

Given Note Monday

The high commission official here disclosed that the Czechoslovak military mission in Berlin was handed the note on the ban last Monday.

It said "The allied high commission has suspended until further notice the permission of the Czechoslovak Airlines (CSA) to fly over territory of the (West) German Federal Republic."

He said the brief notice contained no explanation.

The U. S. Congress has voted overwhelmingly to recommend that commercial relations with Czechoslovakia be severed until Oatis is freed.

Czechoslovak Ambassador Vladimir Prochazka told U. S. reporters after seeing Secretary of State Acheson that his government will not yield to American economic, political or "propaganda" pressure.

The Czechoslovak Airlines Company has regularly scheduled flights to Switzerland, France, Britain and Holland.

Banning its planes from the air over West Germany would force long detours in an attempt to maintain the schedules. The airlines company is a government monopoly.

The high commission spokesman confirmed that the Czechoslovak government has been notified of the ban but said no official announcement is being made.

Good of Fluorine Depends on Locale

New Flaw Is Discovered in Treatment for Teeth of Children

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Editor)

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Discovery of a flaw in the fluorine treatment for childrens' teeth was reported to the Twelfth International Congress of Pure and Applied Chemistry yesterday.

Fluorine is added to drinking water in many American cities, to give children better teeth. Dentists all over the country treat childrens' teeth with fluorine.

The flaw is not the fluorine itself, but another mineral, the metal magnesium, which you get in food and drink. Too much magnesium blocks the good work of fluorine.

This means that how much good the fluorine treatments do may depend on where you live and what you eat and drink.

There is magnesium in the soil everywhere. Plants contain a little, and animals get a little from eating the plants. Human plant food contains some. The amount of magnesium you take in depends on how much there is in the soil where your food comes from.

Magnesium is a normal part of your tissues and blood but in very small amounts.

Suggested Remedy

A possible remedy for the magnesium was suggested by Dr. Albert E. Sobel of Brooklyn who made this report. He said a little added phosphorus, in diet, probably would block off the magnesium.

He is head of the biochemistry department of the Jewish Hospital, Brooklyn. He discovered the magnesium effect when looking for diets to make good teeth.

He found diets that made either bad or good teeth in rats. Bad teeth came when the animals ate food high in calcium in proportion to the amount of phosophorus. Good teeth came from diets low in calcium in comparison to phosphorus.

Fluorine helped make good teeth but not when a little too much magnesium was present.

Sanitarium Is Sold

St. Benedict's Sanitarium, located at 120-122 Fair street, under the ownership of Mrs. Carlotta Cummings, has been sold to Mrs. Madeleine Wanda, a licensed nurse, it was learned today. Mrs. Wanda was recently employed at the Benedictine Hospital. She will take immediate possession. Mrs. Cummings, who is retiring, will continue to be a resident of Kingston.

Lovett Gets Group's Okay

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today unanimously approved confirmation of Robert A. Lovett as secretary of defense to succeed Gen. George C. Marshall.

The action came just 24 hours after Marshall resigned and President Truman nominated Lovett, now deputy secretary, to succeed him.

The nomination now goes to the Senate where an effort probably will be made for confirmation later in the day.

No Ruling Given On Petition About Tuition Charges

Excessive Rate for Pupils Charged by Bush for Township District

No decision was given Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of the hearing before the New York State Education Department on the petition of the trustee of Common School District No. 8, Town of Ulster, who is appealing the non-resident tuition charge of $88 per year fixed by the Kingston Board of Education for pupils attending city schools from the district.

Following oral argument and submission of a brief of Lloyd R. LeFever, counsel for the district, Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly asked for 10 days to answer. This was granted by Deputy Commissioner Allen, before whom the hearing was held. LeFever was given five days additional time to reply should he desire.

Attending the hearing in Albany were Percy Bush, trustee; Clarence Johnson of Saugerties, district superintendent and Attorney LeFever for the petitioners. Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly, Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw, President of the Board Clarence Rowland, Trustee Robert Herzog, a former president of the board, and Trustee N. McDonald Is Strongly for Bail Forfeit

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Gambler Harry Gross, urbane and grinning after his one-day flight from his cop guards, was shuttled through legal proceedings today to put him back on tap as star graft case witness.

Brought back from New Jersey where he had spent a leisurely day at the races, he was hustled before a U. S. commissioner to answer a federal fugitive warrant issued after he disappeared.

Commissioner Martin C. Epstein dismissed the federal charge so as to formally return Gross to custody of the state, which has billed him as chief prosecution witness in its gambling-graft trial of 18 policemen.

The trial, still in its jury-picking stage after two days, appeared likely to collapse after Gross, ex-boss of a multi-million dollar bookmaking empire, slipped away from guards at his Atlantic Beach, L. I., home Tuesday night.

Before the federal commissioner, Gross was in jovial, wise-cracking mood. Asked if he were the missing man, he grinned wryly and said, "I guess I must be."

Will Fight Attempt

Gross' attorney said he will seek to vacate an order—issued after Gross vanished—forfeiting the gambler's $25,000 bail. But District Attorney Miles F. Mc-

Peiping Hints UN Admission Price for Resuming Parley

Acceptance of 'Military Realities' by Americans Is Suggested by Peiping Radio—Allied Command Says Nothing at Present

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Peiping radio threw out a hint tonight the price for resuming Korean truce talks would be allied admission that all Red truce violation charges are true.

The United Nations Command has rejected all of a long string of Red charges except one. It has admitted the accidental strafing of the Kaesong neutral zone Monday.

The Peiping radio quoted a Communist correspondent at Kaesong as declaring:

"The cease-fire talks could start again immediately and agreement could be reached in a short time if the Americans accepted the military realities" and took the responsibility for all the alleged neutrality violations.

Comment Refused

The UN command for the moment was saying nothing. It would not even say what was in the latest Red note handed allied liaison officers Wednesday.

The allied officers had just handed the Reds a note apologizing for the accidental strafing of the Kaesong neutral zone by an allied B-26 bomber on Monday.

The command usually releases copies of such notes as soon as they are received from the UN advance headquarters at Munsan.

The public information office for the headquarters of supreme allied commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said it has been unable to develop information on the note after several tries. A PIO spokesman said he had "no idea" when the note would be released.

Sources in Korea said spokesmen at the advance headquarters were advised from Tokyo not to disclose the contents of the note until specifically instructed to do so.

When the note was first handed over, correspondents speculated that it was the Reds' official rejection of Ridgway's suggestion that the stalled negotiations be re-

Postal Authorities Smash Money Ring Giving Reds Cash

Federal Inspector Worked in Orient to Expose Operation Aiding Communists

Honolulu, Sept. 13 (AP)—American postal authorities have smashed a fantastic black market money ring that diverted $32,000,000 in American dollars to Communist China for the purchase of war scarce materials.

Federal Postal Inspector R. Frank Ogden of Honolulu worked undercover for eight months in the Orient to expose the complicated financial operation.

A veteran of 24 years in the postal service, he trapped a counterfeiting gang in Manila by ordering 500 fake money orders.

Ogden said the money juggling scheme was the largest in post office history.

The ring worked with U. S. postal money orders, federal checks and military payment certificates. The money orders were altered upwards, and later counterfeited. Signatures on treasury checks and certificates were forged.

Bought Money Orders

Ogden said Chinese Red agents bought the money orders outside post offices in Manila at a 25 per cent markup. They stood the expense in Filipino pesos to get the more valuable American dollars without which they were unable to get the goods they wanted.

On the counterfeit money orders, Ogden said Hong Kong banks stood most of the loss. He said the U. S. government didn't lose a penny.

Military payment certificates which could not be spent on the open market were converted to money orders. Filipino wives of American soldiers were bribed to

Boy Is Wounded By .22 Bullet

Raymond Lucas, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas of 30 Sycamore street suffered a slight neck wound after a playmate tossed several .22 calibre bullets into a fire Wednesday evening, the police reported.

The boy was treated at Kingston Hospital and was later released. His physician described the injury as a "superficial wound on the front of the neck," according to the police report.

Investigation by Patrolmen William Hanley and Albert Eisele disclosed that a neighboring boy found several bullets and threw them on a fire about which the boys were playing. One of the bullets exploded and struck Lucas, police learned.

Hospital to Open Drive for Building Funds at Dinner

Special Gifts Phase Will Begin at That Time, Others to Follow

The campaign to raise $600,000 in Kingston and Ulster county for the Benedictine Hospital will be launched with a kickoff dinner Thursday evening September 20, Senator Arthur H. Wicks and James A. Dwyer, general co-chairmen of the campaign, announced today.

The dinner, which will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, will open the special gifts phase of the campaign which will be under the direction of Roger H. Loughran. The day following the dinner workers will select their prospects and solicitation will begin immediately, Mr. Loughran said.

The remaining divisions of the campaign—industrial, commercial, public employes, area and residential—will follow in rapid order. It is hoped that solicitation of Kingston and Ulster county will be completed by the first week in November.

Senator Wicks and Judge George F. Kaufman will be the principal speakers at the special gifts kickoff dinner, Loughran said. Progress on the construction of the two new wings will be outlined and the ultimate value of these additions to Ulster county will be explained.

Mr. Loughran said that he expected between 350 and 400 persons to attend the opening dinner at the Governor Clinton.

This fall marks the Golden Anniversary of the Benedictine Hospital. Records show that during the last 50 years the equivalent of every man, woman and child in Ulster county has been a patient at the hospital.

The campaign to raise $600,000 is necessary to help defray the cost of construction and outfitting the two new wings. The total cost of these additions will be slightly less than $2,000,000. All of this money is in hand with the exception of the last $600,000.

Food Prices Rise

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Retail food prices rose seven-tenths of one per cent during August to bring the nation-wide index to 227.2 per cent of the 1935-39 average, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday. The new figure was one-half of one per cent below the record high of 227.7 reported last July 15, and about 12 per cent above the pre-Korean level.

Moscow to Pay for Speeches, If UN Group Has Its Way

United Nations, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Moscow will have to pay thousands of dollars more for the privilege of making speeches in the UN next year, if the UN committee on contributions has its way.

The committee in a report made public here yesterday slapped an increase of 2.87 per cent on the Soviet Union dues for the next year and cut the United States assessment 2.02 per cent.

If the Assembly meeting in Paris Nov. 6 approves the new scale of contributions—and it usually does—the Russians will pay 9.85 per cent of the total cost of the UN instead of 6.98 per cent and the Americans will be cut from 38.92 per cent to 36.9.

The reduction for the United States was approved over the bitter protests of A. A. Soldatov, Soviet member of the committee, who said that the U. S. really ought to pay 50 per cent of the entire bill, its economy was in such good shape. Soldatov complained that the Soviet Union and its fellow countries in the UN, White Russia, the Soviet Ukraine, Czechoslovakia and Poland, suffered such damage from the war that they have not been able to restore their economies and really should have their assessments reduced.

Thousand Work At Atom Grounds

Las Vegas, Nev., Sept. 13 (AP)—More than 1,000 workmen are rushing construction of nine buildings, including a $1,000,000 firing control site, at the Frenchman's Flat atomic proving grounds 80 miles north of here.

The disclosure was made yesterday to a group of newsmen who made the first public tour of the Atomic Energy Commission's 640-acre shooting gallery.

Looking for evidence of the series of blasts that rocked this area last February, reporters found no craters or scorched areas, regarded by most as an indication the explosions were set off high in the air. The AEC declined to comment on this point.

One of Three Sites

An AEC statement identified Frenchman's Flat as one of three atomic test sites, the others being at Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific and near the Salton Sea in Southern California's Imperial Valley. Purpose of the Salton Sea proving grounds, kept secret until yesterday, is to test the ballistics characteristics of weapons, the AEC said. Spokesmen declined to give further details.

The $6,000,000 Frenchman's Flat construction program is scheduled to be completed Oct. 6, indicating there will be no more explosions until that date.

Allergy to Sting Causes Man's Death

Rye, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—A single hornet sting caused the death yesterday of 28-year-old Charles Pilger of Valhalla, N. Y.

Calling out, "I've been stung," Pilger ran some 400 feet to a roadway, collapsed and died.

Rye, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—A single hornet sting caused the death yesterday of 28-year-old Charles Pilger of Valhalla, N. Y.

Pilger, scything weeds along with two other utility company employes, slashed into a nest of hornets.

Calling out, "I've been stung," Pilger ran some 400 feet to a roadway, collapsed and died.

Dr. David M. Spain, Westchester county medical examiner, said Pilger had been stung but once—on the back of his hand.

But, Spain said, the victim had a rare allergy to the poison of the sting. Death resulted from suffocation due to the swelling of the larynx, Spain said.

She claims Spreckels persists in staying there although they became estranged Sept. 5.

OUR LOCAL OLD STONE HOUSES

During the celebration of the 300th Anniversary of the Founding of Kingston, which will take place next year, the old stone houses here and in the county, which were built in the 1700's, should be a great attraction for the many visitors who will come here for the observance.

The houses were strong, and over 200 years later they will stand and are as livable today as they were when they were built. When men build their houses sturdily yet of more than stone and mortar, when something of their dreams goes into the construction, the passing of time has little real effect.

There are not very many homes standing in America as old as the stone houses here, which serve as reminders of what went before. In these troubled days, when one wonders about tomorrow and the next century seems far off, it is well to notice them.

An old house has a friendly look. It seems to tell the men who pass that it stood there long before they were born, that generations have lived beneath the roof and some of them had to fight wars and uncertainties, as we have. The houses seem to say that a man's hope and faith hold up a house as much as do the great beams and rafters. Old houses remind men to build everything in their lives the way good houses were built, and somehow the future will be made secure.

One of the latest model automobiles, it is claimed, can accelerate from a standing start to eighty miles an hour in twenty-three seconds. Who goes back to pick up the passengers?

THE MAIL DELIVERIES

Is twice-a-day mail delivery gone forever? The Senate considered a recommendation of its Post Office Committee that the Department be instructed to go back to the old schedule of morning and afternoon deliveries on city residential routes, but voted to turn it down. Since this is the second defeat for the proposal, it appears that the curtailment of service is not likely to be ended by legislative decree. The first attempt to get such a decree through Congress was made immediately after the service was reduced last year.

There was abundant evidence of desire on the part of senators to see the former schedule of service restored, doubtless resulting from pressure from people who like to see the mailman come to their doors. But there also appeared to be recognition of the fact that an order for increased mail service would have to be accompanied by an increased appropriation for the Department. As it is, Congress is finding it unavoidable to approve raises in almost all postage rates.

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds," says an inscription on the New York City Post Office building. The sentence is a paraphrase of the praise of Herodotus for the Persian messengers, and it is a deserved tribute to the faithfulness and hardihood of the mail carriers. But in government there is a force more potent than snow, rain, heat or gloom of night. It is the budget deficit.

Fall days make a mother wonder whether it is harder to keep track of a youngster all day or get him off to school on time.

UNDERSTANDING OUR ALLIES

The job of a soldier was once merely to bear arms and to fight bravely. Often a man with little learning could be a successful soldier. But today it seems that the ideal soldier is one who can learn rapidly not only the arts of war but such subjects as foreign languages.

At Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, American officers and enlisted men are studying the French language. French and other Allied soldiers are studying English. The purpose is to enable them to get along better and work more effectively in the new European army.

The ability to understand the languages of other peoples is essential to close cooperation with them, in all other fields as well as the military. This step toward overcoming the language barriers which divide the peoples of Europe from each other and from us may help to bring us closer together in many ways.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW ENGLAND PILGRIMAGE

While the San Francisco Conference was in session, I was traveling in the atmosphere of old New England. Maybe I should have got all excited, hopped on a plane, got me a seat in the press gallery and watched Messrs. Acheson and Gromyko fight the battle of wits and words.

Instead, starting in these Berkshire hills, we motored toward Maine. First we went to a little place called Sturbridge where a New England village of the eighteenth century has been reconstructed within its proper setting. There we lunched and the trip had an unexpectedly good start.

Then we motored to Concord, to the city of Emerson and Hawthorne and the irrepressible Alcotts. My little girl was principally interested in "Little Women" and my wife in the chaste houses of New England.

Hawthorne pervades this area. Concord, Salem, Stockbridge—he seems to have left his mark wherever he lived; and to see a chair on which Emerson sat and Hawthorne wrote is to get at the very roots of things American.

We were on our way to York Harbor, Maine, where I was to do a chore of speech-making for my friend, Marion Martin. Unfortunately, I missed Portsmouth on this trip. No city has more charming early American houses than Portsmouth, except Salem, and Charleston, South Carolina. To Portsmouth's houses, even a tourist must devote a week; that is, if the tourist finds beautiful homes interesting and exciting and if his imagination can make him feel the lives of our progenitors.

For a house bespeaks personality. That is never true of a city apartment or of those banged together affairs with all modern conveniences but no lived-in' atmosphere. Show me what kind of homes men build for their families, and I can almost sense their ideals of life. That, in a simpler and even truer way, my little girl said about Louisa May Alcott's home in Concord, and about the House of the Seven Gables in Salem where Hawthorne's cousin, Susan Ingersoll, lived.

We bedded down in Salem at the Hawthorne Hotel, which the local citizens built just off the square. But we could not remain indoors with so much beauty about us. So we trudged through the night, looking at the outsides of these unbelievably beautiful houses, some of which we would visit the next day.

The builders of these homes, many dead a century or so, were known to me with such intimacy as comes from China Coast Fables. For many of them were the masters and supercargoes of the clipper ships which sailed from Salem to Asia when this nation was young, bringing back with them silks and teas and spices to enrich the lives of our people.

Their homes speak eloquently of their great love for country and family. Only such as dreamed of home on the vast and tumultuous seas, as they rounded the cape or sailed across the expansive Pacific, could put such affection into the place to which, wind and weather being willing, they would one day return. The doors of Chestnut street are a holiday of affection for home. And in Salem all the doors of the old houses point to the sea, as Moslems pray facing toward Mecca. In the Essex Institute, it is possible to spend hours, perhaps years, tracing out the stories of these courageous traders.

In the "House of Seven Gables" and in other houses, there are, of course, secret staircases and chimneys into which children could be hidden. This was for safety against Indian raids and such events. Those people knew no security and risked much, and perhaps that is why their houses are built so closely together. And yet, even now, there is an air of peace and quiet in this town which is hard to find elsewhere, particularly in a place where industry and neon signs and the automobile are also present.

Salem captured my imagination and love and I could not help wondering why the Ford Foundation, which seeks to spend millions in all parts of the world, does not devote itself to the restoration and preservation of the national monuments of American tradition. New England is rich in such treasures; but they exist all over this land. Henry Ford was captured by an enthusiasm for old America; it would be a living monument to him if all the beauty of the early periods of American life could be preserved as the French safegaurd their national monuments. That would be something useful for the Ford Foundation to do.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

POSSIBLE CAUSE OF EPILEPSY

Although the cause of epilepsy is unknown in a great many cases, since the coming of the drugs known as barbiturates, the great majority of epileptic seizure can be controlled so that the individual is not himself in danger, nor likely to endanger the lives of others.

The usual treatment is (A) to cut down on all starch foods — bread, sugar, potatoes, and pastries. (B) Cut down on all liquids — water, tea, coffee, milk, cocoa, soft and hard drinks. (C) Increase fat foods—butter, cream, egg yolk, fat meats. (D) A daily dose of phenobarbital as prescribed by the physician.

Another advance in the knowledge and treatment of epilepsy is finding that a fall or blow on the head, occurring often in teenage football players, may cause epileptic attacks or seizures. Thus a person who has his first attack of epilepsy in the teens or after may have suffered such a blow.

In the Journal of the Canadian Medical Association, Dr. C. B. Trites, Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, reports a very interesting case. A woman patient, 36 years old, was referred to Dr. Trites for an eye test. She gave a history of severe attacks of epilepsy, with biting of tongue and cheeks during past eight years, despite the use of dilantin (a barbiturate) and phenobarbital four times a day. The attacks occurred chiefly at night—seldom in the daytime.

Examination showed farsightedness and hyperphoria (the elevation of one visual axis above the other) and a tendency to cross-eye. She was given a prescription for glasses to correct these defects of vision and Dr. Trites reports that she had no epileptic attack for nine months during which time the doses of medicine were gradually reduced to one daily dose, on the advice of her physician. She had no attack for three or four weeks after stopping the medicine and then a severe attack occurred. A new prescription for glasses was given and the patient has not had an attack for three months.

That this case was true epilepsy was shown by the encephalogram, which records brain movements as the electrocardiogram records the heart movements.

Now one case is only one case but I am reporting the fact that eye defects were responsible in this case and it is possible that other cases of epilepsy, not controlled by barbiturates, may be caused by defects of vision.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—There's something awfully peculiar about the way the Senate refuses to investigate graft in the sale of American war supplies to Nationalist China; also the manner in which some of these supplies went to Communist China.

This graft and the part played by the China lobby was exposed in this column three months ago, including huge fortunes made by Chinese in cornering the soybean market, money made by Chiang Kai-shek's relatives in selling tin to the Communists, and a phony gasoline deal attempted by the Nationalist Air Force.

Furthermore, Sen. Lyndon "Lying-Down" Johnson's investigating committee has had some of these facts for months. But in keeping with his Texas nickname, he laid down on the job.

Meanwhile, here are more facts showing how an American Admiral persuaded General MacArthur's headquarters to release 62,000 rounds of navy shells one month after the Korean War started—with a lush profit paid to S. G. Fassoulis and Miran Aprahamian, the 5 percenters for the China lobby.

Fassoulis and Aprahamian, heads of the Commerce International Corporation, had hired Adm. Charles M. Cooke, Jr., together with 10 other retired American officers who are stationed on Formosa, in the dual capacity of advisers to Fassoulis and Aprahamian as well as advisers to Chiang Kai-shek. They include Gen. R. L. Peterson, Cooke's son-in-law, Maj. C. F. Field; and did include Marine Gen. O. T. Pfeifer and Adm. H. L. Grosskopf, all retired. The latter two have now withdrawn.

Arms Brokers

One month after the Korean War started, and when the U. S. Navy needed to conserve all its ammunition, Admiral Cooke induced MacArthur' headquarters to sell 22,000 rounds of three-inch navy shells plus 40,000 rounds of 20-MM. shells and 40-MM. shells.

The story given out at the time was that the shells were scrap, about to be dumped into the sea. This, however, was not true. The price paid for the three-inch shells was $3 each—a bargain basement rate, because the original list surplus price was $36 each.

But the interesting thing is that Fassoulis and Aprahamian got a 12 per cent commission on the deal.

Significant also is the fact that it was the U. S. Navy, not the Chinese Navy, which was guarding Formosa at the time. In view of the long transport across the Pacific, therefore, it was the U. S. Navy not the Chinese, who stood to need reserve ammunition.

S. G. Fassoulis, when queried by this column, admitted the facts but claimed the shells were defective.

Note—Admiral Cooke is the officer who, while commander of U. S. Naval forces in the Western Pacific at the end of the war, used an LST boat to transport his auto to Shanghai to sell it on the Black Market. Naval enlisted men in Shanghai at that time were being jailed for selling cigarettes on the Black Market.

Washington Pipelines

General Ike has told friends confidentially that he would run as a Democrat if Taft gets the GOP nomination. He regards Taft's fight-China-now policy as disastrous to his election as a "catastrophe" . . . (If Taft's nominated, Ike may not get the chance to be a Democrat. Truman's friends are pulling every wire to get Taft the GOP nod, say their man is itching to take Taft on.). . . . Wily Senator Brewster of Maine, Taft's chief strategist, has a plan to nullify Eisenhower. He would send Taft to Europe, stage a conference with Eisenhower, then announce that Taft would follow any European policy the general proposed. . . . Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany is smarting under the reply given him when he asked to make a trip to see Truman. The White House answer was: "Too busy." . . . The American Embassy in Moscow cables that Foreign Minister Vishinsky is virtually out, hasn't been seen around the foreign office for weeks. Andre Gromyko, the sallow diplomat of San Francisco, is now running the foreign office. (He's close to Stalin too).

Inside Baseball

Happy Chandler's job of baseball commissioner has been peddled to a whole row of big names—J. Edgar Hoover, General MacArthur, Gen. Emmett "Rosie" O'Donnell of the air force. All turned it down. . . . Jim Farley was proposed by the New York Yankees, but rejected on the first ballot at a closed-door caucus of the ball-team owners. . . . So was George Trautman of the minor leagues. . . . One handicap against Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche was the backstage wirepulling of Sen. John Bricker who doesn't want Lausche running against him for the Senate next year. This didn't help Lausche much. His best backer, incidentally, was John Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and a real-estate partner of Bricker's. (Lausche asked for a 10-year contract, instead of the seven years given Happy Chandler.) . . . Real trouble in selecting a baseball czar has been that the club owners wanted a "front" more than they wanted a two-fisted cleaner-up of baseball ills—namely, the eastern monopoly and the serflike draft of minor-league players.

Merry-Go-Round

Good news about polio: Doctors believe this year's epidemic is about over. Total cases this year will reach about 30,000, which, although too high, is a lot better than the tragic total of 42,000 two years ago. . . . Chief Justice Vinson has been staying home with a sick wife. Mrs. Vinson has been through a long, long siege, but is reported better. . . . Dynamic Sen. Jim Duff of Pennsylvania and the man he picked as governor of Pennsylvania, John S. Fine, will have one of their few meetings Saturday—at the wedding of beautiful Louise Steinman in Lancaster, Pa. (Duff and Fine haven't been seeing eye-to-eye since the election.) . . . Press reports that Phil Murray is quitting the CIO were exaggerated. He will be overwhelmingly re-elected at the CIO convention in New York in November, but will step down one year later. Chief CIO possibilities to succeed him are Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers and David McDonald of the Steelworkers, both able men. However, since these big unions are rivals, it's probable a neutral head of a smaller union will get the presidency—possibly Jake Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Lovett's Appointment Praised, but Is Termed One Year Late, Same With Marshall

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 13 — What should have happened a year ago has finally happened—Robert A. Lovett has been made secretary of defense. And what should also have happened a year ago—namely, the appointment of General Marshall to active duty as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff—didn't happen then and, as a consequence, nothing has been done to reorganize the joint chiefs and make it as effective as the top military body of the nation ought to be.

When setting up the present structure for the joint chiefs of staff, Congress adopted a compromise plan that was a hodge-podge. What is urgently needed is that membership on the joint chiefs should be a full-time and not a part-time job. At present the heads of the three armed services have operational responsibilities in connection with their own services and are, nevertheless, looked to by the President and the secretary of defense and Congress to do an over-all planning job for the strategy of a future war as well as the current war in Korea.

George Marshall is a great American. Few men in the last half century have won such esteem here and such affection among people inside and outside of public life. The job of secretary of defense, however, was one of overwhelming responsibility on the administrative side. It is a task to which, with all due respect for the general, Mr. Lovett could bring more experience than his distinguished predecessor. But President Truman was in a political spot a year ago. Criticism of Louis Johnson, then secretary of defense, had become widespread, especially after the outbreak of the Korean war, and hence Mr. Truman was trying by the appointment of General Marshall to meet that criticism. An exception had to be made by Congress to the law which it had passed barring from appointment to the post of secretary of defense any man who had been in regular military service during the preceding ten years.

By amending the law a bad precedent was established. As was said then in these dispatches, General Marshall was the logical man to take over the work of coordinating the joint chiefs of staff, but some man with a civilian background should have been found for the task of secretary of defense.

One disadvantage always was that so long as Mr. Marshall held five-star rank, it didn't matter whether he wore civilian clothes, the members of the joint chiefs thought of him as a military chieftain who outranked them all. General Marshall was quite aware of this and leaned over backward to avoid any appearance of imposing his military judgments on the joint chiefs.

While the appointment of General Marshall to the defense post helped Mr. Truman politically, it took quite a toll from the retiring general. He should have been permitted to enjoy the retired life which he had so clearly earned by his past service to his country.

It will be recalled that Mr. Marshall has had very little rest since World War 2 ended in 1945. He had served as a special envoy to China in times of extraordinary trouble and difficulty, and he was then appointed secretary of state—again a job to which he gave his best efforts but which was plainly out of his line of experience.

A military man should be permitted to stick to his last. If General Marshall had been allowed as an adviser along with other five-star generals to concentrate on strictly military phases of our postwar problems, the nation would have been benefited far more and perhaps the whole military program would have been farther ahead. As it was, he was saddled with administrative duties and contacts with procurement and personnel problems and a thousand and one details of the job of running the biggest department in Washington.

The nation owes a debt of thanks to General Marshall for his unselfish efforts in public service, and particularly for his insistence that his term as secretary of defense be limited to the year or so that he specified in the first place. For now the way has been opened not only for a civilian as secretary of defense, but for the early reorganization of the joint chiefs of staff—the most important and yet the most neglected phase of our present military program.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 12—It comes to me that new problems of time and distance have developed in our efforts to catch up with the guile of those who organize such political tricks as the President's Committee on Civil Rights and that committee's report.

That report, entitled "to secure these rights," came down in 1947. It is an important part of the program of the covert Socialist organization called Americans for Democratic Action. If it were enacted into law, it would dissolve the constitution and the Department of Justice would develop a great gestapo to spy and tattle and a special staff to prosecute an individual for hiring a son or nephew instead of some provocateur whose complexion, religion or some characteristic would classify him as a member of a "minority group." In the fulfillment of this program, a fine American could be sent to prison and his business could be wiped out by costs and harassment for the simple, noble reason that he refused to discriminate against his own son or the widow of his best friend in selecting an employe to fill a particular job.

The fact that the federal government has absolutely no constitutional right to butt into such relations between citizens did not deter this committee from recommending this particular item of the program of Americans for Democratic Action.

As to the journalistic problem that I mentioned, note, please, that this stealthy trick, perpetrated under the seal of President Truman, was done and all but forgotten until last spring. Then, Senator Byrd, of Virginia, came out with a roar, threatening that if Truman should be renominated in 1952, the deep south would quit the party. Byrd and his associates, including Senators George and Russell of Georgia and Governor Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina, all regard Truman as a carpet-bagger in the old sense of the word and his southern adherents as scalawags. A scalawag was defined by a Confederate patriot and soldier in the congressional hearings into the old, original Ku Klux Plan as the sorriest, scaliest sheep in the flock.

How do you begin to fill in the facts on a story that should have been covered in 1946 and 1947?

I began by studying the report. For my sins, I suffered much. If you doubt me, try reading this strange typical tract done in the ideological geechee which drifted in from Europe on the tides of hate and perfidy during the Roosevelt reign.

I noticed that although the report was based on representations made to the committee by individuals and organizations and was not the findings of the members distilled from their own intelligence, the committee cleverly refrained from naming any individual or organization. That is a negative fact. It is a typical trick. Well, we paid the expenses, we are the people who will become the serfs of a master state if the program ever comes into law, so why shouldn't we know who planned this fate for us? If they were respectable and if their purposes are decent why are they so bashful? I stand up for my ideas. You stand up for yours.

Robert K. Carr, of Dartmouth, professor of "government," if you please, in answer to a letter from me said "the committee itself voted not to attempt to list individually the private organizations from whom communications were received."

Well, now, the hell it did. By what right did this tong decide to conceal the identity of the conspirators against our constitution?

I telephoned Carr at Hanover and he was away so I got John S. Dickey, the president of Dartmouth, on the phone. I told Dickey that frankly I was suspicious and he laughed and laughed but in a tone that didn't convince me. I think I had him there. I read him that line out of Carr's letter and he said this all happened so long ago that he didn't have the facts fresh in his mind. I asked him specifically if the Association for the Advancement of Colored People was one of the organizations. He wouldn't say yes and he wouldn't say no. For your information, this is not a society of colored people but a political pressure layout operated by designing white men in Washington and New York. As in the Civil War, the Negro is being exploited again and hatred is being inflamed.

Dickey then said that as man to man he would insist that there was no ulterior purpose in con-

OUR LOCAL OLD STONE HOUSES

During the celebration of the 300th Anniversary of the Founding of Kingston, which will take place next year, the old stone houses here and in the county, which were built in the 1700's, should be a great attraction for the many visitors who will come here for the observance.

The houses were strong, and over 200 years later they will stand and are as livable today as they were when they were built. When men build their houses sturdily yet of more than stone and mortar, when something of their dreams goes into the construction, the passing of time has little real effect.

There are not very many homes standing in America as old as the stone houses here, which serve as reminders of what went before. In these troubled days, when one wonders about tomorrow and the next century seems far off, it is well to notice them.

An old house has a friendly look. It seems to tell the men who pass that it stood there long before they were born, that generations have lived beneath the roof and some of them had to fight wars and uncertainties, as we have. The houses seem to say that a man's hope and faith hold up a house as much as do the great beams and rafters. Old houses remind men to build everything in their lives the way good houses were built, and somehow the future will be made secure.

One of the latest model automobiles, it is claimed, can accelerate from a standing start to eighty miles an hour in twenty-three seconds. Who goes back to pick up the passengers?

THE MAIL DELIVERIES

Is twice-a-day mail delivery gone forever? The Senate considered a recommendation of its Post Office Committee that the Department be instructed to go back to the old schedule of morning and afternoon deliveries on city residential routes, but voted to turn it down. Since this is the second defeat for the proposal, it appears that the curtailment of service is not likely to be ended by legislative decree. The first attempt to get such a decree through Congress was made immediately after the service was reduced last year.

There was abundant evidence of desire on the part of senators to see the former schedule of service restored, doubtless resulting from pressure from people who like to see the mailman come to their doors. But there also appeared to be recognition of the fact that an order for increased mail service would have to be accompanied by an increased appropriation for the Department. As it is, Congress is finding it unavoidable to approve raises in almost all postage rates.

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds," says an inscription on the New York City Post Office building. The sentence is a paraphrase of the praise of Herodotus for the Persian messengers, and it is a deserved tribute to the faithfulness and hardihood of the mail carriers. But in government there is a force more potent than snow, rain, heat or gloom of night. It is the budget deficit.

Fall days make a mother wonder whether it is harder to keep track of a youngster all day or get him off to school on time.

UNDERSTANDING OUR ALLIES

The job of a soldier was once merely to bear arms and to fight bravely. Often a man with little learning could be a successful soldier. But today it seems that the ideal soldier is one who can learn rapidly not only the arts of war but such subjects as foreign languages.

At Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, American officers and enlisted men are studying the French language. French and other Allied soldiers are studying English. The purpose is to enable them to get along better and work more effectively in the new European army.

The ability to understand the languages of other peoples is essential to close cooperation with them, in all other fields as well as the military. This step toward overcoming the language barriers which divide the peoples of Europe from each other and from us may help to bring us closer together in many ways.

'These Days'

NEW ENGLAND PILGRIMAGE

While the San Francisco Conference was in session, I was traveling in the atmosphere of old New England. Maybe I should have got all excited, hopped on a plane, got me a seat in the press gallery and watched Messrs. Acheson and Gromyko fight the battle of wits and words.

Instead, starting in these Berkshire hills, we motored toward Maine. First we went to a little place called Sturbridge where a New England village of the eighteenth century has been reconstructed within its proper setting. There we lunched and the trip had an unexpectedly good start.

Then we motored to Concord, to the city of Emerson and Hawthorne and the irrepressible Alcotts. My little girl was principally interested in "Little Women" and my wife in the chaste houses of New England.

Hawthorne pervades this area. Concord, Salem, Stockbridge—he seems to have left his mark wherever he lived; and to see a chair on which Emerson sat and Hawthorne wrote is to get at the very roots of things American.

We were on our way to York Harbor, Maine, where I was to do a chore of speech-making for my friend, Marion Martin. Unfortunately, I missed Portsmouth on this trip. No city has more charming early American houses than Portsmouth, except Salem, and Charleston, South Carolina. To Portsmouth's houses, even a tourist must devote a week; that is, if the tourist finds beautiful homes interesting and exciting and if his imagination can make him feel the lives of our progenitors.

For a house bespeaks personality. That is never true of a city apartment or of those banged together affairs with all modern conveniences but no lived-in' atmosphere. Show me what kind of homes men build for their families, and I can almost sense their ideals of life. That, in a simpler and even truer way, my little girl said about Louisa May Alcott's home in Concord, and about the House of the Seven Gables in Salem where Hawthorne's cousin, Susan Ingersoll, lived.

We bedded down in Salem at the Hawthorne Hotel, which the local citizens built just off the square. But we could not remain indoors with so much beauty about us. So we trudged through the night, looking at the outsides of these unbelievably beautiful houses, some of which we would visit the next day.

The builders of these homes, many dead a century or so, were known to me with such intimacy as comes from China Coast Fables. For many of them were the masters and supercargoes of the clipper ships which sailed from Salem to Asia when this nation was young, bringing back with them silks and teas and spices to enrich the lives of our people.

Their homes speak eloquently of their great love for country and family. Only such as dreamed of home on the vast and tumultuous seas, as they rounded the cape or sailed across the expansive Pacific, could put such affection into the place to which wind and weather being willing, they would one day return. The doors of Chestnut street are a holiday of affection for home. And in Salem all the doors of the old houses point to the sea, as Moslems pray facing toward Mecca. In the Essex Institute, it is possible to spend hours, perhaps years, tracing out the stories of these courageous traders.

In the "House of Seven Gables" and in other houses, there are, of course, secret staircases and chimneys into which children could be hidden. This was for safety against Indian raids and such events. Those people knew no security and risked much, and perhaps that is why their houses are built so closely together. And yet, even now, there is an air of peace and quiet in this town which is hard to find elsewhere, particularly in a place where industry and neon signs and the automobile are also present.

Salem captured my imagination and love and I could not help wondering why the Ford Foundation, which seeks to spend millions in all parts of the world, does not devote itself to the restoration and preservation of the national monuments of American tradition. New England is rich in such treasures; but they exist all over this land. Henry Ford was captured by an enthusiasm for old America; it would be a living monument to him if all the beauty of the early periods of American life could be preserved as the French safeguard their national monuments. That would be something useful for the Ford Foundation to do.

That Body of Yours

POSSIBLE CAUSE OF EPILEPSY

Although the cause of epilepsy is unknown in a great many cases, since the coming of the drugs known as barbiturates, the great majority of epileptic seizure can be controlled so that the individual is not himself in danger, nor likely to endanger the lives of others.

The usual treatment is (A) to cut down on all starch foods — bread, sugar, potatoes, and pastries. (B) Cut down on all liquids — water, tea, coffee, milk, cocoa, soft and hard drinks. (C) Increase fat foods—butter, cream, egg yolk, fat meats. (D) A daily dose of phenobarbital as prescribed by the physician.

Another advance in the knowledge and treatment of epilepsy is finding that a fall or blow on the head, occurring often in teenage football players, may cause epileptic attacks or seizures. Thus a person who has his first attack of epilepsy in the teens or after may have suffered such a blow.

In the Journal of the Canadian Medical Association, Dr. C. B. Trites, Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, reports a very interesting case. A woman patient, 36 years old, was referred to Dr. Trites for an eye test. She gave a history of severe attacks of epilepsy, with biting of tongue and cheeks during past eight years, despite the use of dilantin (a barbiturate) and phenobarbital four times a day. The attacks occurred chiefly at night—seldom in the daytime.

Examination showed farsightedness and hyperphoria (the elevation of one visual axis above the other) and a tendency to cross-eye. She was given a prescription for glasses to correct these defects of vision and Dr. Trites reports that she had no epileptic attack for nine months during which time the doses of medicine were gradually reduced to one daily dose, on the advice of her physician. She had no attack for three or four weeks after stopping the medicine and then a severe attack occurred. A new prescription for glasses was given and the patient has not had an attack for three months.

That this case was true epilepsy was shown by the encephalogram, which records brain movements as the electrocardiogram records the heart movements.

Now one case is only one case but I am reporting the fact that eye defects were responsible in this case and it is possible that other cases of epilepsy, not controlled by barbiturates, may be caused by defects of vision.

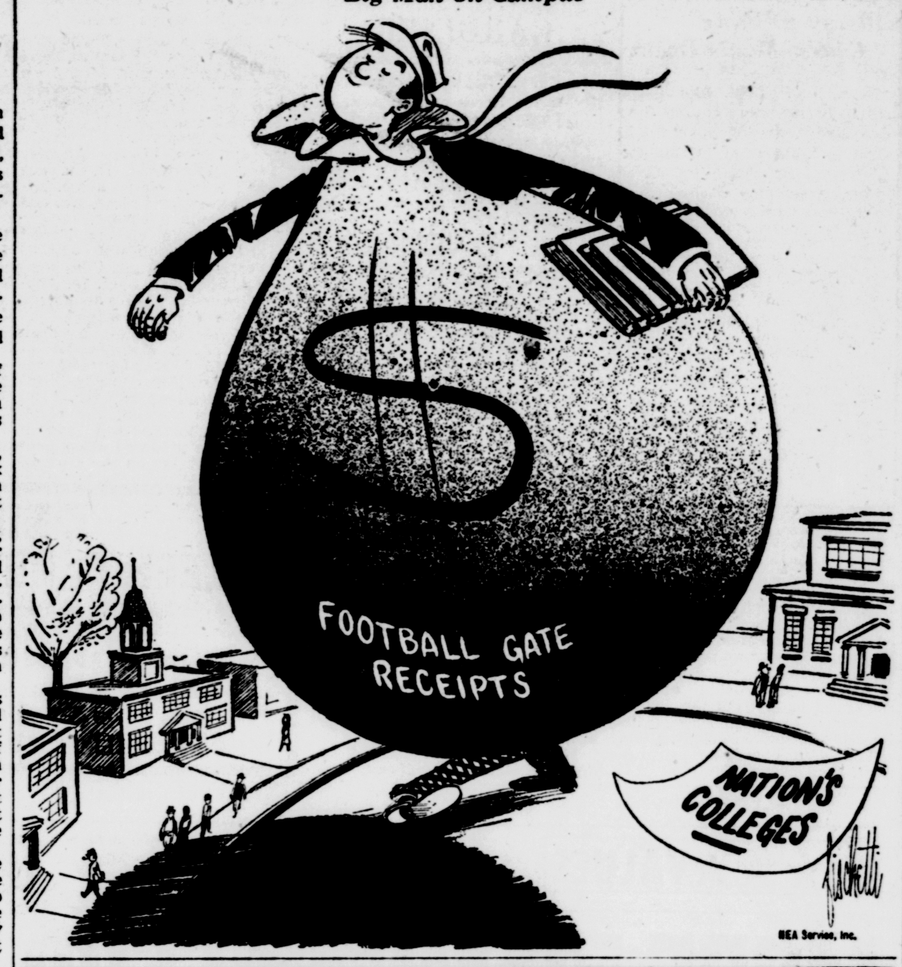
Big Man on Campus



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—There's something awfully peculiar about the way the Senate refuses to investigate graft in the sale of American war supplies to Nationalist China; also the manner in which some of these supplies went to Communist China.

This graft and the part played by the China lobby was exposed in this column three months ago, including huge fortunes made by Chinese in cornering the soybean market, money made by Chiang Kai-shek's relatives in selling tin to the Communists, and a phony gasoline deal attempted by the Nationalist Air Force.

Furthermore, Sen. Lyndon "Lying-Down" Johnson's investigating committee has had some of these facts for months. But in keeping with his Texas nickname, he laid down on the job.

Meanwhile, here are more facts showing how an American Admiral persuaded General MacArthur's headquarters to release 62,000 rounds of navy shells one month after the Korean War started—with a lush profit paid to S. G. Fassoulis and Miran Aprahamian, the 5 percenters for the China lobby.

Fassoulis and Aprahamian, heads of the Commerce International Corporation, had hired Adm. Charles M. Cooke, Jr., together with 10 other retired American officers who are stationed on Formosa, in the dual capacity of advisers to Fassoulis and Aprahamian as well as advisers to Chiang Kai-shek. They include Gen. R. L. Peterson, Cooke's son-in-law, Maj. C. F. Field; and did include Marine Gen. O. T. Pfeifer and Adm. H. L. Grosskopf, all retired. The latter two have now withdrawn.

Arms Brokers

One month after the Korean War started, and when the U. S. Navy needed to conserve all its ammunition, Admiral Cooke induced MacArthur' headquarters to sell 22,000 rounds of three-inch navy shells plus 40,000 rounds of 20-MM. shells and 40-MM. shells.

The story given out at the time was that the shells were scrap, about to be dumped into the sea. This, however, was not true. The price paid for the three-inch shells was $3 each—a bargain basement rate, because the original list surplus price was $36 each.

But the interesting thing is that Fassoulis and Aprahamian got a 12 per cent commission on the deal.

Significant also is the fact that it was the U. S. Navy, not the Chinese Navy, which was guarding Formosa at the time. In view of the long transport across the Pacific, therefore, it was the U. S. Navy not the Chinese, who stood to need reserve ammunition.

S. G. Fassoulis, when queried by this column, admitted the facts but claimed the shells were defective.

Note—Admiral Cooke is the officer who, while commander of U. S. Naval forces in the Western Pacific at the end of the war, used an LST boat to transport his auto to Shanghai to sell it on the Black Market. Naval enlisted men in Shanghai at that time were being jailed for selling cigarettes on the Black Market.

General Ike has told friends confidentially that he would run as a Democrat if Taft gets the GOP nomination. He regards Taft's fight-China-now policy as disastrous to his election as a "catastrophe" . . . (If Taft's nominated, Ike may not get the chance to be a Democrat. Truman's friends are pulling every wire to get Taft the GOP nod, say their man is itching to take Taft on.). . . . Wily Senator Brewster of Maine, Taft's chief strategist, has a plan to nullify Eisenhower. He would send Taft to Europe, stage a conference with Eisenhower, then announce that Taft would follow any European policy the general proposed. . . . Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany is smarting under the reply given him when he asked to make a trip to see Truman. The White House answer was: "Too busy." . . . The American Embassy in Moscow cables that Foreign Minister Vishinsky is virtually out, hasn't been seen around the foreign office for weeks. Andre Gromyko, the sallow diplomat of San Francisco, is now running the foreign office. (He's close to Stalin too).

Inside Baseball

Happy Chandler's job of baseball commissioner has been peddled to a whole row of big names—J. Edgar Hoover, General MacArthur, Gen. Emmett "Rosie" O'Donnell of the air force. All turned it down. . . . Jim Farley was proposed by the New York Yankees, but rejected on the first ballot at a closed-door caucus of the ball-team owners. . . . So was George Trautman of the minor leagues. . . . One handicap against Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche was the backstage wirepulling of Sen. John Bricker who doesn't want Lausche running against him for the Senate next year. This didn't help Lausche much. His best backer, incidentally, was John Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and a real-estate partner of Bricker's. (Lausche asked for a 10-year contract, instead of the seven years given Happy Chandler.) . . . Real trouble in selecting a baseball czar has been that the club owners wanted a "front" more than they wanted a two-fisted cleaner-up of baseball ills—namely, the eastern monopoly and the serflike draft of minor-league players.

Merry-Go-Round

Good news about polio: Doctors believe this year's epidemic is about over. Total cases this year will reach about 30,000, which, although too high, is a lot better than the tragic total of 42,000 two years ago. . . . Chief Justice Vinson has been staying home with a sick wife. Mrs. Vinson has been through a long, long siege, but is reported better. . . . Dynamic Sen. Jim Duff of Pennsylvania and the man he picked as governor of Pennsylvania, John S. Fine, will have one of their few meetings Saturday—at the wedding of beautiful Louise Steinman in Lancaster, Pa. (Duff and Fine haven't been seeing eye-to-eye since the election.) . . . Press reports that Phil Murray is quitting the CIO were exaggerated. He will be overwhelmingly re-elected at the CIO convention in New York in November, but will step down one year later. Chief CIO possibilities to succeed him are Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers and David McDonald of the Steelworkers, both able men. However, since these big unions are rivals, it's probable a neutral head of a smaller union will get the presidency—possibly Jake Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Lovett's Appointment Praised, but Is Termed One Year Late, Same With Marshall

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 13 — What should have happened a year ago has finally happened—Robert A. Lovett has been made secretary of defense. And what should also have happened a year ago—namely, the appointment of General Marshall to active duty as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff—didn't happen then and, as a consequence, nothing has been done to reorganize the joint chiefs and make it as effective as the top military body of the nation ought to be.

When setting up the present structure for the joint chiefs of staff, Congress adopted a compromise plan that was a hodge-podge. What is urgently needed is that membership on the joint chiefs should be a full-time and not a part-time job. At present the heads of the three armed services have operational responsibilities in connection with their own services and are, nevertheless, looked to by the President and the secretary of defense and Congress to do an over-all planning job for the strategy of a future war as well as the current war in Korea.

George Marshall is a great American. Few men in the last half century have won such esteem here and such affection among people inside and outside of public life. The job of secretary of defense, however, was one of overwhelming responsibility on the administrative side. It is a task to which, with all due respect for the general, Mr. Lovett could bring more experience than his distinguished predecessor. But President Truman was in a political spot a year ago. Criticism of Louis Johnson, then secretary of defense, had become widespread, especially after the outbreak of the Korean war, and hence Mr. Truman was trying by the appointment of General Marshall to meet that criticism. An exception had to be made by Congress to the law which it had passed barring from appointment to the post of secretary of defense any man who had been in regular military service during the preceding ten years.

By amending the law a bad precedent was established. As was said then in these dispatches, General Marshall was the logical man to take over the work of coordinating the joint chiefs of staff, but some man with a civilian background should have been found for the task of secretary of defense.

One disadvantage always was that so long as Mr. Marshall held five-star rank, it didn't matter whether he wore civilian clothes, the members of the joint chiefs thought of him as a military chieftain who outranked them all. General Marshall was quite aware of this and leaned over backward to avoid any appearance of imposing his military judgments on the joint chiefs.

While the appointment of General Marshall to the defense post helped Mr. Truman politically, it took quite a toll from the retiring general. He should have been permitted to enjoy the retired life which he had so clearly earned by his past service to his country.

It will be recalled that Mr. Marshall has had very little rest since World War 2 ended in 1945. He had served as a special envoy to China in times of extraordinary trouble and difficulty, and he was then appointed secretary of state—again a job to which he gave his best efforts but which was plainly out of his line of experience.

A military man should be permitted to stick to his last. If General Marshall had been allowed as an adviser along with other five-star generals to concentrate on strictly military phases of our postwar problems, the nation would have been benefited far more and perhaps the whole military program would have been farther ahead. As it was, he was saddled with administrative duties and contacts with procurement and personnel problems and a thousand and one details of the job of running the biggest department in Washington.

The nation owes a debt of thanks to General Marshall for his unselfish efforts in public service, and particularly for his insistence that his term as secretary of defense be limited to the year or so that he specified in the first place. For now the way has been opened not only for a civilian as secretary of defense, but for the early reorganization of the joint chiefs of staff—the most important and yet the most neglected phase of our present military program.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 12—It comes to me that new problems of time and distance have developed in our efforts to catch up with the guile of those who organize such political tricks as the President's Committee on Civil Rights and that committee's report.

That report, entitled "to secure these rights," came down in 1947. It is an important part of the program of the covert Socialist organization called Americans for Democratic Action. If it were enacted into law, it would dissolve the constitution and the Department of Justice would develop a great gestapo to spy and tattle and a special staff to prosecute an individual for hiring a son or nephew instead of some provocateur whose complexion, religion or some characteristic would classify him as a member of a "minority group." In the fulfillment of this program, a fine American could be sent to prison and his business could be wiped out by costs and harassment for the simple, noble reason that he refused to discriminate against his own son or the widow of his best friend in selecting an employe to fill a particular job.

The fact that the federal government has absolutely no constitutional right to butt into such relations between citizens did not deter this committee from recommending this particular item of the program of Americans for Democratic Action.

As to the journalistic problem that I mentioned, note, please, that this stealthy trick, perpetrated under the seal of President Truman, was done and all but forgotten until last spring. Then, Senator Byrd, of Virginia, came out with a roar, threatening that if Truman should be renominated in 1952, the deep south would quit the party. Byrd and his associates, including Senators George and Russell of Georgia and Governor Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina, all regard Truman as a carpet-bagger in the old sense of the word and his southern adherents as scalawags. A scalawag was defined by a Confederate patriot and soldier in the congressional hearings into the old, original Ku Klux Plan as the sorriest, scaliest sheep in the flock.

How do you begin to fill in the facts on a story that should have been covered in 1946 and 1947?

I began by studying the report. For my sins, I suffered much. If you doubt me, try reading this strange typical tract done in the ideological geechee which drifted in from Europe on the tides of hate and perfidy during the Roosevelt reign.

I noticed that although the report was based on representations made to the committee by individuals and organizations and was not the findings of the members distilled from their own intelligence, the committee cleverly refrained from naming any individual or organization. That is a negative fact. It is a typical trick. Well, we paid the expenses, we are the people who will become the serfs of a master state if the program ever comes into law, so why shouldn't we know who planned this fate for us? If they were respectable and if their purposes are decent why are they so bashful? I stand up for my ideas. You stand up for yours.

Robert K. Carr, of Dartmouth, professor of "government," if you please, in answer to a letter from me said "the committee itself, voted not to attempt to list individually the private organizations from whom communications were received."

Well, now, the hell it did. By what right did this tong decide to conceal the identity of the conspirators against our constitution?

I telephoned Carr at Hanover and he was away so I got John S. Dickey, the president of Dartmouth, on the phone. I told Dickey that frankly I was suspicious and he laughed and laughed but in a tone that didn't convince me. I think I had him there. I read him that line out of Carr's letter and he said this all happened so long ago that he didn't have the facts fresh in his mind. I asked him specifically if the Association for the Advancement of Colored People was one of the organizations. He wouldn't say yes and he wouldn't say no. For your information, this is not a society of colored people but a political pressure layout operated by designing white men in Washington and New York. As in the Civil War, the Negro is being exploited again and hatred is being inflamed.

Dickey then said that as man to man he would insist that there was no ulterior purpose in con-

OUR LOCAL OLD STONE HOUSES

During the celebration of the 300th Anniversary of the Founding of Kingston, which will take place next year, the old stone houses here and in the county, which were built in the 1700's, should be a great attraction for the many visitors who will come here for the observance.

The houses were strong, and over 200 years later they will stand and are as livable today as they were when they were built. When men build their houses sturdily yet of more than stone and mortar, when something of their dreams goes into the construction, the passing of time has little real effect.

There are not very many homes standing in America as old as the stone houses here, which serve as reminders of what went before. In these troubled days, when one wonders about tomorrow and the next century seems far off, it is well to notice them.

An old house has a friendly look. It seems to tell the men who pass that it stood there long before they were born, that generations have lived beneath the roof and some of them had to fight wars and uncertainties, as we have. The houses seem to say that a man's hope and faith hold up a house as much as do the great beams and rafters. Old houses remind men to build everything in their lives the way good houses were built, and somehow the future will be made secure.

One of the latest model automobiles, it is claimed, can accelerate from a standing start to eighty miles an hour in twenty-three seconds. Who goes back to pick up the passengers?

THE MAIL DELIVERIES

Is twice-a-day mail delivery gone forever? The Senate considered a recommendation of its Post Office Committee that the Department be instructed to go back to the old schedule of morning and afternoon deliveries on city residential routes, but voted to turn it down. Since this is the second defeat for the proposal, it appears that the curtailment of service is not likely to be ended by legislative decree. The first attempt to get such a decree through Congress was made immediately after the service was reduced last year.

There was abundant evidence of desire on the part of senators to see the former schedule of service restored, doubtless resulting from pressure from people who like to see the mailman come to their doors. But there also appeared to be recognition of the fact that an order for increased mail service would have to be accompanied by an increased appropriation for the Department. As it is, Congress is finding it unavoidable to approve raises in almost all postage rates.

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds," says an inscription on the New York City Post Office building. The sentence is a paraphrase of the praise of Herodotus for the Persian messengers, and it is a deserved tribute to the faithfulness and hardihood of the mail carriers. But in government there is a force more potent than snow, rain, heat or gloom of night. It is the budget deficit.

Fall days make a mother wonder whether it is harder to keep track of a youngster all day or get him off to school on time.

UNDERSTANDING OUR ALLIES

The job of a soldier was once merely to bear arms and to fight bravely. Often a man with little learning could be a successful soldier. But today it seems that the ideal soldier is one who can learn rapidly not only the arts of war but such subjects as foreign languages.

At Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, American officers and enlisted men are studying the French language. French and other Allied soldiers are studying English. The purpose is to enable them to get along better and work more effectively in the new European army.

The ability to understand the languages of other peoples is essential to close cooperation with them, in all other fields as well as the military. This step toward overcoming the language barriers which divide the peoples of Europe from each other and from us may help to bring us closer together in many ways.

'These Days'

NEW ENGLAND PILGRIMAGE

While the San Francisco Conference was in session, I was traveling in the atmosphere of old New England. Maybe I should have got all excited, hopped on a plane, got me a seat in the press gallery and watched Messrs. Acheson and Gromyko fight the battle of wits and words.

Instead, starting in these Berkshire hills, we motored toward Maine. First we went to a little place called Sturbridge where a New England village of the eighteenth century has been reconstructed within its proper setting. There we lunched and the trip had an unexpectedly good start.

Then we motored to Concord, to the city of Emerson and Hawthorne and the irrepressible Alcotts. My little girl was principally interested in "Little Women" and my wife in the chaste houses of New England.

Hawthorne pervades this area. Concord, Salem, Stockbridge—he seems to have left his mark wherever he lived; and to see a chair on which Emerson sat and Hawthorne wrote is to get at the very roots of things American.

We were on our way to York Harbor, Maine, where I was to do a chore of speech-making for my friend, Marion Martin. Unfortunately, I missed Portsmouth on this trip. No city has more charming early American houses than Portsmouth, except Salem, and Charleston, South Carolina. To Portsmouth's houses, even a tourist must devote a week; that is, if the tourist finds beautiful homes interesting and exciting and if his imagination can make him feel the lives of our progenitors.

For a house bespeaks personality. That is never true of a city apartment or of those banged together affairs with all modern conveniences but no lived-in' atmosphere. Show me what kind of homes men build for their families, and I can almost sense their ideals of life. That, in a simpler and even truer way, my little girl said about Louisa May Alcott's home in Concord, and about the House of the Seven Gables in Salem where Hawthorne's cousin, Susan Ingersoll, lived.

We bedded down in Salem at the Hawthorne Hotel, which the local citizens built just off the square. But we could not remain indoors with so much beauty about us. So we trudged through the night, looking at the outsides of these unbelievably beautiful houses, some of which we would visit the next day.

The builders of these homes, many dead a century or so, were known to me with such intimacy as comes from China Coast Fables. For many of them were the masters and supercargoes of the clipper ships which sailed from Salem to Asia when this nation was young, bringing back with them silks and teas and spices to enrich the lives of our people.

Their homes speak eloquently of their great love for country and family. Only such as dreamed of home on the vast and tumultuous seas, as they rounded the cape or sailed across the expansive Pacific, could put such affection into the place to which, wind and weather being willing, they would one day return. The doors of Chestnut street are a holiday of affection for home. And in Salem all the doors of the old houses point to the sea, as Moslems pray facing toward Mecca. In the Essex Institute, it is possible to spend hours, perhaps years, tracing out the stories of these courageous traders.

In the "House of Seven Gables" and in other houses, there are, of course, secret staircases and chimneys into which children could be hidden. This was for safety against Indian raids and such events. Those people knew no security and risked much, and perhaps that is why their houses are built so closely together. And yet, even now, there is an air of peace and quiet in this town which is hard to find elsewhere, particularly in a place where industry and neon signs and the automobile are also present.

Salem captured my imagination and love and I could not help wondering why the Ford Foundation, which seeks to spend millions in all parts of the world, does not devote itself to the restoration and preservation of the national monuments of American tradition. New England is rich in such treasures; but they exist all over this land. Henry Ford was captured by an enthusiasm for old America; it would be a living monument to him if all the beauty of the early periods of American life could be preserved as the French safegaurd their national monuments. That would be something useful for the Ford Foundation to do.

That Body of Yours

POSSIBLE CAUSE OF EPILEPSY

Although the cause of epilepsy is unknown in a great many cases, since the coming of the drugs known as barbiturates, the great majority of epileptic seizure can be controlled so that the individual is not himself in danger, nor likely to endanger the lives of others.

The usual treatment is (A) to cut down on all starch foods — bread, sugar, potatoes, and pastries. (B) Cut down on all liquids — water, tea, coffee, milk, cocoa, soft and hard drinks. (C) Increase fat foods—butter, cream, egg yolk, fat meats. (D) A daily dose of phenobarbital as prescribed by the physician.

Another advance in the knowledge and treatment of epilepsy is finding that a fall or blow on the head, occurring often in teenage football players, may cause epileptic attacks or seizures. Thus a person who has his first attack of epilepsy in the teens or after may have suffered such a blow.

In the Journal of the Canadian Medical Association, Dr. C. B. Trites, Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, reports a very interesting case. A woman patient, 36 years old, was referred to Dr. Trites for an eye test. She gave a history of severe attacks of epilepsy, with biting of tongue and cheeks during past eight years, despite the use of dilantin (a barbiturate) and phenobarbital four times a day. The attacks occurred chiefly at night—seldom in the daytime.

Examination showed farsightedness and hyperphoria (the elevation of one visual axis above the other) and a tendency to cross-eye. She was given a prescription for glasses to correct these defects of vision and Dr. Trites reports that she had no epileptic attack for nine months during which time the doses of medicine were gradually reduced to one daily dose, on the advice of her physician. She had no attack for three or four weeks after stopping the medicine and then a severe attack occurred. A new prescription for glasses was given and the patient has not had an attack for three months.

That this case was true epilepsy was shown by the encephalogram, which records brain movements as the electrocardiogram records the heart movements.

Now one case is only one case but I am reporting the fact that eye defects were responsible in this case and it is possible that other cases of epilepsy, not controlled by barbiturates, may be caused by defects of vision.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—There's something awfully peculiar about the way the Senate refuses to investigate graft in the sale of American war supplies to Nationalist China; also the manner in which some of these supplies went to Communist China.

This graft and the part played by the China lobby was exposed in this column three months ago, including huge fortunes made by Chinese in cornering the soybean market, money made by Chiang Kai-shek's relatives in selling tin to the Communists, and a phony gasoline deal attempted by the Nationalist Air Force.

Furthermore, Sen. Lyndon "Lying-Down" Johnson's investigating committee has had some of these facts for months. But in keeping with his Texas nickname, he laid down on the job.

Meanwhile, here are more facts showing how an American Admiral persuaded General MacArthur's headquarters to release 62,000 rounds of navy shells one month after the Korean War started—with a lush profit paid to S. G. Fassoulis and Miran Aprahamian, the 5 percenters for the China lobby.

Fassoulis and Aprahamian, heads of the Commerce International Corporation, had hired Adm. Charles M. Cooke, Jr., together with 10 other retired American officers who are stationed on Formosa, in the dual capacity of advisers to Fassoulis and Aprahamian as well as advisers to Chiang Kai-shek. They include Gen. R. L. Peterson, Cooke's son-in-law, Maj. C. F. Field; and did include Marine Gen. O. T. Pfeifer and Adm. H. L. Grosskopf, all retired. The latter two have now withdrawn.

Arms Brokers

One month after the Korean War started, and when the U. S. Navy needed to conserve all its ammunition, Admiral Cooke induced MacArthur' headquarters to sell 22,000 rounds of three-inch navy shells plus 40,000 rounds of 20-MM, shells and 40-MM, shells.

The story given out at the time was that the shells were scrap, about to be dumped into the sea. This, however, was not true. The price paid for the three-inch shells was $3 each—a bargain basement rate, because the original list surplus price was $36 each.

But the interesting thing is that Fassoulis and Aprahamian got a 12 per cent commission on the deal.

Significant also is the fact that it was the U. S. Navy, not the Chinese Navy, which was guarding Formosa at the time. In view of the long transport across the Pacific, therefore, it was the U. S. Navy not the Chinese, who stood to need reserve ammunition.

S. G. Fassoulis, when queried by this column, admitted the facts but claimed the shells were defective.

Note—Admiral Cooke is the officer who, while commander of U. S. Naval forces in the Western Pacific at the end of the war, used an LST boat to transport his auto to Shanghai to sell it on the Black Market. Naval enlisted men in Shanghai at that time were being jailed for selling cigarettes on the Black Market.

Washington Pipelines

General Ike has told friends confidentially that he would run as a Democrat if Taft gets the GOP nomination. He regards Taft's fight-China-now policy as disastrous to his election as a "catastrophe" . . . (If Taft's nominated, Ike may not get the chance to be a Democrat. Truman's friends are pulling every wire to get Taft the GOP nod, say their man is itching to take Taft on.). . . . Wily Senator Brewster of Maine, Taft's chief strategist, has a plan to nullify Eisenhower. He would send Taft to Europe, stage a conference with Eisenhower, then announce that Taft would follow any European policy the general proposed. . . . Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany is smarting under the reply given him when he asked to make a trip to see Truman. The White House answer was: "Too busy." . . . The American Embassy in Moscow cables that Foreign Minister Vishinsky is virtually out, hasn't been seen around the foreign office for weeks. Andre Gromyko, the sallow diplomat of San Francisco, is now running the foreign office. (He's close to Stalin too).

Inside Baseball

Happy Chandler's job of baseball commissioner has been peddled to a whole row of big names—J. Edgar Hoover, General MacArthur, Gen. Emmett "Rosie" O'Donnell of the air force. All turned it down. . . . Jim Farley was proposed by the New York Yankees, but rejected on the first ballot at a closed-door caucus of the ball-team owners. . . . So was George Trautman of the minor leagues. . . . One handicap against Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche was the backstage wire-pulling of Sen. John Bricker who doesn't want Lausche running against him for the Senate next year. This didn't help Lausche much. His best backer, incidentally, was John Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and a real-estate partner of Bricker's. (Lausche asked for a 10-year contract, instead of the seven years given Happy Chandler.) . . . Real trouble in selecting a baseball czar has been that the club owners wanted a "front" more than they wanted a two-fisted cleaner-up of baseball ills—namely, the eastern monopoly and the serflike draft of minor-league players.

Merry-Go-Round

Good news about polio: Doctors believe this year's epidemic is about over. Total cases this year will reach about 30,000, which, although too high, is a lot better than the tragic total of 42,000 two years ago. . . . Chief Justice Vinson has been staying home with a sick wife. Mrs. Vinson has been through a long, long siege, but is reported better. . . . Dynamic Sen. Jim Duff of Pennsylvania and the man he picked as governor of Pennsylvania, John S. Fine, will have one of their few meetings Saturday—at the wedding of beautiful Louise Steinman in Lancaster, Pa. (Duff and Fine haven't been seeing eye-to-eye since the election.) . . . Press reports that Phil Murray is quitting the CIO were exaggerated. He will be overwhelmingly re-elected at the CIO convention in New York in November, but will step down one year later. Chief CIO possibilities to succeed him are Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers and David McDonald of the Steelworkers, both able men. However, since these big unions are rivals, it's probable a neutral head of a smaller union will get the presidency—possibly Jake Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Lovett's Appointment Praised, but Is Termed One Year Late, Same With Marshall

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 13 — What should have happened a year ago has finally happened—Robert A. Lovett has been made secretary of defense. And what should also have happened a year ago—namely, the appointment of General Marshall to active duty as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff—didn't happen then and, as a consequence, nothing has been done to reorganize the joint chiefs and make it as effective as the top military body of the nation ought to be.

When setting up the present structure for the joint chiefs of staff, Congress adopted a compromise plan that was a hodge-podge. What is urgently needed is that membership on the joint chiefs should be a full-time and not a part-time job. At present the heads of the three armed services have operational responsibilities in connection with their own services and are, nevertheless, looked to by the President and the secretary of defense and Congress to do an over-all planning job for the strategy of a future war as well as the current war in Korea.

George Marshall is a great American. Few men in the last half century have won such esteem here and such affection among people inside and outside of public life. The job of secretary of defense, however, was one of overwhelming responsibility on the administrative side. It is a task to which, with all due respect for the general, Mr. Lovett could bring more experience than his distinguished predecessor. But President Truman was in a political spot a year ago. Criticism of Louis Johnson, then secretary of defense, had become widespread, especially after the outbreak of the Korean war, and hence Mr. Truman was trying by the appointment of General Marshall to meet that criticism. An exception had to be made by Congress to the law which it had passed barring from appointment to the post of secretary of defense any man who had been in regular military service during the preceding ten years.

By amending the law a bad precedent was established. As was said then in these dispatches, General Marshall was the logical man to take over the work of coordinating the joint chiefs of staff, but some man with a civilian background should have been found for the task of secretary of defense.

One disadvantage always was that so long as Mr. Marshall held five-star rank, it didn't matter whether he wore civilian clothes, the members of the joint chiefs thought of him as a military chieftain who outranked them all. General Marshall was quite aware of this and leaned over backward to avoid any appearance of imposing his military judgments on the joint chiefs.

While the appointment of General Marshall to the defense post helped Mr. Truman politically, it took quite a toll from the retiring general. He should have been permitted to enjoy the retired life which he had so clearly earned by his past service to his country.

It will be recalled that Mr. Marshall has had very little rest since World War 2 ended in 1945. He had served as a special envoy to China in times of extraordinary trouble and difficulty, and he was then appointed secretary of state—again a job to which he gave his best efforts but which was plainly out of his line of experience.

A military man should be permitted to stick to his last. If General Marshall had been allowed as an adviser along with other five-star generals to concentrate on strictly military phases of our postwar problems, the nation would have been benefited far more and perhaps the whole military program would have been farther ahead. As it was, he was saddled with administrative duties and contacts with procurement and personnel problems and a thousand and one details of the job of running the biggest department in Washington.

The nation owes a debt of thanks to General Marshall for his unselfish efforts in public service, and particularly for his insistence that his term as secretary of defense be limited to the year or so that he specified in the first place. For now the way has been opened not only for a civilian as secretary of defense, but for the early reorganization of the joint chiefs of staff—the most important and yet the most neglected phase of our present military program.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 12—It comes to me that new problems of time and distance have developed in our efforts to catch up with the guile of those who organize such political tricks as the President's Committee on Civil Rights and that committee's report.

That report, entitled "to secure these rights," came down in 1947. It is an important part of the program of the covert Socialist organization called Americans for Democratic Actiop. If it were enacted into law, it would dissolve the constitution and the Department of Justice would develop a great gestapo to spy and tattle and a special staff to prosecute an individual for hiring a son or nephew instead of some provocateur whose complexion, religion or some characteristic would classify him as a member of a "minority group." In the fulfillment of this program, a fine American could be sent to prison and his business could be wiped out by costs and harassment for the simple, noble reason that he refused to discriminate against his own son or the widow of his best friend in selecting an employe to fill a particular job.

The fact that the federal government has absolutely no constitutional right to butt into such relations between citizens did not deter this committee from recommending this particular item of the program of Americans for Democratic Action.

As to the journalistic problem that I mentioned, note, please, that this stealthy trick, perpetrated under the seal of President Truman, was done and all but forgotten until last spring. Then, Senator Byrd, of Virginia, came out with a roar, threatening that if Truman should be renominated in 1952, the deep south would quit the party. Byrd and his associates, including Senators George and Russell of Georgia and Governor Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina, all regard Truman as a carpet-bagger in the old sense of the word and his southern adherents as scalawags. A scalawag was defined by a Confederate patriot and soldier in the congressional hearings into the old, original Ku Klux Plan as the sorriest, scaliest sheep in the flock.

How do you begin to fill in the facts on a story that should have been covered in 1946 and 1947?

I began by studying the report. For my sins, I suffered much. If you doubt me, try reading this strange typical tract done in the ideological geechee which drifted in from Europe on the tides of hate and perfidy during the Roosevelt reign.

I noticed that although the report was based on representations made to the committee by individuals and organizations and was not the findings of the members distilled from their own intelligence, the committee cleverly refrained from naming any individual or organization. That is a negative fact. It is a typical trick. Well, we paid the expenses, we are the people who will become the serfs of a master state if the program ever comes into law, so why shouldn't we know who planned this fate for us? If they were respectable and if their purposes are decent why are they so bashful? I stand up for my ideas. You stand up for yours.

Robert K. Carr, of Dartmouth, professor of "government," if you please, in answer to a letter from me said "the committee itself, voted not to attempt to list individually the private organizations from whom communications were received."

Well, now, the hell it did. By what right did this tong decide to conceal the identity of the conspirators against our constitution?

I telephoned Carr at Hanover and he was away so I got John S. Dickey, the president of Dartmouth, on the phone. I told Dickey that frankly I was suspicious and he laughed and laughed but in a tone that didn't convince me. I think I had him there. I read him that line out of Carr's letter and he said this all happened so long ago that he didn't have the facts fresh in his mind. I asked him specifically if the Association for the Advancement of Colored People was one of the organizations. He wouldn't say yes and he wouldn't say no. For your information, this is not a society of colored people but a political pressure layout operated by designing white men in Washington and New York. As in the Civil War, the Negro is being exploited again and hatred is being inflamed.

Dickey then said that as man to man he would insist that there was no ulterior purpose in con-

Reardon Says He Never Disappeared

Westport, Conn., Sept. 13 (AP)—With the assertion that "I never disappeared," ex-cop James Reardon said today that he is ready to testify at Brooklyn conspiracy trial of 18 suspended or retired policemen.

"I am available. I have no choice," said Reardon at his Westport home.

Other than to say that his future plans are now in the hands of his attorney, John H. Mountain of Westport, he declined to say what his next move would be.

Brooklyn officials say that after quitting the New York police force, Reardon managed for a time the bookmaking affairs of Harry Gross, both Reardon and Gross, who was picked up yesterday at the Atlantic City racetrack, are on the prosecution list of witnesses in the Brooklyn trial.

The 18 accused are charged with obstructing justice by allegedly protecting Gross' bookmaking syndicate.

Reardon had been reported missing by the New York Daily News. Actually, he said, he had spent Monday and Tuesday night with some friends in Westport because he "wanted a little time to think things over."

The rest of the time, he said, he spent traveling between his Westport home and New York on his personal business.

Reardon spent last night at his home. He said he planned a round of golf today.

Woodstock Firm Denies Dwelling Violation

New York, Sept. 13 (Special)—A plea of innocent to a charge of violating the Multiple Dwelling Law was entered in Special Sessions Court here Wednesday by the Seafeld Realty Corporation of Woodstock. Trial of the case is scheduled for September 25.

The firm, owners of a building at 9 West 137th street, New York, is accused of failing to repair broken and defective dumbwaiters, a leaky roof and an unsanitary dumbwaiter shaft in the building.

Substitute Announced

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—A newly developed substitute for tin, a vital defense material not produced in this country, was announced yesterday by RFC Director W. Stuart Symington. The new product, a blend of plastics with aluminum foil, was developed by the Reynolds Metals of Richmond, Va. Symington said production is starting immediately and all the output for some time will be taken by the armed services.

Will Continue Eligible

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—College students will continue eligible for draft deferments during the coming academic year. In announcing this yesterday, Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg said, however, that the program may have to be "tightened up" when military manpower nears the bottom of the barrel in the following year.

Boyle Asks End Of Defamations

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP) — William M. Boyle, Jr., today urged Congress to "outlaw the technique of completely baseless and defamatory attacks on individuals whcih go beyond the bounds of campaigning" in political contests.

Declaring that "American campaigns have never been noted for politeness and the use of the kid glove," the chairman of the Democratic National Committee added:

"And this new technique which is used to attack the loyalty and patriotism of decent citizens and faithful public servants is not in the Ameriacn tradition. It is an imported technique which has already begun to poison our political life. It must be stamped out."

Boyle's proposal was in a statement prepared for a hearing before a Senate Elections subcommittee headed by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa).

Scheduled to Open

Vienna, Sept. 13 (AP) — Another meeting of the Moscow-controlled "World Peace Council" is scheduled to open today in Prague, Czechoslovakia, it was learned in western circles here. No advance mention of the council meeting has appeared in the Communist press so far. But western intelligence groups heard about it a week ago. The meeting was regarded here as holding a hint of Moscow's answer to the West's diplomatic victory in the signing of the Japanese Peace Treaty. Western observers in Vienna said they believe the council would make a new call to the United Nations to sponsor a "pact of peace" among the Big Five powers, including Communist China.

Mrs. Marshall Had Her Way—Pearson

By DREW PEARSON

Friends of the George Marshall family report that the compelling reason for his resignation as secretary of defense was Mrs. Marshall. That was what the official announcement really meant when it said that Marshall had resigned for "personal reasons other than health."

The truth was that Mrs. Marshall had been nagging him.

It was she who persuaded him to resign as secretary of state three and a half years ago, and it was she who repeatedly kept at him to quit as secretary of defense. She didn't like the attacks by various Senate isolationists. She worried during her husband's hectic days of testimony before the Senate in the MacArthur hearings. And she boiled with rage over "Jumping Joe" McCarthy's below-the-belt attack.

General Marshall had promised his wife when he first took the job that he would remain only six months. But the end of that six months coincided with the firing of General MacArthur, and he felt that he couldn't get out in the middle of the turmoil. After this quieted down, the truce talks in Korea started and he hoped these negotiations might result in a triumph for the United Nations before he stepped out of office.

On Oct. 3, 1950, almost a year ago, this column reported: "The general may want to step out of the Defense Department sometime next year." And in the interim Mrs. Marshall kept reminding her husband that at the twilight of his long and distinguished career it was time for him to spend a few years quietly at home with her.

Reardon Says He Never Disappeared

Westport, Conn., Sept. 13 (AP)—With the assertion that "I never disappeared," ex-cop James Reardon said today that he is ready to testify at Brooklyn conspiracy trial of 18 suspended or retired policemen.

"I am available. I have no choice," said Reardon at his Westport home.

Other than to say that his future plans are now in the hands of his attorney, John H. Mountain of Westport, he declined to say what his next move would be.

Brooklyn officials say that after quitting the New York police force, Reardon managed for a time the bookmaking affairs of Harry Gross, both Reardon and Gross, who was picked up yesterday at the Atlantic City racetrack, are on the prosecution list of witnesses in the Brooklyn trial.

The 18 accused are charged with obstructing justice by allegedly protecting Gross' bookmaking syndicate.

Reardon had been reported missing by the New York Daily News. Actually, he said, he had spent Monday and Tuesday night with some friends in Westport because he "wanted a little time to think things over."

The rest of the time, he said, he spent traveling between his Westport home and New York on his personal business.

Reardon spent last night at his home. He said he planned a round of golf today.

New York, Sept. 13 (Special)—A plea of innocent to a charge of violating the Multiple Dwelling Law was entered in Special Sessions Court here Wednesday by the Seafeld Realty Corporation of Woodstock. Trial of the case is scheduled for September 25.

The firm, owners of a building at 9 West 137th street, New York, is accused of failing to repair broken and defective dumbwaiters, a leaky roof and an unsanitary dumbwaiter shaft in the building.

Substitute Announced

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—A newly developed substitute for tin, a vital defense material not produced in this country, was announced yesterday by RFC Director W. Stuart Symington. The new product, a blend of plastics with aluminum foil, was developed by the Reynolds Metals of Richmond, Va. Symington said production is starting immediately and all the output for some time will be taken by the armed services.

Will Continue Eligible

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—College students will continue eligible for draft deferments during the coming academic year. In announcing this yesterday, Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg said, however, that the program may have to be "tightened up" when military manpower nears the bottom of the barrel, in the following year.

Boyle Asks End Of Defamations

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP) — William M. Boyle, Jr., today urged Congress to "outlaw the technique of completely baseless and defamatory attacks on individuals whcih go beyond the bounds of campaigning" in political contests.

Declaring that "American campaigns have never been noted for politeness and the use of the kid glove," the chairman of the Democratic National Committee added: "And this new technique which is used to attack the loyalty and patriotism of decent citizens and faithful public servants is not in the Ameriacn tradition. It is an imported technique which has already begun to poison our political life. It must be stamped out."

Boyle's proposal was in a statement prepared for a hearing before a Senate Elections subcommittee headed by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa).

General Marshall had promised his wife when he first took the job that he would remain only six months. But the end of that six months coincided with the firing of General MacArthur, and he felt that he couldn't get out in the middle of the turmoil. After this quieted down, the truce talks in Korea started and he hoped these negotiations might result in a triumph for the United Nations before he stepped out of office.

On Oct. 3, 1950, almost a year ago, this column reported: "The general may want to step out of the Defense Department sometime next year." And in the interim Mrs. Marshall kept reminding her husband that at the twilight of his long and distinguished career it was time for him to spend a few years quietly at home with her.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Plans Are Disapproved

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Plans for a third Lincoln Tunnel tube were unanimously disapproved yesterday by the City Planning Commission. The commission turned down Port of New York Authority plans because it said they failed to provide proper street connections and approaches in mid-town Manhattan. The commission said it would favor a third tube if a solution could be found to handle traffic in what is "undoubtedly the most congested area in the world."

The Constitution

Editor, The Freeman:

On September 17, we celebrate the signing of the CONSTITUTION. By this action, the blessing of representative government was made possible for the first time in the History of the world.

In 1916, the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, first suggested the commemoration of this event.

Let us give special recognition to this anniversary, and to the indomitable courage of those who gave us the CONSTITUTION, a part of our priceless heritage.

I will appreciate the printing of the communication in your paper.

Orange Grand Jury Will Make Report In Taylor Case

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—An Orange county grand jury will make its report Tuesday regarding hearing evidence in a second jewel theft case against socialite Mrs. Ethel Taylor.

After the hearing yesterday, during which six witnesses were heard, District Attorney Clare J. Hoyt said:

"All the evidence has been submitted and the grand jury will make a report on Tuesday, Sept. 18."

Witnesses included Mrs. John G. Hope, from whom $5,000 worth of gems were stolen last July 4 from her Tuxedo Park, N. Y., home, and oil heiress Mrs. Charlene Wrightsman of Houston, Tex., who owned the jewels.

The blonde Mrs. Taylor also was among the Hope house guests at the Independence Day party.

Other witnesses were Edward Green, Tuxedo Park police chief; Inspector James Farrell and Sgt. Arnold Smith of the Nassau county police; and Filiberto Debourbon, employed at a Manhattan jewelry shop where the stolen gems were appraised.

Mrs. Taylor now is free in $5,000 bail in another case in which she allegedly stole $10,000 worth of jewels from a Nassau county neighbor and friend.

Accused Man Is Victim of Blast

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Jack Weiss, one of three men accused of homicide and arson in connection with an explosion Monday night which killed two men and gutted a nine-story building, died last night following an operation.

Weiss, 67, of Brooklyn, was burned and battered in an elevator shaft plunge following the blaze termed an arson plot for $20,000 fire insurance.

Killed in the blaze were alleged arsonist Moe Shapiro, 70, of Brooklyn, and City Detective James Daggett, 38.

Daggett and two other detectives had been trailing Weiss, Shapiro, Al Keshner, 42, and Jake Mayron, 59. The four were suspected of being arsonists or safecrackers.

Following the premature gasoline blast, a detective seized Keshner and Mayron as they fled the burning building.

The third detective was blown through a wall and injured seriously.

Police say Keshner, a clothing manufacturer occupying space on the fifth floor of the building, has admitted hiring Weiss to set the fire so he could collect insurance.

The district attorney's office is seeking first degree murder indictments against the surviving alleged arsonists.

Boessneck Named

tivity for the National Production Authority.

McKiernan said "the flow of iron and steel scrap to mills and foundries is not keeping pace with consumption. Unless additional supplies of scrap are received the production of iron and steel will not be sufficient to meet our defense and civilian needs."

MacAvery said that Chairman Boessneck will set up a committee representing industrial and commercial establishments. It is suggested that plant committees be set up investing such committees with the authority to clean out and sell dormant scrap metals.

Dormant scrap is defined as obsolete machinery, tools, jigs and dies, fixtures and other equipment which cannot be used. It will be suggested that all owners of scrap metal market every bit of it, first to support the defense effort and secondly for their own financial gain.

All businesses and agencies are invited to help support the scrap iron collection campaign. "Our national security depends to a considerable extent on an increase in the flow of scrap metal to market," Chairman Boessneck stressed.

Drive-In Is Robbed

Some time after 1:30 a. m. today the Gateway Drive-In just over the Rondout creek bridge at Port Ewen was entered and money from the juke box and a cigarette machine was taken. The music box was wrecked. From the cash register 100 pennies were also taken, Horace Woolsey, proprietor, reported. Entrance was gained by breaking a rear window. The burglary was reported to state police and the sheriff's office. County Identification Officer Arthur Brown of the sheriff's office made an investigation.

New York, Sept. 13 (AP) Jack Weiss, one of three men accused of homicide and arson in connection with an explosion Monday night which killed two men and gutted a nine-story building, died last night following an operation.

Weiss, 67, of Brooklyn, was burned and battered in an elevator shaft plunge following the blaze termed an arson plot for $20,000 fire insurance.

Killed in the blaze were alleged arsonist Moe Shapiro, 70, of Brooklyn, and City Detective James Daggett, 38.

Daggett and two other detectives had been trailing Weiss, Shapiro, Al Keshner, 42, and Jake Mayron, 59. The four were suspected of being arsonists or safecrackers.

Following the premature gasoline blast, a detective seized Keshner and Mayron as they fled the burning building.

The third detective was blown through a wall and injured seriously.

Police say Keshner, a clothing manufacturer occupying space on the fifth floor of the building, has admitted hiring Weiss to set the fire so he could collect insurance.

The district attorney's office is seeking first degree murder indictments against the surviving alleged arsonists.

Boessneck Named

tivity for the National Production Authority.

McKiernan said "the flow of iron and steel scrap to mills and foundries is not keeping pace with consumption. Unless additional supplies of scrap are received the production of iron and steel will not be sufficient to meet our defense and civilian needs."

MacAvery said that Chairman Boessneck will set up a committee representing industrial and commercial establishments. It is suggested that plant committees be set up investing such committees with the authority to clean out and sell dormant scrap metals.

Dormant scrap is defined as obsolete machinery, tools, jigs and dies, fixtures and other equipment which cannot be used. It will be suggested that all owners of scrap metal market every bit of it, first to support the defense effort and secondly for their own financial gain.

All businesses and agencies are invited to help support the scrap iron collection campaign. "Our national security depends to a considerable extent on an increase in the flow of scrap metal to market" Chairman Boessneck stressed.

New York, July 13 (AP)—Randolph Turpin, defeated middleweight champion of the world, wanted to see how and why Sugar Ray Robinson beat him—so he came to the Associated Press office at an early hour today. He made no comment beyond the fact that he could have continued the fight in the tenth round when Referee Ruby Goldstein stepped in and ended it, with Turpin apparently helpless on the ropes. Kitchen Pass Window Will Save Many Steps

A pass window between the dining room and the kitchen is a device which will be loudly applauded by many housewives when they realize all the foot-saving it will offer them. The window can be equipped with a Venetian blind which is decorative as well as practical in harmonizing colors and will eliminate view of the kitchen when it is not necessary. Bamboo shades, too, will work out very well in certain settings. A revolving counter top will swing dishes from room to room.

Turpin Looks Over Photos

New York, July 13 (AP)—Randolph Turpin, defeated middleweight champion of the world, wanted to see how and why Sugar Ray Robinson beat him—so he came to the Associated Press office at an early hour today. Turpin and his two brothers examined the scores of photographs taken at the Polo Grounds. He made no comment beyond the fact that he could have continued the fight in the tenth round when Referee Ruby Goldstein stepped in and ended it, with Turpin apparently helpless on the ropes. Kitchen Pass Window Will Save Many Steps

A pass window between the dining room and the kitchen is a device which will be loudly applauded by many housewives when they realize all the foot-saving it will offer them. The window can be equipped with a Venetian blind which is decorative as well as practical in harmonizing colors and will eliminate view of the kitchen when it is not necessary. Bamboo shades, too, will work out very well in certain settings. A revolving counter top will swing dishes from room to room.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Railroads provided most of the force behind today's advancing stock market.

The carriers were joined by a wide list of metals—gold, copper, zinc, and aluminum.

There were plenty of backward areas, and a lot of scattered minus signs, that exercised a restraining influence on the market as a whole.

Rail leaders held their gains below a dollar a share as a general rule, but there was no such ceiling in the metal section where the advance extended to as much as $6 at the outside with gains frequent in the $1 to $3 range.

Losses were mostly measured in a matter of a few cents and cropped up in steels, motors, utilities, chemicals, oils, air lines, and motion pictures. These divisions as a whole, however, were on the higher side.

The upswing of the market took off from yesterday's new 1951 high of $99.90 in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks.

This is the 12th day the market has advanced with only one setback — last Tuesday — and many Wall Street technicians are pointing to the possibility of a more extended correction in the market simply because it has soared ahead for a considerable time without going through the usual reaction. While they are flying these warning signals, however, the bullish side of Wall Street is still the most crowded for the longterm.

Reserves Decision

Supreme Court Justice Herbert D. Hamm today reserved decision on a motion to compel city officials to place the police and firemen's pay referendum on the ballot on November 6.

The motion was argued before Justice Hamm at a special term of court in Catskill this morning. Attorney Francis Martocci, representing referendum committees of policemen and firemen, appeared in favor of the motion. Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly appeared in opposition.

Justice Hamm indicated he would release his decision as soon as possible, because there is little remaining time for an appeal by either side. The deadline for certifying a referendum to the Board of Elections is September 24.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Railroads provided most of the force behind today's advancing stock market.

The carriers were joined by a wide list of metals—gold, copper, zinc, and aluminum.

There were plenty of backward areas, and a lot of scattered minus signs, that exercised a restraining influence on the market as a whole.

Rail leaders held their gains below a dollar a share as a general rule, but there was no such ceiling in the metal section where the advance extended to as much as $6 at the outside with gains frequent in the $1 to $3 range.

Losses were mostly measured in a matter of a few cents and cropped up in steels, motors, utilities, chemicals, oils, air lines, and motion pictures. These divisions as a whole, however, were on the higher side.

The upswing of the market took off from yesterday's new 1951 high of $99.90 in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks.

This is the 12th day the market has advanced with only one setback — last Tuesday — and many Wall Street technicians are pointing to the possibility of a more extended correction in the market simply because it has spared ahead for a considerable time without going through the usual reaction. While they are flying these warning signals, however, the bullish side of Wall Street is still the most crowded for the longterm.

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Railroads provided most of the force behind today's advancing stock market.

The carriers were joined by a wide list of metals—gold, copper, zinc, and aluminum.

There were plenty of backward areas, and a lot of scattered minus signs, that exercised a restraining influence on the market as a whole.

Rail leaders held their gains below a dollar a share as a general rule, but there was no such ceiling in the metal section where the advance extended to as much as $6 at the outside with gains frequent in the $1 to $3 range.

Losses were mostly measured in a matter of a few cents and cropped up in steels, motors, utilities, chemicals, oils, air lines, and motion pictures. These divisions as a whole, however, were on the higher side.

The upswing of the market took off from yesterday's new 1951 high of $99.90 in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks.

This is the 12th day the market has advanced with only one setback — last Tuesday — and many Wall Street technicians are pointing to the possibility of a more extended correction in the market simply because it has spared ahead for a considerable time without going through the usual reaction. While they are flying these warning signals, however, the bullish side of Wall Street is still the most crowded for the longterm.

Weekly Food Review

Consumers this week faced the prospect of higher prices for beef, even as costs of most other foods dipped slightly below last week's levels.

Trade sources also predicted that egg prices will remain at or near current high levels at least for the next few weeks. Further increases of from two to four cents a dozen for large grade "A" whites have been reported since last week in several large cities.

On the subject of beef prices, Stabilization Director Michael V. Di Salle told a Cleveland packer that every effort would be made by OPS to get out an order this week raising the price of beef at wholesale and retail. The packer had shut down his plant on Monday, saying he was losing $1,000 a day under present ceilings. Di Salle said his aides are working under forced draft, trying to get the order out, but whether this could be done by week's end remained doubtful.

Will Raise Prices

Washington hears that the government will raise beef prices next week enough to balance off declines in hide and tallow prices. That would amount to a price hike of about one cent a pound at wholesale.

Produce markets reported few price changes of interest to food shoppers. The usual seasonal increases for some fruits and vegetables were just about balanced by price drops for others coming into abundant supply. Department of Agriculture experts are hailing egg plant as one of the best buys of the week. The nourishing, protein-rich vegetable is currently plentiful and cheap.

Also lower in price this week are apples, lettuce, peppers, sweet potatoes and corn. Brussels sprouts are appearing in eastern markets in greater volume than before, thanks to a bountiful crop on Long Island and in the Catskill mountains of New York state. White potatoes are slightly higher.

Peas Are Scarce

Peas are scarce and at their highest price in some time. Likewise vanishing from fruit and vegetable counters are blueberries, whose season now is over. Slightly higher prices are being posted for bunched carrots, melons and cantaloupes. Snapbeans, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, onions, cucumbers and pears are holding the line. Beans, peaches, spinach and better tomatoes vary according to location, higher-priced in some places and lower in others, but the changes are mostly narrow.

The big food chains continue to feature poultry as a good buy for the budget-minded housewife, with the turkey gobbler coming into his own in anticipation of Thanksgiving Day. Indications are that a record number of gobblers will be sent to market for the annual Thanksgiving feast. It's reported that nearly 60,000,000 of the big, succulent birds are being fattened for the occasion.

Demand Continues

Demand for beef, veal, lamb and pork continues on the upbeat with the passing of hot weather in many parts of the country. According to the Department of Commerce, American consumers will eat more meat per person for the rest of 1951 than in the same period a year ago—with pork accounting for most of the increase. The department also says total per capital consumption of meat this year will be 13 to 14 per cent greater than in 1950.

Food shoppers may derive some comfort from the news that Dun & Bradstreet, the business research agency, reports its wholesale food price index for the current week is at all-time low for the year. Depresenting the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use, the index stands at $6.79. That's down 7.1 per cent from the February peak but still 1.6 above a year ago.

Sales of frozen orange juice continues to break records, with July sales estimated at 1,756,000 gallons of frozen concentrate—enough to make 7,000,000 gallons or some 220 million four-ounce glasses of juice.

Tuna also is in abundant supply—so abundant, in fact, that California fishermen are clamoring for protection from the growing competition of Japanese and South American fishing fleets.

Cheese is becoming a somewhat painful diplomatic issue, with Danish producers complaining loudly about the U. S. import restrictions contained in Rep. August Andresen's (R-Minn.) rider to the defense production act. Marshall planners who had encouraged the Danes to produce more cheese—and now have to apologize for the import curbs—are developing red faces.

France Curbs Drivers

Paris (AP) — French prefects have been authorized to take away the licenses of drivers guilty of speeding, recklessness or drunken driving. This is another step in France's current campaign to curb reckless driving and reduce the growing number of deaths on the highway. A government decree gives the new power to the prefects, who are the governing officials for the 90-odd departments into which France is divided. France, however, still has no speed limit for its highways.

In 1940, about 23 per cent of the American people lived on farms. This is expected to shrink to about 18 per cent by 1960.

Weekly Food Review

Consumers this week faced the prospect of higher prices for beef, even as costs of most other foods dipped slightly below last week's levels.

Trade sources also predicted that egg prices will remain at or near current high levels at least for the next few weeks. Further increases of from two to four cents a dozen for large grade "A" whites have been reported since last week in several large cities.

On the subject of beef prices, Stabilization Director Michael V. Di Salle told a Cleveland packer that every effort would be made by OPS to get out an order this week raising the price of beef at wholesale and retail. The packer had shut down his plant on Monday, saying he was losing $1,000 a day under present ceilings. Di Salle said his aides are working under forced draft, trying to get the order out, but whether this could be done by week's end remained doubtful.

Will Raise Prices

Washington hears that the government will raise beef prices next week enough to balance off declines in hide and tallow prices. That would amount to a price hike of about one cent a pound at wholesale.

Produce markets reported few price changes of interest to food shoppers. The usual seasonal increases for some fruits and vegetables were just about balanced by price drops for others coming into abundant supply. Department of Agriculture experts are hailing egg plant as one of the best buys of the week. The nourishing, protein-rich vegetable is currently plentiful and cheap.

Also lower in price this week are apples, lettuce, peppers, sweet potatoes and corn. Brussels sprouts are appearing in eastern markets in greater volume than before, thanks to a bountiful crop on Long Island and in the Catskill mountains of New York state. White potatoes are slightly higher.

Peas Are Scarce

Peas are scarce and at their highest price in some time. Likewise vanishing from fruit and vegetable counters are blueberries, whose season now is over. Slightly higher prices are being posted for bunched carrots, melons and cantaloupes. Snapbeans, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, onions, cucumbers and pears are holding the line. Beans, peaches, spinach and better tomatoes vary according to location, higher-priced in some places and lower in others, but the changes are mostly narrow.

The big food chains continue to feature poultry as a good buy for the budget-minded housewife, with the turkey gobbler coming into his own in anticipation of Thanksgiving Day. Indications are that a record number of gobblers will be sent to market for the annual Thanksgiving feast. It's reported that nearly 60,000,000 of the big, succulent birds are being fattened for the occasion.

Demand Continues

Demand for beef, veal, lamb and pork continues on the upbeat with the passing of hot weather in many parts of the country. According to the Department of Commerce, American consumers will eat more meat per person for the rest of 1951 than in the same period a year ago—with pork accounting for most of the increase. The department also says total per capital consumption of meat this year will be 13 to 14 per cent greater than in 1950.

Food shoppers may derive some comfort from the news that Dun & Bradstreet, the business research agency, reports its wholesale food price index for the current week is at all-time low for the year. Pepresenting the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use, the index stands at $6.79. That's down 7.1 per cent from the February peak but still 1.6 above a year ago.

Sales of frozen orange juice continues to break records, with July sales estimated at 1,756,000 gallons of frozen concentrate—enough to make 7,000,000 gallons or some 220 million four-ounce glasses of juice.

Tuna also is in abundant supply—so abundant, in fact, that California fishermen are clamoring for protection from the growing competition of Japanese and South American fishing fleets.

Cheese is becoming a somewhat painful diplomatic issue, with Danish producers complaining loudly about the U. S. import restrictions contained in Rep. August Andresen's (R-Minn.) rider to the defense production act. Marshall planners who had encouraged the Danes to produce more cheese—and now have to apologize for the import curbs—are developing red faces.

France Curbs Drivers

Paris (AP) — French prefects have been authorized to take away the licenses of drivers guilty of speeding, recklessness or drunken driving. This is another step in France's current campaign to curb reckless driving and reduce the growing number of deaths on the highway. A government decree gives the new power to the prefects, who are the governing officials for the 90-odd departments into which France is divided. France, however, still has no speed limit for its highways.

In 1940, about 23 per cent of the American people lived on farms. This is expected to shrink to about 18 per cent by 1960.

The Mature Parent

Children Aren't Fooled By Dishonest Praise

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Somewhere Corky's mother has read that children need parents' praise to inspire them to good conduct. She thinks that this means she should give credit to Corky that he hasn't earned.

At lunch, Corky is annoyed by his mother's refusal to give him another cookie. With his bright brown eyes on her face, he balls his hand into a fist and shoves it deliberately into his mug of milk. As his mother wipes up the milk, she says, "My good little boy didn't mean to spill his milk, did he? No, Corky just made a mistake."

Corky doesn't react the way he should to this praise. He pushes his mother away when she tries to kss him and is cross and out of temper all afternoon.

At five, Corky doesn't know anything about psychology, but his intuition is pretty acute. He knows that he did not feel like a good little boy when he spilled his milk. He knows that spilling it was not a mistake.

He feels that there's something wrong about his mother's insistence that he felt love for her when he felt something quite different. He senses that she is exerting some funny kind of pressure on him. Although he doesn't know it, Corky resents being flattered into believing something about himself that isn't true.

"Praise," says my dictionary, "is honor rendered for excellence and worth."

"Flattery," says the same dictionary, "is the attempt to gratify vanity by artful or deceitful commendation."

Like us, children soon learn to distrust praise that is artful and dishonest. If we insist on praising what is unpraiseworthy, our flattery will soon lose its incentive value to better effort.

DON'T PLAY GAMES WITH DISHONESTY

What exactly do we do when we credit a youngster with feeling amiable when he feels resentful? I think we invade his right to be himself unforgivably. I think that to try to manipulate a child's emotions by calling his anger love is a form of mental aggression that we cannot possibly justify.

A child who feels anger has a right to his emotion. If we want to help him rid himself of his anger, we should do so honestly and openly, so that he knows what's going on.

We have no right whatever to use psychological or any other kind of tricks on him to try to make him think that he does not feel what he really feels.

If this world could dispose of anger by calling it love, life would be a lot simpler for us all. If we have anger in a child to meet, we should call it by its right name to ourselves and to him.

We do not get rid of anger by pretending that it doesn't exist. We get rid of it by taking the time to prove to our youngster that his anger against us is baseless and unjust.

If we are tempted to try to flatter youngsters into being good, we should remember our own reactions to people who give us unearned praise. Do we trust them? Do we respect their judgment? Or do we write them off as people with some axe of their own to grind?

Honesty between us and our children is too precious an asset to play games with.

We should certainly praise every effort of children to show themselves truthful, considerate and just. But flatter them for good intentions that do not exist—and sooner or later, they'll get on to the fact that we're fooling them—and ourselves.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

These Two Practice What They Preach

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Bernard Shaw once said: "Those who can, do; those who can't teach." He'd have been stumped at the sight of Peter Leventritt and Dick Kahn winning the Masters' Pair Championship in the recent national bridge tournament because Pete and Dick both teach bridge in the Card School. That's a pair of young men who can practice what they teach.

Leventritt will probably use the hand shown today as a lesson hand in one of his advanced classes. He has a right to use it because it happened to him in the national tournament.

West opened the king of hearts, and Leventritt refused the trick. His reasons for refusing the trick are the most interesting part of the play.

There are eleven top tricks in the North-South hands. The spades cannot break favorably, since one opponent is sure to have at least four spades. The chief hope for the twelfth trick lies, therefore, in a 3-3 break of the missing six diamonds. However, the odds are almost 2 to 1 against such a favorable break.

A good declarer doesn't like to be on the short end of 2 to 1 odds, so Leventritt looked around for another chance to make his contract. The best chance lay in a squeeze. Even if the diamonds failed to break favorably, the contract could be made if the same opponent had four spades and four diamonds, or four spades and all the heart honors, or four diamonds and all the heart honors.

In most squeezes it is necessary to have winning cards for all except one of the tricks when you start to apply the pressure. That's why Leventritt refused the first trick. It left twelve tricks to be played, and he could win eleven of them—which was exactly the position he wanted.

West continued with the queen of hearts, and declarer won with the ace. He next ran his four clubs, discarding a diamond from dummy. He then tried the diamonds, and discovered that West was squeezed.

When the third top diamond was led, West could save only four cards. All four cards had to be spades, since otherwise dummy's fourth spade would become established. West discarded his jack of hearts in the hope that his partner had the ten, but it was no go. Leventritt promptly cashed the ten of hearts and took the rest of the tricks with high spades.

For Beginning Farmers

Lexington, Ky. (AP) — Tobacco with cows or chickens has proved the best combination for beginning farmers who have small acreage, says a University of Kentucky bulletin. The fact that the small farmers could do most of their own work and trade work with neighbors in the harvest season was found to be an advantage. The survey on which the bulletin is based reached the conclusion, however, that farmers who make a success of small places should try to enlarge their holdings.

The Mature Parent

Children Aren't Fooled By Dishonest Praise

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Somewhere Corky's mother has read that children need parents' praise to inspire them to good conduct. She thinks that this means she should give credit to Corky that he hasn't earned.

At lunch, Corky is annoyed by his mother's refusal to give him another cookie. With his bright brown eyes on her face, he balls his hand into a fist and shoves it deliberately into his mug of milk. As his mother wipes up the milk, she says, "My good little boy didn't mean to spill his milk, did he? No, Corky just made a mistake."

Corky doesn't react the way he should to this praise. He pushes his mother away when she tries to kss him and is cross and out of temper all afternoon.

At five, Corky doesn't know anything about psychology, but his intuition is pretty acute. He knows that he did not feel like a good little boy when he spilled his milk. He knows that spilling it was not a mistake.

He feels that there's something wrong about his mother's insistence that he felt love for her when he felt something quite different. He senses that she is exerting some funny kind of pressure on him. Although he doesn't know it, Corky resents being flattered into believing something about himself that isn't true.

"Praise," says my dictionary, "is honor rendered for excellence and worth."

"Flattery," says the same dictionary, "is the attempt to gratify vanity by artful or deceitful commendation."

Like us, children soon learn to distrust praise that is artful and dishonest. If we insist on praising what is unpraiseworthy, our flattery will soon lose its incentive value to better effort.

DON'T PLAY GAMES WITH DISHONESTY

What exactly do we do when we credit a youngster with feeling amiable when he feels resentful? I think we invade his right to be himself unforgivably. I think that to try to manipulate a child's emotions by calling his anger love is a form of mental aggression that we cannot possibly justify.

A child who feels anger has a right to his emotion. If we want to help him rid himself of his anger, we should do so honestly and openly, so that he knows what's going on.

We have no right whatever to use psychological or any other kind of tricks on him to try to make him think that he does not feel what he really feels.

Rules Change Is Being Considered

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—The inquiry into the capsizing of the 45-foot fishing boat Pelican II may lead to revision of an old rule which excludes vessels under 15 tons and less than 65 feet long from coast guard regulations.

This was brought out yesterday after the four-man coast guard board heard additional survivors of the disaster off Montauk Point, when the boat was rolled over by a riptide Sept. 1.

Rear Admiral Louis B. Olson, inquiry board chairman, told newsmen that the coast guard's merchant marine committee will discuss safety questions at its meeting Sept. 28.

Olson said the old tonnage and length rule should be revised, with the regulation based on the number of passengers carried rather than on the size of the craft.

Two survivors who testified at yesterday's hearing said the boat was too crowded.

One, Ben Tasman, of (54 West Shore road) Huntington, N. Y., said that he told the vessel's fare collector he "should have been in jail" because the boat was so overcrowded.

The second witness, Costas Cotelonas, of (65-48 53rd Drive) Maspeth, N. Y., said he stopped fishing because "there were too many lines," and added:

"It (the disaster) was the captain's mistake. He should have taken the boat in at 11 o'clock instead of waiting too long to turn back."

The captain, Edward Carroll, is among the missing.

The inquiry, adjourned for today, resumes tomorrow.

Unsatisfactory Gas Faces Motorists

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 13 (AP)—The nation's motorists are faced with the prospect of unsatisfactory gasoline, a petroleum defense official predicted last night.

C. E. Davis, director of refining of the petroleum administration for defense, issued the warning in an address to the National Petroleum Association.

He said that unless the refining industry is allocated more primary lead and lead scrap, tetraethyl lead needed for the anti-knock quality of gasoline would be drastically curtailed. Allocation plans of the National Production Authority will cut the amount of lead available for motor fuel to 47 per cent of the August level, Davis added.

"This would result in a three-octane number reduction on an average basis across the board," he said. "Such a drastic reduction would mean severe hardship to all refiners and marketeers and also would result in very unsatisfactory performance in a large segment of the automotive fleet of the nation."

Peron Gives Views

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 13 (AP)—President Juan Peron says Argentina has to set up her own "publicity organs" to defend herself against what he calls news distortion by the great news centers of the world. Peron did not further identify the "great news centers" in speaking yesterday at the first Argentine National Congress of Newspapermen. He asserted all news coming into Argentina is distorted and controlled from outside. Person also signed a decree yesterday giving $1,500,000 pesos ($102,000) to the News Vendors Union. The union boycotted the independent newspaper La Prensa in January. The government eventually expropriated the paper, a frequent critic of Peron.

MAKE THIS AMAZING 48 HOUR SPARKLE TEST
Prove to yourself "HOFFMAN is the finest!"

Open a chilled bottle of Hoffman Ginger Ale or Club Soda. Pour a glassful and notice the steady sparkle.

Throw away the cap and put the bottle back in your refrigerator. Deliberately leave the bottle uncapped.

Pour from same uncapped bottle two days later. The drink is still lively due to Hoffman "Captive Carbonation."

Notice the steady sparkle! Even after 48 hours—uncapped—Hoffman still holds its sparkle and fine taste.

CAPTIVE CARBONATION—An exclusive Hoffman process in which natural deep well water is rendered absolutely pure and sterile and united perfectly with carbonation. Hoffman "captive carbonation" in Hoffman Pale Dry Ginger Ale keeps it alive and sparkling in the open bottle 48 hours or longer—brings out the delicate natural flavor of its fine Jamaica Ginger.

In Metropolitan New York* more people say "HOFFMAN is the finest!"

CLUB SODA "Its Steady Sparkle Keeps Drinks Alive"
GINGER ALE "Better as a drink—in a drink"

Do You Remember

BY SOPHIE MILLER

No end of interesting information can be found in book given me by Harry Rigby, Jr., called "Ulster County Under the Dutch" by Augustus H. Van Buren. One item reads: "The Indians had a Tennis-Court near the corner of Hone and Pierpont streets in the city of Kingston. It is mentioned by Thomas Chambers in a letter written in 1658." I once mentioned this several years ago when I did the "Sophia and Joshia" script on the local radio station. Several days later, two little boys came running to me with a complaint. They said they had been digging around there since and couldn't find one arrow-head. But an endless number of arrow-heads have been found in Ulster county and Kingston, and perhaps there are many more still unfound.

Van Buren describes Indian tennis as played with a small ball of deerskin stuffed with hair or moss, or a round piece of wood, with one or two netted rackets somewhat like tennis rackets. Two goals were set up at a distance of several hundred yards from each other. The object of each party was to drive the ball under the goal of the opposing party by means of the racket, without touching it with the hand. Two families, or two tribes played against each other. The game was attended with dancing and feasting, and the stakes ran right. This undoubtedly was the game played at the 'Tennis-Court' mentioned by Chambers at Hone and Pierpont streets. This game was adopted by the Canadians as their national sport, under the name of La Crosse.

So often one sees the poor Indian squaw with a papoose tied to her back, and think of her only in terms of tilling the soil and doing all the labor while her handsome Indian husband is out hunting. It was not so at all. According to Van Buren, some of the clans even had a chieftainess who ruled and governed them well. Her word was law. One of these, Nipapoa, held sway over a band of the Catskills. On her wigwam was painted the figure of a wolf, the totemic emblem of her tribe. She was part owner of Campels Island, lying south of Albany. In 1661, she joined in a deed of the same to Andries Herbertsen and Rutger Jacobsen. In 1677 the chieftainesses, Wawawamis and Mamaroch, joined in a deed to Louis DuBois and his associates of land at New Paltz.

These and other squaws had a voice in the council of the tribe. Even in the weighty matters of war or peace they were consulted. I wonder what would happen to the world today, if the women were consulted in war or peace. For instance, back in 1660, the Esopus chief, Seweckenamo, while engaged in negotiating a treaty of peace with the council at New Amsterdam, stated that he had spoken with the women about it. Had asked them what they thought best and they had answered that they desired peace: "That we may peacefully plant the land and live in peace."

It would be interesting to learn more about the Indian chieftainess. She must have been a remarkable woman to arrive at such a position and hold it among her tribesmen.

Force of a car hitting a stationary object at 60 miles an hour is as great as that of a car falling from a ten-story building.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS — NOBLE YOUTH — By Merrill Blosser

As Pegler Sees It

cealing the names. I said my suspicions were undiminished.

I asked him if Carr had selected Milton D. Stewart as director of research. Dickey said not as far as he knew. Then I told him that Boris Shishkin, of the American Federation of Labor, had written me that "Milton D. Stewart was selected by Mr. Carr as director of research and was responsible for such research material as was obtained from the cooperating governmental agencies."

And I told him that whereas he and Carr said Truman picked the committee or, better say, packed it, Charlie Wilson, the chairman, wrote me that David K. Niles picked the members. Dickey said he didn't know that, either. I am suspending judgment on that statement. These people have been too reticent. If their word proves up on investigation, all right.

I asked Dickey if he knew whether Stewart was a member of Americans for Democratic action. But speaking for himself, he wasn't.

I will give you a little biography of Stewart one day soon. But you can see that we often start months or years behind some questionable business put over on us with a layout of clerics, professors and credulous business executives.

You may begin to understand why our press has fallen down on the task of keeping the people informed on the nature of Social Security and the federal checkoff, adopted from the totalitarian CIO. It is just too much of a job. Not enough reporters. Not enough perserverance. No continuity. And not enough integrity by far.

West Hot Spell Ends

Chicago, Sept. 13 (AP)—The September hot spell ended today over the western two-thirds of the country. But it continued warm and humid in the Gulf states and the eastern third of the country. A band of showers and thunderstorms was reported early today from the eastern Great Lakes region southwestward through the lower Ohio Valley to Eastern Texas. Rain which swept over the central part of the country yesterday was followed by cooler weather. Daytime temperatures east of the Mississippi river ranged from 85-90 in the northern sections and in the low 90's in the southern areas.

cealing the names. I said my suspicions were undiminished.

I asked him if Carr had selected Milton D. Stewart as director of research. Dickey said not as far as he knew. Then I told him that Boris Shishkin, of the American Federation of Labor, had written me that "Milton D. Stewart was selected by Mr. Carr as director of research and was responsible for such research material as was obtained from the cooperating governmental agencies."

And I told him that whereas he and Carr said Truman picked the committee or, better say, packed it, Charlie Wilson, the chairman, wrote me that David K. Niles picked the members. Dickey said he didn't know that, either. I am suspending judgment on that statement. These people have been too reticent. If their word proves up on investigation, all right.

I asked Dickey if he knew whether Stewart was a member of Americans for Democratic action. But speaking for himself, he wasn't

I will give you a little biography of Stewart one day soon. But you can see that we often start months or years behind some questionable business put over on us with a layout of clerics, professors and credulous business executives.

You may begin to understand why our press has fallen down on the task of keeping the people informed on the nature of Social Security and the federal checkoff, adopted from the totalitarian CIO. It is just too much of a job. Not enough reporters. Not enough perserverance. No continuity. And not enough integrity by far.

West Hot Spell Ends

Chicago, Sept. 13 (AP)—The September hot spell ended today over the western two-thirds of the country. But it continued warm and humid in the Gulf states and the eastern third of the country. A band of showers and thunderstorms was reported early today from the eastern Great Lakes region southwestward through the lower Ohio Valley to Eastern Texas. Rain which swept over the central part of the country yesterday was followed by cooler weather. Daytime temperatures east of the Mississippi river ranged from 85-90 in the northern sections and in the low 90's in the southern areas.

cealing the names. I said my suspicions were undiminished.

I asked him if Carr had selected Milton D. Stewart as director of research. Dickey said not as far as he knew. Then I told him that Boris Shishkin, of the American Federation of Labor, had written me that "Milton D. Stewart was selected by Mr. Carr as director of research and was responsible for such research material as was obtained from the cooperating governmental agencies."

And I told him that whereas he and Carr said Truman picked the committee or, better say, packed it, Charlie Wilson, the chairman, wrote me that David K. Niles picked the members. Dickey said he didn't know that, either. I am suspending judgment on that statement. These people have been too reticent. If their word proves up on investigation, all right.

I asked Dickey if he knew whether Stewart was a member of Americans for Democratic action. But speaking for himself, he wasn't

I will give you a little biography of Stewart one day soon. But you can see that we often start months or years behind some questionable business put over on us with a layout of clerics, professors and credulous business executives.

You may begin to understand why our press has fallen down on the task of keeping the people informed on the nature of Social Security and the federal checkoff, adopted from the totalitarian CIO. It is just too much of a job. Not enough reporters. Not enough perserverance. No continuity. And not enough integrity by far.

West Hot Spell Ends

Chicago, Sept. 13 (AP)—The September hot spell ended today over the western two-thirds of the country. But it continued warm and humid in the Gulf states and the eastern third of the country. A band of showers and thunderstorms was reported early today from the eastern Great Lakes region southwestward through the lower Ohio Valley to Eastern Texas. Rain which swept over the central part of the country yesterday was followed by cooler weather. Daytime temperatures east of the Mississippi river ranged from 85-90 in the northern sections and in the low 90's in the southern areas.

Crews Will Seek Bodies of Three

San Francisco, Sept. 13 (AP)—Salvage crews today will comb the mudflats of San Francisco Bay and the mangled wreckage of a giant strato-cruiser airliner for the bodies of three men killed when the huge plane plummeted into shallow water.

The three—two veteran pilots and a flight engineer—were the only ones aboard when the $1,500,000 United Airliners plane went down 20 miles south of here 45 minutes after takeoff from San Francisco airport yesterday.

The plane was ripped and smashed by the impact. Witnesses said the plane looked as if it had been wrung out like a rag by giant hands.

Aboard the ship were two United senior captains, Fred Angstadt of Santa Monica, Calif., and Hugh C. "Pop" Worthington, San Mateo, Calif. The flight engineer was Charles Brogden, Millbrae, Calif.

The two pilots—both of whom joined United in 1932—had gone aloft to check each others' instrument efficiency so as to maintain their ratings as pilots. Both customarily were ground executives with the airline.

By nightfall, searchers had not been able to locate any bodies. However, fragments of bone and flesh were found in the twisted remains of the plane's cockpit. It was presumed the bodies had been thrown into the shallow water around the crash scene.

86 Czechs Can Return to Nation

Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 13 (AP)—American authorities in Germany announced today that 86 Czechs, unwilling passengers on a "freedom train" flight into Germany Tuesday, will be allowed to go back to Czechoslovakia if they want to.

"These persons are now in custody of the U. S. Army, and high commission officials have notified the army to make arrangements for their return," a commission announcement said.

Twenty-five others, including the train's engineer, were in on the plot to drive the train from Prague into Germany instead of stopping at the border station at Asch.

The high commission has granted them political asylum.

The most common leak in the cooling system of an automobile usually occurs at the hose connections.

Crews Will Seek Bodies of Three

San Francisco, Sept. 13 (AP)—Salvage crews today will comb the mudflats of San Francisco Bay and the mangled wreckage of a giant strato-cruiser airliner for the bodies of three men killed when the huge plane plummeted into shallow water.

The three—two veteran pilots and a flight engineer—were the only ones aboard when the $1,500,000 United Airliners plane went down 20 miles south of here 45 minutes after takeoff from San Francisco airport yesterday.

The plane was ripped and smashed by the impact. Witnesses said the plane looked as if it had been wrung out like a rag by giant hands.

Aboard the ship were two United senior captains, Fred Angstadt of Santa Monica, Calif., and Hugh C. "Pop" Worthington, San Mateo, Calif. The flight engineer was Charles Brogden, Millbrae, Calif.

The two pilots—both of whom joined United in 1932—had gone aloft to check each others' instrument efficiency so as to maintain their ratings as pilots. Both customarily were ground executives with the airline.

By nightfall, searchers had not been able to locate any bodies. However, fragments of bone and flesh were found in the twisted remains of the plane's cockpit. It was presumed the bodies had been thrown into the shallow water around the crash scene.

86 Czechs Can Return to Nation

Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 13 (AP)—American authorities in Germany announced today that 86 Czechs, unwilling passengers on a "freedom train" flight into Germany Tuesday, will be allowed to go back to Czechoslovakia if they want to.

"These persons are now in custody of the U. S. Army, and high commission officials have notified the army to make arrangements for their return," a commission announcement said.

Twenty-five others, including the train's engineer, were in on the plot to drive the train from Prague into Germany instead of stopping at the border station at Asch.

The high commission has granted them political asylum.

Mushroom Zoning Session Put Over To September 26

A public hearing conducted by the city zoning board on Tuesday night was adjourned until September 26 so that arrangements could be made to have stenographic minutes taken of testimony on an application to permit the growing of mushrooms in a former bottling plant on McEntee street.

The application for a zoning change was filed by Christopher Ciccarello for property he owns at 43-45 McEntee street. He is seeking the change to permit the Connelly Mushroom Company to continue the growing of mushrooms in that location.

Opponents to the zoning change indicated Tuesday night that they objected to what they claimed was a "stench" resulting from the mushroom growing operation. The hearing was adjourned when requests were made that stenographic minutes be kept of the testimony.

The building, formerly a bottling plant operated by the Hauck Brewing Company, is located in a residential zone, but had been operated under the "non-conformity" provision of the zoning law. That provision, permitted business and industries already operating at the time of the law's passage to continue to operate even though the premises was placed in a residential zone. However, the provision has been construed to limit the premises to the type of business or industry that was actually in operation when the law was adopted.

Appeal to Congress

New York, Sept. 13 (AP) — A group of West Point alumni will ask Congress to act in behalf of the ousted military academy cadets, a New York lawyer said yesterday. He announced an end to the bar group's inquiry, intended to determine whether there was any violation of the rights of the cadets who were ousted for cheating on examinations.

BACK FROM THE WARS . . . SIX YEARS LATE — Garbed in Russian labor clothes, seven Japanese prisoners-of-war arrive in Tokyo via a Russian vessel after more than six years in a Soviet labor camp. This token repatriation of Japanese POWs—of which the Soviet still holds many thousands—is regarded by some observers as a move to conciliate Japan for a possible separate peace treaty with Russia.

Trouble Remains

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP) — Chances for a widespread international movement toward easing trade-hobbling controls on money exchange looked slim to most delegates t the world monetary fund's annual meeting today. The full board of governors of the 50-nation fund took up the relaxation question in a closed session after Britain had asserted in a committee meeting yesterday there is "little chance" of easing its money exchange controls in 1952 or 1953.

Theft of Boats Is Laid to Five Boys

Five rowboats taken from the Marist Preparatory School at West Park Tuesday have been recovered through the efforts of Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenburgh, Identification Officer Arthur Brown and Deputy Sheriff Quinlan of the Dutchess county sheriff's office.

Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock five boys from Wiltwyck School at West Park ran away from the school, stole five rowboats valued at from $80 to $100 each from the boathouse and landing stage on the Hudson river.

After rowing over the river they tied the boats up at Hyde Park and then entered a house some distance away where they took rifles, revolver and ammunition. One of the boys was picked up by Poughkeepsie police later and a revolver was found on him. During the time the boys were at large one of them, according to investigating officers, shot a 22 calibre rifle at one if his companions but fortunately missed him.

The house from which the articles were taken had previously been entered by two of the boys from the school.

The boys were taken to Children's Court where two were held and the other three were released in custody of Wiltwyck School authorities for appearance later.

All five of the missing boats were recovered.

The breakdown on the one million tons was given this way: Wheat: 200,000 tons; barley, 425,000 tons; corn, 300,000 tons, and oats, 75,000 tons.

Super-Priority Established

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The government today set up a super-priority to break production bottlenecks in urgent military and atomic programs. The National Production Authority, announcing its new "DX" priority rating, said it hoped it will break an increasing number of log-jams in which vital military orders are stalled in plants overloaded with other priority orders that are equally entitled to preference.

attended on behalf of the city of Kingston.

Excessiveness Is Charge

The petition of the Town of Ulster, District No. 8, alleges that the tuition charge for non-resident students attending the city schools is excessive. It charges that the $88 tuition fixed in April, 1951, is not based on the Seneca Falls formula for arriving at tuition charges and it is held that if the formula had been followed the tuition charge would not be above the $40 charge made during the last school year.

In presenting his argument in opposition to the charge of $88, LeFever held that the Seneca Falls decision, which forms a basis for arriving at tuition costs had not been followed in this instance. He said the 1949 decision held that in determining the tuition charge "funds disbursed" for services should be used and he held that the Kingston board had not followed this but had used the 1951-'52 budget figures as a basis for arriving at the cost per pupil.

Excludes Other Schools

He argued that the board should have taken into consideration "funds disbursed" and not unknown future costs such as must be contained in the 1951-52 budget. He argued further that only the rental value of buildings "used by the non-resident" pupils could be taken into consideration in figuring costs and he pointed out that Town of Ulster students attended only No. 5, 6, 7, the M.J.M. school, the high school and the vocational school. Other schools did not fit into the picture he argued. He also pointed out that in fixing the $88 cost per pupil, the board had used the 1951-52 budget and that included in that had been included the cost of several units not even used presently for school purposes. LeFever cited the municipal stadium, listed at $10,000; Loughran Park which is owned by the board but now is using for a housing project which is valued at some $30,000 and he also cited the cost of the new Washington school which is included in the budget but which is not yet in use.

Summarizes Objections

In summarizing his objections he cited three: First, the board should have used actual disbursment figures. Second, the board should have used reasonable value of the building and sites actually used by the students of No. 8 Common School District. Third, that all state aid is based on actual expenditures and funds disbursed. As a fourth point, which was referred to in a less strenuous manner, the inclusion of properties not used for school purposes, such as the stadium, the Loughran Park property, and the Washington school, was also referred to as items which could not be considered in arriving at the operating cost figure.

LeFever stated that the board had never used the Seneca Falls formula in computing the non-resident tuition rate and in the past the matter of tuition had been discussed and set at a reasonable figure; that in the past, even at the fate charged, the Kingston schools made money on non-resident pupils. He also argued that the board had been inconsistent in that it had used the 1951-52 budget and not actual figures in that instance but had used average daily attendance for the previous year in taking into consideration state aid.

Corporation Counsel Connelly argued that the board had used the Seneca Falls formula and held that the board has arrived at a proper figure for non-resident pupils.

Commissioner Allen reserved decision and granted both parties time to file additional papers. Chief Counsel Brind of the State Education Department attended the hearing.

Three Escape Death On Railroad Trestle

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 13 (AP)—A 20-year-old blonde and her fiance won a desperate encounter with possible death last night after they were trapped on a trestle by a speeding streamliner.

Miss Edith Forsythe escaped with bruises and scratches by scrambling alongside the tracks while the wheels of the Illinois Central's "City of New Orleans" thundered past.

Her 23-year-old fiance, Robert F. Taylor, was struck by the engine when he turned back to aid her and was hurled into a creek 50 feet below.

A companion, Terry Kirk, 24, leaped from the trestle.

The three said they were so busy firing .22 caliber rifles at targets in the creek they failed to hear the approaching train.

Two Injured Today At Ulster Park

Louis I. Jacobi, 56, and his wife, Nellie Jacobi, of West Esopus, both suffered back injuries this morning when their Chevrolet car was struck on route 9-W at Ulster Park. They were taken to Kingston Hospital.

State Police at Highland investigated and report that Jacobi and his wife, traveling north, had stopped to pick up another passenger when a truck of Raymond Fehsal, Pearl River, driven by William Robertson, 33, of Pearl River, struck the rear of the Chevrolet and pushed it 40 feet up the road.

Fur-Lined Suits Offer Versatility

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York — (NEA) — The woman who wants to make a sound clothes investment for autumn will take more than one look at the suit with a fur-lined, reversible short coat:

She will get, for her money, double wear from the coat. Fur on one side, wool on the other means a coat that is twice as useful. And she will also get a suit that is itself a complete costume, to be worn as such. But further, she'll have the skirt for wear with sweaters, with blouses, with odd jackets.

Handsome tweed in red-and-gray, given wide cuffs and reversible lining of gray muskrat, makes a suit (left) that could be a mainstay through fall and winter. Designed by Seymour Fox, it has wide revers and a fullness that permits deep wrapping. Shoulders are smoothly rounded, lines are sound good taste. A straight skirt in red has a single pleat at front center to allow for walking comfort.

The wrap coat appears again (right) in a suit of wine fleece by this same designer. Here, the lining is black broadtail. There's an edging of the fur for this reversible coat. Cuffs are wide and notched. A front center pleat appears again in the smooth, straight skirt.

Two Go to Albany

Moscow to Pay . . .

U. S. contribution to one-third of the cost.

Every member of the so-called Big Five was given a reduction, except the Russians. Nationalist China and France were reduced from six per cent each to 5.75 per cent and Britain was cut from 11.37 per cent to 10.56. Yugoslavia, formerly of the Moscow bloc, was raised from 0.36 per cent to 0.43 per cent.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie has proposed a net budget of $40,756,000 for 1952, a reduction from the net budget of $42,898,520 for this year. Several delegations in the UN have protested against an increase in organizations and have made a determined effort to start economies.

The whole budget question will come before the General Assembly's finance committee of 60 member nations and will be given a thorough going over.

Lie hopes to save money next year by having the General Assembly and the councils and commissions meet in the new UN headquarters in Manhattan.

Crowd Boos Russian Delegation at Station

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—A crowd of about 400 booed Russia's delegation to the Japanese Peace Treaty Conference in San Francisco as the group arrived at Grand Central terminal yesterday.

A number of epithets were hurled at Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister who headed the 40-member entourage.

Gromyko, when asked for comment on the peace treaty—which was ratified over Russian objections—said, "nothing."

American-Hungarian federation pickets carried signs outside the station. One read: "Gromyko—the foxiest, two-faced diplomat—just arrived."

The Soviet group, along with the Czech and Polish delegations, reportedly have made reservations to sail for home via Le Havre, France, on Saturday.

attended on behalf of the city of Kingston.

Excessiveness Is Charge

The petition of the Town of Ulster, District No. 8, alleges that the tuition charge for non-resident students attending the city schools is excessive. It charges that the $88 tuition fixed in April, 1951, is not based on the Seneca Falls formula for arriving at tuition charges and it is held that if the formula had been followed the tuition charge would not be above the $40 charge made during the last school year.

In presenting his argument in opposition to the charge of $88, LeFever held that the Seneca Falls decision, which forms a basis for arriving at tuition costs had not been followed in this instance. He said the 1949 decision held that in determining the tuition charge "funds disbursed" for services should be used and he held that the Kingston board had not followed this but had used the 1951-'52 budget figures as a basis for arriving at the cost per pupil.

Excludes Other Schools

He argued that the board should have taken into consideration "funds disbursed" and not unknown future costs such as must be contained in the 1951-52 budget. He argued further that only the rental value of buildings "used by the non-resident" pupils could be taken into consideration in figuring costs and he pointed out that Town of Ulster students attended only No. 5, 6, 7, the M.J.M. school, the high school and the vocational school. Other schools did not fit into the picture he argued. He also pointed out that in fixing the $88 cost per pupil, the board had used the 1951-52 budget and that included in that had been included the cost of several units not even used presently for school purposes. LeFever cited the municipal stadium, listed at $10,000; Loughran Park which is owned by the board but now is using for a housing project which is valued at some $30,000 and he also cited the cost of the new Washington school which is included in the budget but which is not yet in use.

Summarizes Objections

In summarizing his objections he cited three: First, the board should have used actual disbursment figures. Second, the board should have used reasonable value of the building and sites actually used by the students of No. 8 Common School District. Third, that all state aid is based on actual expenditures and funds disbursed. As a fourth point, which was referred to in a less strenuous manner, the inclusion of properties not used for school purposes, such as the stadium, the Loughran Park property, and the Washington school, was also referred to as items which could not be considered in arriving at the operating cost figure.

LeFever stated that the board had never used the Seneca Falls formula in computing the non-resident tuition rate and in the past the matter of tuition had been discussed and set at a reasonable figure; that in the past, even at the rate charged, the Kingston schools made money on non-resident pupils. He also argued that the board had been inconsistent in that it had used the 1951-52 budget and not actual figures in that instance but had used average daily attendance for the previous year in taking into consideration state aid.

Corporation Counsel Connelly argued that the board had used the Seneca Falls formula and held that the board has arrived at a proper figure for non-resident pupils.

Commissioner Allen reserved decision and granted both parties time to file additional papers. Chief Counsel Brind of the State Education Department attended the hearing.

Three Escape Death On Railroad Trestle

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 13 (AP)—A 20-year-old blonde and her fiance won a desperate encounter with possible death last night after they were trapped on a trestle by a speeding streamliner.

Miss Edith Forsythe escaped with bruises and scratches by scrambling alongside the tracks while the wheels of the Illinois Central's "City of New Orleans" thundered past.

Her 23-year-old fiance, Robert F. Taylor, was struck by the engine when he turned back to aid her and was hurled into a creek 50 feet below.

A companion, Terry Kirk, 24, leaped from the trestle.

The three said they were so busy firing .22 caliber rifles at targets in the creek they failed to hear the approaching train.

Two Injured Today At Ulster Park

Louis I. Jacobi, 56, and his wife, Nellie Jacobi, of West Esopus, both suffered back injuries this morning when their Chevrolet car was struck on route 9-W at Ulster Park. They were taken to Kingston Hospital.

State Police at Highland investigated and report that Jacobi and his wife, traveling north, had stopped to pick up another passenger when a truck of Raymond Fehsal, Pearl River, driven by William Robertson, 33, of Pearl River, struck the rear of the Chevrolet and pushed it 40 feet up the road.

Fur-Lined Suits Offer Versatility

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York — (NEA) — The woman who wants to make a sound clothes investment for autumn will take more than one look at the suit with a fur-lined, reversible short coat:

She will get, for her money, double wear from the coat. Fur on one side, wool on the other means a coat that is twice as useful. And she will also get a suit that is itself a complete costume, to be worn as such. But further, she'll have the skirt for wear with sweaters, with blouses, with odd jackets.

Handsome tweed in red-and-gray, given wide cuffs and reversible lining of gray muskrat, makes a suit (left) that could be a mainstay through fall and winter. Designed by Seymour Fox, it has wide revers and a fullness that permits deep wrapping. Shoulders are smoothly rounded, lines are sound good taste. A straight skirt in red has a single pleat at front center to allow for walking comfort.

The wrap coat appears again (right) in a suit of wine fleece by this same designer. Here, the lining is black broadtail. There's an edging of the fur for this reversible coat. Cuffs are wide and notched. A front center pleat appears again in the smooth, straight skirt.

Two Go to Albany

Two Kingston men were sent to Albany this morning by Local Board 18, Selective Service System, for pre-induction physical examinations. Names are not released by the local draft board until after induction.

Moscow to Pay . . .

U. S. contribution to one-third of the cost.

Every member of the so-called Big Five was given a reduction, except the Russians. Nationalist China and France were reduced from six per cent each to 5.75 per cent and Britain was cut from 11.37 per cent to 10.56. Yugoslavia, formerly of the Moscow bloc, was raised from 0.36 per cent to 0.43 per cent.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie has proposed a net budget of $40,756,000 for 1952, a reduction from the net budget of $42,898,520 for this year. Several delegations in the UN have protested against an increase in organizations and have made a determined effort to start economies.

The whole budget question will come before the General Assembly's finance committee of 60 member nations and will be given a thorough going over.

Lie hopes to save money next year by having the General Assembly and the councils and commissions meet in the new UN headquarters in Manhattan.

Crowd Boos Russian Delegation at Station

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—A crowd of about 400 booed Russia's delegation to the Japanese Peace Treaty Conference in San Francisco as the group arrived at Grand Central terminal yesterday.

A number of epithets were hurled at Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister who headed the 40-member entourage.

Gromyko, when asked for comment on the peace treaty—which was ratified over Russian objections—said, "nothing."

American-Hungarian federation pickets carried signs outside the station. One read: "Gromyko—the foxiest, two-faced diplomat—just arrived."

The Soviet group, along with the Czech and Polish delegations, reportedly have made reservations to sail for home via Le Havre, France, on Saturday.

New Coats Show Tiny Waist

Photographed in London

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York—(NEA—The fitted coat, done in bulky and shaggy fabrics, is a kind of fashion paradox. Though the fabrics themselves are rough and thickly piled, the coat is deftly manipulated. With tiny waist and full, flowing skirt, it doesn't add pounds to the wearer.

These coats, appearing in the London collections, are shown first in black, again the important daytime color, and second, in the dark grays that are used for all autumn daytime wear and for evening, too. Lapels are intricately manipulated and pockets are designed to accentuate the defined waistline. Braid appears frequently as trim and linings are often in flashing color for contrast.

A fitted coat (left) by Worth of London is in elephant gray long-piled British woolen. This double-breasted top coat has sleeve fullness to the elbow. Sleeves slim down from elbow to wrist. Pockets play up the hip line and emphasize the narrow waist. Skirt has soft, easy fullness.

An overcoat (right) by La Chasse of London is in black. This long hair velour is cut with fitted bodice. Inset godets give added fullness to a skirt that's already full. Cuffed sleeves are narrow; revers are wide and flaring.

Case Settled

An action brought by Perry's Taxi, Inc., against John Q. Ruzzo and Joseph Ruzzo, negligence, was announced settled in County Court today. Harry Gold appeared for plaintiff and Charles W. Jenkins for defendants. There were no cases ready for trial and Judge Cashin adjourned the court until next Monday at 2 o'clock. At that time criminal cases will be heard.

Says Man Is Enemy

Saranac Inn, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore contends that "the greatest enemy to the Adirondacks has been man himself." Moore said last night there should be "more adequate constitutional safeguards" to protect the region. He spoke at the annual dinner of the New York State Savings and Loan League. The dinner ended the league's 63rd annual convention.

BANNER OF GRATITUDE — Shigeru Ebihara, right, a young Japanese lawyer, presents a large Christian flag to officers and men of the carrier U.S.S. Philippine Sea in San Francisco. The flag is a token of Ebihara's gratitude for a $3600 purse given him by the carrier's crew to allow him to continue his studies of Western democracy at the University of Michigan.

Red Daily in Trouble

Brussels (AP)—The Belgian official Communist daily newspaper "Drapeau Rouge" is suffering financial difficulties. Daily articles and boxes call the newspaper's readers to "Help avoid the paper being forced to cease publication." A leaflet inserted in one issue of the Red paper called on "its reader friends" to answer a few questions. Sample: "Would you prefer the paper title in red or black?" Case Says Liberal Loses Sight of American Idea

Annandale-on-Hudson, Sept. 12—Liberals must again clearly recognize the great American Idea as the hope of human beings throughout the world if they are to be fit for leadership, President James H. Case, Jr., declared today in an address opening the 92nd Academic Year of Bard College.

The liberal today is often a tragic figure, he asserted, because he has lost sight of the power of our democratic traditions when confronted with our failures to realize fully and immediately the principles involved.

President Case warned the students not to abdicate their own judgment in coming to decisions; nor, in responding to those with whom they disagree, to indulge in name calling and vigorous responses to clinches, to slogans and to labels; "Slingling mud at conservatives—even at reactionaries—is not the proper mark of either the liberal or the good man." Furthermore the cause of freedom cannot be served effectively "unless you live your own lives with integrity."

The task of the liberal, he declared, is the defense of human rights, a vocation requiring strict adherence and dedication to "the solid and sober moral principle: that no one shall ever use another human being solely as an instrument."

Referring to Bard College, President Case stressed its traditions and practices as expressed in its individualized program, its concern that its students live a real and satisfying life on the campus, and its stand in support of academic freedom for its faculty.

Nine Are Questioned

Catskill, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—State Crime Commission investigators questioned nine persons, including five public officials from Columbia county and Hudson yesterday. The commission is investigating crime and possible political corruption in the county. The assistant counsel of the commission, H. Bartow Farr, Jr., declined to identify the witnesses. The probe began Aug. 28 and is expected to continue through this month.

CORNISH PASTIES ARE DELICIOUS

IRISH PASTIES filled with corned beef and cabbage make a hefty luncheon dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Market Editor

Cornish pasties consist of a round pocket or triangle of flaky pastry with a flavorful meat and vegetable filling inside.

Wives of Cornish miners who came here to mine our copper in the 70's arose early in the morning and baked the pasties for their husbands to take with them to the mines. The husband stuffed the warm package inside his shirt as protection against the winter's cold.

The original pasties were filled will cooked diced pork and beef but any good chopped meat filling such as barbecued beef or cooked pork sausage meat may be used.

An adapted version of the old-time Cornish recipe, here's a suggestion for an Irish filling of corned beef and cabbage. The crisp corn meal crust is an American touch. Serve the individual meat pies on a large platter with a tart crab apple garnish. Pasties keep warm for several hours after they are baked.

Irish Patties
(Adapted from Cornish)
(6 servings)

Filling: One medium potato, diced, 1 cup chopped cabbage, ½ cup chopped onion, 1 twelve-ounce can corned beef, chopped, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons catsup.

Cook diced potato in a small amount of water for 5 minutes. Add cabbage and onion and continue cooking 5 minutes. Drain. Combine all ingredients for the filling thoroughly.

Dough:. Two cups sifted enriched flour, ¾ cup enriched corn meal, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ cup shortening, 1 cup milk.

For the dough sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, mixing lightly only until mixture is dampened. Roll out on lightly floured board to form a rectangle 12 by 18 inches.

Cut into 6 squares; place on baking sheet. Put about 2 tablespoons of filling on each square of dough. Fold over and seal edges. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Applesauce, ready-to-eat cereal, bacon rolls, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cornish pasties, chopped green salad, stewed fresh fruit, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, creamed tuna and peas on toast, parsley boiled potatoes, buttered carrots, whole-wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, deep dish peach pie, hard sauce, coffee, milk.

PROBLEMS OF THE NEWCOMER

A letter today explains: "I'm going to move into a new small town and never having been a newcomer in a town I wonder what my obligations will be. If any of my neighbors or ladies from the church call on me (a) Should I serve tea or refreshments of some kind and (b) are these calls returned?"

(a) If you yourself are having tea, you would, of course, offer some to them. Otherwise, no refreshments are expected. (b) Certainly, within a week if possible.

Oh, Please, No!

Dear Mrs. Post: What is your opinion of the practice of a local shop telephoning a prospective wedding guest, reminding her that certain items have as yet not been chosen to send the bride in question? This certainly suggests that the list of guests are given to the shop!

Answer: I think this is quite the most shocking suggestion that I have ever heard of!

Knit Or Not To Knit?

Dear Mrs. Post: I'd like to know if it is polite for a woman to sit knitting while she pays, or is paid, a visit?

Answer: It is not at all improper if she is able to knit without paying the least attention to her hands and if she is able to understand and reply to everything said to her; and if she is not in the house of a stranger nor talking with a stranger who has come to see her.

Addressing Announcements

Dear Mrs. Post: I'd been doing private duty for some years and in connection with my nursing have met some lovely people. (a) I wondered if it would be in order for me to send them all announcements of my marriage. Or could it be thought presumptuous? (b) Should the announcement be addressed to Mr. and Mrs. or just to the wife?

Answer: (a) Because it incurs no obligation upon the receiver, it is seldom ever improper to send a wedding announcement. (b) Address the announcement to Mr. and Mrs..—

Mother's Crest

Dear Mrs. Post: I have my mother's family crest. Would it be proper to use it on my personal note paper?

Answer: Unfortunately no! Your father's alone is correct.

Boy, 14, Is Slain; Mistaken Identity

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Julian F. Sweeney died yesterday of a bullet wound in the head, a victim of his own good deed and a case of mistaken identity.

At twilight Tuesday the youth, son of a Queens insurance agent, went to the roof of his married sister's home to fix her television aerial. The boy and his sister occupied adjoining apartments.

Neighbors thought the youth was a prowler and called police. Patrolmen Howard Cronin and Robert Peppard answered the alarm. They said they fired four warning shots at Sweeney, but he made a dash down a fire escape.

When he refused to halt, the patrolmen said, they fired again. That time, one bullet found its target.

CORNISH PASTIES ARE DELICIOUS

IRISH PASTIES filled with corned beef and cabbage make a hefty luncheon dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Market Editor

Cornish pasties consist of a round pocket or triangle of flaky pastry with a flavorful meat and vegetable filling inside.

Wives of Cornish miners who came here to mine our copper in the 70's arose early in the morning and baked the pasties for their husbands to take with them to the mines. The husband stuffed the warm package inside his shirt as protection against the winter's cold.

The original pasties were filled will cooked diced pork and beef but any good chopped meat filling such as barbecued beef or cooked pork sausage meat may be used.

An adapted version of the old-time Cornish recipe, here's a suggestion for an Irish filling of corned beef and cabbage. The crisp corn meal crust is an American touch. Serve the individual meat pies on a large platter with a tart crab apple garnish. Pasties keep warm for several hours after they are baked.

Irish Patties
(Adapted from Cornish)
(6 servings)

Filling: One medium potato, diced, 1 cup chopped cabbage, ½ cup chopped onion, 1 twelve-ounce can corned beef, chopped, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons catsup.

Cook diced potato in a small amount of water for 5 minutes. Add cabbage and onion and continue cooking 5 minutes. Drain. Combine all ingredients for the filling thoroughly.

Dough: Two cups sifted enriched flour, ¾ cup enriched corn meal, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ cup shortening, 1 cup milk.

For the dough sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, mixing lightly only until mixture is dampened. Roll out on lightly floured board to form a rectangle 12 by 18 inches.

Cut into 6 squares; place on baking sheet. Put about 2 tablespoons of filling on each square of dough. Fold over and seal edges. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Applesauce, ready-to-eat cereal, bacon rolls, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cornish pasties, chopped green salad, stewed fresh fruit, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, creamed tuna and peas on toast, parsley boiled potatoes, buttered carrots, whole-wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, deep dish peach pie, hard sauce, coffee, milk.

Rosen Art Being Shown at Gallery

Woodstock, Sept. 13—The final show of the season of the Woodstock Artists Association at the Art Gallery is a memorial exhibition of paintings by the late Charles Rosen, not only one of the colony's best-known painters, but a man whose death last year left a wide gap in the ranks of those who helped to make this art center famous. Charles Rosen was an able painter, a youthful bouyant spirit to the end of his 72 years, a continual source of inspiration to young artists and always a fine friend.

Once again a one-man show of his paintings, drawings and pastels is a clear reminder of the power that was in him, of his love for the Hudson valley and the country surrounding Woodstock where he had made his home for so many years. Characteristic and sombre in tone, just as the Catskill country is so often, Quarry Hill and Mountain Stream are impressive as is Road to the Mountain.

Many of Charles Rosen's painting hours were spent along the banks of the Hudson river. All of his river pictures seem to have one identical quality—it was as though he painted the river excursion boats, the tugs, the bridges and the ferry slips from the refreshing viewpoint of a small boy, looking up and at the wonderful activity of one of the greatest rivers in the world. In The Ida, a portrait of one of the most famous of the river boats, the Saugerties night boat which carried its daily cargo of fruit and perhaps stone to the New York markets, there is the nostalgic note of the leisurely past, gone perhaps forever.

The sharply delineated Rondout is yet another aspect of life on the river, while two vibrantly luminous canvases, Spring and Garden Patch depict the countryside in bright mood.

No doubt Charles Rosen was afflicted with the same wild confusion experienced by every resident on a busy Saturday afternoon in the village. He has painted a cubistic version of Village Corner—Woodstock, which is entirely characteristic of the lively town during the frantic summer months.

In the front gallery is the collection of Rosen's sensitive, decorative pastel still lifes, exquisitely handled flower pieces.

One of Charles Rosen's old friends who made a quiet visit to the gallery late one afternoon this week perhaps expressed best what most visitors experience while viewing the show.

"There is," se said, "an air of quiet elegance about this exhibition that it would be difficult to find anywhere else."

The exhibition will remain at the gallery to September 22.

Says Russia More Willing

London, Sept. 13 (AP) — A seven-man British Quaker delegation that visited Moscow in July believes Russia is more willing than before to make friends with the west. The group reported yesterday the "ordinary Russian" is eager for international peace. But, the Quakers said, they could not discover if the Soviet government actually would make "practical contributions" for an East-West agreement. Although finding fault with both sides in the East-West cold war, the Quakers put major blame for increasing tension on the Soviets. The seven were members of an official delegation sent to Russia by the British Society of Friends.

Lower Milk Output In State Forecast Because of Hay

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Milk production in New York soared to 652,000,000 pounds last month, but the output might drop next winer because of a poor quality hay crop.

Vegetable crops in some sections of the state suffered like the hay crop, from weather conditions.

Last month's milk production was five per cent above the August, 1950, total, the State Agriculture Department said yesterday. And, the yield per cow on Sept. 1 was the highest for the date in the 27 years that records have been kept.

However, the department warned that production might dip this winter because of what it called the "distinctly below average" quality of the hay crop.

More Acreage Prepared

More acreage was prepared for grass sileage than ever before, but because of frequent rains during the haying season less than the average amount was cut before the crop became overripe.

The department added that considerable quantities of cut hay had been damaged by rain.

Despite the August milk production record, the output still is running about two per cent behind last year.

During the latter part of August, growing conditions for vegetables varied widely in the state.

In most of western New York there was little rainfall of any significance since mid-July. Rain was needed there for late summer and fall vegetables.

Long Island had rain during August but it came too late to help most fields of late variety potatoes.

In the Hudson Valley region, heavy rains fell during the last half of August and first two days of September.

Experts Coach Film Star In Playing 'Jim Thorpe'

A coaching staff as large as that at many colleges was assembled by Warner Brothers studio to train Burt Lancaster for the title role of the prominent super-athlete in Jim Thorpe—All-American, now appearing at the Kingston Theatre. The feature will be continued through Saturday.

Five well-known athletic figures guided the star in perfecting football, track and baseball form. Lancaster portrays Thorpe during the latter's heydey as a Carlisle Indian School gridiron hero and Olympic decathlon and pentathlon winner.

Also starring in the film are Charles Bickford, Steve Cochran and Phyllis Thaxter.

New Delhi (AP)—India is negotiating for the establishment of a direct radio telephone circuit with Iran and a wireless link with Indo-China, the communications ministry here announced.

Characteristic and sombre in tone, just as the Catskill country is so often, Quarry Hill and Mountain Stream are impressive as is Road to the Mountain.

Many of Charles Rosen's painting hours were spent along the banks of the Hudson river. All of his river pictures seem to have one identical quality—it was as though he painted the river excursion boats, the tugs, the bridges and the ferry slips from the refreshing viewpoint of a small boy, looking up and at the wonderful activity of one of the greatest rivers in the world. Rosen Art Being Shown at Gallery

Woodstock, Sept. 13—The final show of the season of the Woodstock Artists Association at the Art Gallery is a memorial exhibition of paintings by the late Charles Rosen, not only one of the colony's best-known painters, but a man whose death last year left a wide gap in the ranks of those who helped to make this art center famous. Charles Rosen was an able painter, a youthful bouyant spirit to the end of his 72 years, a continual source of inspiration to young artists and always a fine friend.

Once again a one-man show of his paintings, drawings and pastels is a clear reminder of the power that was in him, of his love for the Hudson valley and the country surrounding Woodstock where he had made his home for so many years. Characteristic and sombre in tone, just as the Catskill country is so often, Quarry Hill and Mountain Stream are impressive as is Road to the Mountain.

Many of Charles Rosen's painting hours were spent along the banks of the Hudson river. All of his river pictures seem to have one identical quality—it was as though he painted the river excursion boats, the tugs, the bridges and the ferry slips from the refreshing viewpoint of a small boy, looking up and at the wonderful activity of one of the greatest rivers in the world. In The Ida, a portrait of one of the most famous of the river boats, the Saugerties night boat which carried its daily cargo of fruit and perhaps stone to the New York markets, there is the nostalgic note of the leisurely past, gone perhaps forever.

River derelicts claimed his attention and The Old River Boat, loaned by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Berkowitz is an example of his excursion into impressionism.

The sharply delimated Rondout is yet another aspect of life on the river, while two vibrantly luminous canvases, Spring and Garden Patch depict the countryside in bright mood.

No doubt Charles Rosen was afflicted with the same wild confusion experienced by every resident on a busy Saturday afternoon in the village. He has painted a cubistic version of Village Corner—Woodstock, which is entirely characteristic of the lively town during the frantic summer months.

In the front gallery is the collection of Rosen's sensitive, decorative pastel still lifes, exquisitely handled flower pieces.

One of Charles Rosen's old friends who made a quiet visit to the gallery late one afternoon this week perhaps expressed best what most visitors experience while viewing the show.

"There is," se said, "an air of quiet elegance about this exhibition that it would be difficult to find anywhere else."

The exhibition will remain at the gallery to September 22.

Says Russia More Willing

London, Sept. 13 (AP) — A seven-man British Quaker delegation that visited Moscow in July believes Russia is more willing than before to make friends with the west. The group reported yesterday the "ordinary Russian" is eager for international peace. But, the Quakers said, they could not discover if the Soviet government actually would make "practical contributions" for an East-West agreement. Although finding fault with both sides in the East-West cold war, the Quakers put major blame for increasing tension on the Soviets. The seven were members of an official delegation sent to Russia by the British Society of Friends.

Lower Milk Output In State Forecast Because of Hay

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Milk production in New York soared to 652,000,000 pounds last month, but the output might drop next winer because of a poor quality hay crop.

Vegetable crops in some sections of the state suffered like the hay crop, from weather conditions.

Last month's milk production was five per cent above the August, 1950, total, the State Agriculture Department said yesterday. And, the yield per cow on Sept. 1 was the highest for the date in the 27 years that records have been kept.

However, the department warned that production might dip this winter because of what it called the "distinctly below average" quality of the hay crop.

More Acreage Prepared

More acreage was prepared for grass sileage than ever before, but because of frequent rains during the haying season less than the average amount was cut before the crop became overripe.

The department added that considerable quantities of cut hay had been damaged by rain.

Despite the August milk production record, the output still is running about two per cent behind last year.

During the latter part of August, growing conditions for vegetables varied widely in the state.

In most of western New York there was little rainfall of any significance since mid-July. Rain was needed there for late summer and fall vegetables.

Long Island had rain during August but it came too late to help most fields of late variety potatoes.

In the Hudson Valley region, heavy rains fell during the last half of August and first two days of September.

Experts Coach Film Star In Playing 'Jim Thorpe'

A coaching staff as large as that at many colleges was assembled by Warner Brothers studio to train Burt Lancaster for the title role of the prominent super-athlete in Jim Thorpe—All-American, now appearing at the Kingston Theatre. The feature will be continued through Saturday.

Five well-known athletic figures guided the star in perfecting football, track and baseball form. Lancaster portrays Thorpe during the latter's heydey as a Carlisle Indian School gridiron hero and Olympic decathlon and pentathlon winner.

Also starring in the film are Charles Bickford, Steve Cochran and Phyllis Thaxter.

AAUW Discusses Fall-Winter Plans At Picnic Meeting

Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women discussed its fall and early winter plans Tuesday night during a picnic meeting at Lawton Park with Mrs. Hamilton Boyd, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Forst as hostess chairmen.

Highlight of the evening came when Henry L. Scott, piano-humorist of Concerto for Fun and Carnegie Hall fame, made a personal appearance. The branch elected by popular vote to sponsor Mr. Scott and his music-plus-comedy act for its annual scholarship fund-raising project later in the season.

The meeting was called to order by President Phyllis Craft Smith who introduced four new members and announced three additional committee chairmen.

New members are Miss Elizabeth Dwyer of Mt. St. Vincent College, Mrs. Mary Cowston of Smith College, Miss Bertha Ives of Syracuse University and Mrs. Alan McCorkle of St. Lawrence University. The committee chairmen are Mrs. Willard Walker, vice-president and program chairman; Miss Elma Kullmann, social studies chairman, and Mrs. Arthur J. Laidlaw, arts committee.

Program Discussed

During the meeting committee chairmen introduced and discussed the National AAUW program for the '51-'52 season which will include measures of both national and local importance as federal-state aid to public elementary schools; the use of audio-visual aids in education; national fair trade practice; inflationary control; international student-teacher-professional group exchange and strengthening of the United Nations and its agencies. The latter, it was explained, is partially supported by the permanent observer the AAUW maintains at Lake Success.

Members also heard reports on Saturday's coast-to-coast hookup of the National AAUW's radio broadcast which was based on that organization's part in the international student exchange program. During the broadcast Dr. Susan Riley, national president, and Mrs. Ruth Trion, fellowship chairman, discussed with State Department representatives AAUW accomplishments in the promotion of better international relations by offering women scholars the opportunity to study in the United States.

Mrs. James Betts, chairman of the legislative committee, announced that members will continue Common Council meetings to improve their understanding of municipal government.

Barbara Barberich Becomes the Bride Of George LaTorre

Miss Barbara Winifred Barberich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barberich, 7 DeWitt street, became the bride of George D. LaTorre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick LaTorre, Sunday at 1 p. m. in the Holy Name Church, Wilbur. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph O'Rourke.

Theodore Riccobono was organist and Martin Kelly was soloist. Musical selections included the traditional marches and Ave Maria. The church was decorated with white gladioli.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Yacht Club.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore an ivory satin and lace gown, made with a fitted bodice, V-shaped neckline, long sleeves and a lace trimmed bouffant satin skirt. Her fingertip veil was attached to a lace crown trimmed with seed pearls, and she carried a nosegay of white roses.

Miss Marie LaTorre, sister of the groom, was her honor attendant. Miss LaTorre was dressed in a ballerina-length dress of pink marquisette over aqua taffeta. Her costume was completed with a matching stole, a large picture hat and a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

Serving as bridesmaids were the Misses Janice Goodrich, Dolores McGrane and Dolores LaTorre. Their ballerina-length gowns, in shades of blue-pink, lavender and fuchsia, were made like that of the maid of honor. They wore matching picture hats tied with matching streamers, and carried lavender chrysanthemums.

Linda Campalingo of Amsterdam was flower girl and Thomas Ricker of Woodstock was ringbearer.

Albert, LaTorre, USN, who has just returned from active duty in Korea, was best man for his brother. Ushers were William Barberich, brother of the bride; Gerald LaTorre, brother of the groom; William Trinkle, Port Ewen, and William Serveski, USMC.

Mrs. LaTorre was graduated from Kingston High School and studied costume design and illustration at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn. Mr. LaTorre is an alumnus of Kingston High School and is engaged in cabinet making. Following a wedding trip through New England and Canada, the couple will make their home in Woodstock.

AAUW Discusses Fall-Winter Plans At Picnic Meeting

Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women discussed its fall and early winter plans Tuesday night during a picnic meeting at Lawton Park with Mrs. Hamilton Boyd, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Forst as hostess chairmen.

Highlight of the evening came when Henry L. Scott, piano-humorist of Concerto for Fun and Carnegie Hall fame, made a personal appearance. The branch elected by popular vote to sponsor Mr. Scott and his music-plus-comedy act for its annual scholarship fund-raising project later in the season.

The meeting was called to order by President Phyllis Craft Smith who introduced four new members and announced three additional committee chairmen.

New members are Miss Elizabeth Dwyer of Mt. St. Vincent College, Mrs. Mary Cowston of Smith College, Miss Bertha Ives of Syracuse University and Mrs. Alan McCorkle of St. Lawrence University. The committee chairmen are Mrs. Willard Walker, vice-president and program chairman; Miss Elma Kullmann, social studies chairman, and Mrs. Arthur J. Laidlaw, arts committee.

Program Discussed

During the meeting committee chairmen introduced and discussed the National AAUW program for the '51-'52 season which will include measures of both national and local importance as federal-state aid to public elementary schools; the use of audio-visual aids in education; national fair trade practice; inflationary control; international student-teacher-professional group exchange and strengthening of the United Nations and its agencies. The latter, it was explained, is partially supported by the permanent observer the AAUW maintains at Lake Success.

Members also heard reports on Saturday's coast-to-coast hookup of the National AAUW's radio broadcast which was based on that organization's part in the international student exchange program. During the broadcast Dr. Susan Riley, national president, and Mrs. Ruth Trion, fellowship chairman, discussed with State Department representatives AAUW accomplishments in the promotion of better international relations by offering women scholars the opportunity to study in the United States.

Mrs. James Betts, chairman of the legislative committee, announced that members will continue Common Council meetings to improve their understanding of municipal government.

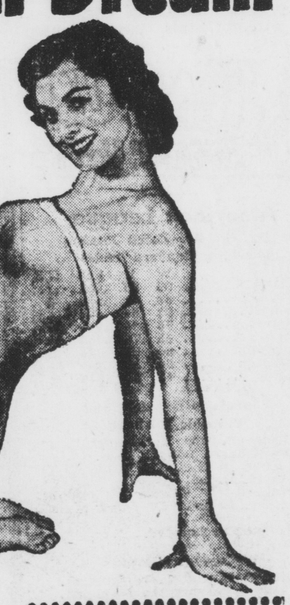
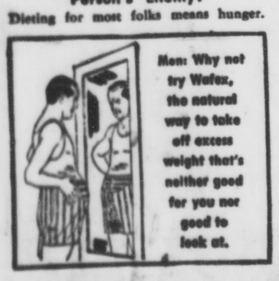
FAT FOLKS! Your Dream Has Come True!
HOW TO LOSE UGLY FAT Without Dieting-Hunger!



NO CALORIE COUNTING! NO DIETS! NO EXERCISES!
If you are a non-glandular overweight man or woman by all means read about this amazing, new, clinically tested medical discovery, that is already creating a sensation all over the country.
Forget all about diets, hunger, calorie counting, massage, drugs, exercise and all other unpleasant, unnecessary things usually associated with reducing.
For a great medical discovery now makes it possible for you to lose pounds of excess fat safely — without dieting, without having a single hungry moment.
Doctors Discover Wafex
Most doctors agree that the best way to lose excess fat is to eat less — to go on a restricted diet. A group of New York doctors, making a special study of obesity, realized however that while dieting was desirable it wasn't as easy or as simple as it sounds for most overweight people.
Hunger—The Fat Person's Enemy!
Dieting for most folks means hunger.



Men: Why not try Wafex, the natural way to take off excess weight that's neither good for you nor good to look at.
WAFEX STOPS HUNGER
This Wafex Wafer has according to scientific calculations, the hunger satisfying capacity of 2 ham sandwiches or 4 eggs or 5 slices of white bread. Yet contains only 5 calories.
And few people can resist hunger. So they appease it by eating between meals, by going off their diets. And back comes the unwanted pounds and inches.
So these New York doctors worked for years searching for a formula that would lick hunger and make people lose fat safely without dieting. They finally announced success in a food adjunct called WAFEX.
Clinical Tests Proved Their Discovery
The doctors clinically tested WAFEX on a large group of normal, healthy overweight men and women.
The group undergoing the tests were instructed by the doctors to chew or suck a tasty WAFEX Wafer half an hour before each meal, but not to go on any special diet, not to cut out any special foods — just sit down at the table and eat until satisfied.
Results Amazing!

FAT FOLKS! Your Dream Has Come True!
HOW TO LOSE UGLY FAT Without Dieting-Hunger!

NO CALORIE COUNTING! NO DIETS! NO EXERCISES!
If you are a non-glandular overweight man or woman by all means read about this amazing, new, clinically tested medical discovery, that is already creating a sensation all over the country.
Forget all about diets, hunger, calorie counting, massage, drugs, exercise and all other unpleasant, unnecessary things usually associated with reducing.

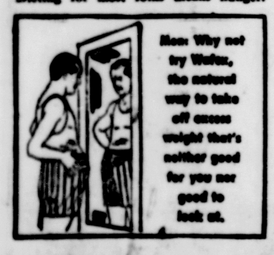
Doctors Discover Wafex
Many doctors agree that the best way to lose excess fat is to eat less – so go on a restricted diet. A group of New York doctors, making a special study of obesity, realized however that while dieting was desirable it wasn't as easy or as simple as it sounds for most overweight people.
Hunger—The Fat Person's Enemy!
Dieting for most folks means hunger.


Now: Why not try Wafex, the natural way to take off excess weight that's neither good for you nor good to look at.
WAFEX STOPS HUNGER

This Wafex Wafer has according to scientific calculations, the hunger satisfying capacity of 2 ham sandwiches or 4 eggs or 5 slices of white bread. Yet contains only 5 calories.
And few people can resist hunger. So they appease it by eating between meals, by going off their diets. And back comes the unwanted pounds and inches.
So these New York doctors worked for years searching for a formula that would lick hunger and make people lose fat safely without dieting. They finally announced success in a food adjunct called WAFEX.
Clinical Tests Proved Their Discovery
The doctors clinically tested WAFEX on a large group of normal, healthy overweight men and women.
The group undergoing the tests were instructed by the doctors to chew or suck a tasty WAFEX Wafer half an hour before each meal, but not to go on any special diet, not to cut out any special foods – just sit down at the table and eat until satisfied.

Protest Board Parley Scheduled Friday

After one of the most ferocious rhubarbs in the recent history of the City League, the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs were still deadlocked this morning at one game apiece for Boulevard Gulf and Jones Dairy.

As it all turned out, Jones Dairy and Boulevard Gulf wound up in a 1-1 tie Wednesday night when the last half inning was played in semi-darkness.

A vehement protest by members of the Boulevards against playing the sixth inning due to darkness went down the drain when Umpire-in-Chief Rivenberg, trying to get in the extra inning, allowed play to continue. In that extra frame, the Dairymen tied the score at 1-all and thus forced the playing of the bottom half of the inning.

Meanwhile, both clubs are gearing themselves for tonight's third game of the series. Game time is set for 6 o'clock at the Athletic Field. Bill Decker is scheduled to hurl for the Boulevards while Sal Misasi will toe the slab for the Dairymen.

Boulevards Take Lead

Boulevards shoved over what appeared to be the winning marker in the bototm half of the fourth when Cliff Schoonmaker reached second as George Brinkman dropped his high fly ball in the left field corner. After Bob Lyons whiffed, Don Lyons cracked a Texas League single over first, about a foot inside the foul line, as Schoonmaker raced home with the big run.

The run looked bigger than ever until the plate umpire okayed the playing of the sixth frame. In fact, it was a rather peaceful evening until then.

With one out in the sixth, Bill Tierney, who only gave up three hits in the game, walked Tommy Carlino for the third time and followed with a free pass to first to Tom Maines. "Daisy" Schatzel then hit to Bob Lyons at third who appeared to have an easy force at third and a possible double-play. Lyons couldn't find the handle on the ball, however, as Carlino raced across with the equalizer.

The only real threat other than the scoring innings came in the second for the Boulevards. With one out, Don Lyons singled, Tierney cracked a single and "Red" Hinkley singled to left center. On Hinkley's drive, Lyons, after rounding third, evidently thought he could coast home but a rifle shot by Tommy Maines into the plate rubbed out runner.

Messinger's Memos: It was too bad the game had to wind up on a sour note. It was one of the best played games of the season and aside from the sparkling pitching of Tierney and Tommy Fisher, both teams came up with fielding gems. Don Jones, Maines, Mike Rienzo and Schatzel to mention a few came up with outstanding plays. Tierney walked Carlino three times but the third time proved fatal. The little giant scored the tying run and deprived Tierney of a win and the Shaughnessy championship . . . After Fisher fanned Tierney to end the game, the Gulfman stormed Umpire Rivenberg and strong words were exchanged by both parties. The rhubarb finally wound up at the secretary's booth with the league secretary in the middle. After considerable argument, it was learned that a meeting of the protest board will be held Friday at 6 p. m. at the City Hall court room, and at 7 p. m., immediately following, a meeting of the league managers will take place. At the meeting of the league pilots the most valuable player will be selected and plans formulated for the annual banquet . . . Now for tonight's game with fingers crossed:

Oneonta Squares Can-Am Series With Late Rally

Gloversville, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Oneonta and Gloversville moved into the Glovers' Park today tied at one game apiece in the Canadian-American League playoff finals.

The pennant-winning Red Sox outlasted the Glovers, 9-8, at Oneonta last night to square the best-of-five series.

The Glovers, who finished the season in fourth place, used five pitchers. Bob Sise, who relieved starter Guy Coleman, was the loser.

The Sox were outhit, 12-9, but bunched four singles in the seventh inning for the two runs that won the game.

The Glovers threatened in the ninth when Sal Stampiglio knocked in two runs on a double, but Pete Caniglia flied out to end the rally.

Jim DiFrederico relieved Oneonta starter Joe Ross in the fifth and gained credit for the win.

Only Coe Remains

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—If anyone had told you that seven Walker Cup stars would be on the sidelines after three days of competition in the 51st National Amateur golf championship, you'd probably have recommended a doctor. But that's just what has happened. Oklahoma City's thin man, Charley Coe, is the only big name golfer left in the tournament. With the exception of bespectacled Harold Paddock, Aurora, O., linksman, all of Coe's Walker Cup team mates, Frank Stranahan, Willie Turnesa, Bobby Knowles, Jimmy McHale, Sam Urzetta, Dick Chapman and Bill Campbell, are on the sidelines.

Buck White, a somewhat obscure member of professional golf's touring circuit, appears to have found the secret at the ripe old age of 39. Since Aug. 19, the smooth-swinging Mississippi veteran has captured two $15,000 open tournaments—the Sioux City Open and the Empire State Open last week-end at the Shaker Ridge Country Club in Albany.

Until those two triumphs, White was just a journeyman worker fighting insurmountable odds against a field that always included the inevitable Sammy Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff, Ben Hogan and the others.

We had the good fortune to follow White around for the last 18 holes of the Empire State Open in company with Joe Kwasney, Wiltwyck Golf Club's 9-iron expert, and Roy Vogt, the former city champion.

White gave us an object lesson on the importance of knocking down those four and five putts under pressure. At least a half dozen times he had to scramble from short approach shots to within that distance from the cup. Never once did he waver and it was a three-footer on the 72nd green that nailed down the victory.

The Shaker Ridge layout does not lend itself to fantastic sub-par totals even when the country's top shooters are on hand for their annual safari. On the contrary, White was even par for 72 holes to win with 284.

As a rule the professional caravan murders the average layout in the various open tournaments, but not Shaker Ridge. This is a 7,000-yard monster from the back tees and par golf does not come cheapiy.

• Sarazen on the Wire:

We had Gene Sarazen on the wire a couple of nights later. The all-time great is trying to lure Robert Trent Jones, the most famous golf architect of our time, to Kingston for the annual inter-club dinner on September 27.

Sarazen, one of golfdom's immortals, inquired about the Shaker Ridge tournament.

"How did Mangrum look?" was his first query.

"Pretty miserable," we said, "first time we ever saw him miffed on a golf course. He was blowing short putts and hitting his woods badly."

"Is there any particular reason why the Empire State Open doesn't attract stars like Snead and Demaret?" we asked.

"Maybe they don't like the course," countered the Squire of Germantown. "Then again, it's quite late in the summer season and some of those guys are tired and weary. Of course, Snead and Demaret don't need that $2400 first place money quite as much as they did, let's say, 10 years ago."

"I had planned to play at Shaker Ridge," he continued," but the course is pretty soggy and it was raining the first two days. I haven't played too much this year but I was quite pleased with myself in the U. S. Open, and the Motor City Open."

"How about those Walker Cuppers getting knocked out so fast in the U. S. Amateur?" we quizzed.

"It doesn't surprise me a bit," said Gene, "that's just about the toughest golf competition in the world. I didn't figure Turnesa was on his game and Stranahan doesn't seem to be able to pull himself together when the pressure is on. He's been experimenting with different grips and swings but he hasn't yet found the secret. I don't think he ever will."

• That Eighteen-Holer Again:

"I wouldn't be surprised if Sam Urzetta and Big Jim McHale of Philadelphia are the finalists. Urzetta has a nicely grooved game and the shots for the Saucon Country Club course."

The conversation switched to Kingston golf and Gene's recent trips here trying to stir up enthusiasm for an 18-hole course.

"I'm sorry to hear that all the plans fell through," said Gene, "but I think you people are making a big mistake. The longer you wait, the costlier it will be. How about that Thruway, isn't that going to take half of one of your golf courses?"

Now that Sarazen had mentioned it, we had to wonder, too.

Ostrander's 7-3 Mark Best Among Colonials

Canepa Work Horse With 208 Innings

Rickie Ostrander, a late comer to the Colonial pitching staff, won seven out of ten starts for Manager Johnny Sosh's tossers to wind up with one of the best winning percentages in the 1951 Can-Am League pennant race.

Ostrander, who pitched a brief stint with Amsterdam in the early part of the season and then transferred to the Border League, appeared in 14 games. He pitched 95 innings, yielding 81 hits; 56 walks and chalking up 33 strikeouts. He had eight complete games and two shutouts.

George Uhaze, who joined the Oneonta Red Sox after the season got under way, blazed through with 16 wins and 3 losses for the top wining percentage of .842. Uhaze was a master workman with 17 complete games in 19 starts; 165 innings during which he permitted only 141 hits, fanned 88 and walked 57.

Paul Aylward of Oneonta won 20 and lost 4, while George McPhail, the Pittsfield Electrics' workhorse, emerged as the top winner with 24 games; five shutouts and 189 strikeouts. In 238 innings, the right hander permitted only 172 hits, walked 97 and fanned 189. He tossed 22 complete games, high in that department.

Canepa Stars

Although he showed a losing record, Vince Canepa, Colonial right hander, had a powerful record for a tailend club. Vince won 9 and lost 14, but worked in 32 games; 208 innings in which he permitted 219 hits; walked 110 and struck out 78. He had 17 complete games and one shutout.

Lopez, Stengel Wax Optimistic As Bosox Creep Closer to Top

Reds Cut Brooklyn Edge to 5½ Games

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Managers Al Lopez of Cleveland and Casey Stengel of New York, recovered from Tuesday's ordeal at the hands of revengebent second divisioners, were beating their chests today and all but predicting the American League pennant.

Lopez, who spent yesterday's off-day playing 18 holes of golf, was especially confident as his Indians moved on to Washington for a night affair.

"Naturally, I hated to lose the second game in Philadelphia," he said. "But I'm not kicking. We're in first place and we all feel we're there to stay."

Stengel, who admitted the Yankees "were awful" in dropping both ends of a double header to the tail-end Browns Tuesday, predicted his team would regain the lead.

The Yankees fell into second place when Cleveland split with the sixth place Athletics and took a full-game lead.

Yanks Not Through—Casey

"We're not through by a long shot," Casey said. "We'll get back to the top. We came back before and we will do it again."

Stengel nominated Ed Lopat (19-7) to pitch against the Detroit Tigers this afternoon. He will be opposed by Virgil Trucks (9-8). Bob Lemon (17-11) will pitch for Cleveland against the Senators' Julio Moreno (4-10).

Lopat and Allie Reynolds are expected to face Lemon and Bob Feller when the Yankees and Indians tangle Sunday and Monday.

While the Indians and Yankees were taking things easy, Boston's third place Red Sox crept closer to the leaders, edging out the Tigers, 2-1. The triumph moved them to within four and a half games of the Tribe.

Bill Wight won the 10-inning hurling duel from Detroit's Ted Gray when Johnny Pesky slammed a one-out triple and scored the deciding run on Clyde Vollmer's long fly.

In the only other American League game, Chicago's White Sox blanked the Senators, 3-0. Billy Pierce stopped the Nats with six hits for his 13th victory. Orestes Minoso drove in two of the victors' runs.

The New York Giants' faint flag hopes were kept alive when Cincinnati slapped a 6-3 defeat upon the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers. The loss cut the Brooks' margin over the Giants to five and a half games.

The Giants were rained out of their scheduled game in St. Louis and will play the game off this afternoon. It is the final game of the year between the two clubs. It took quite a bit of doing to arrange the game since the Cards previously had scheduled a game tonight against the Boston Braves.

As the situation now stands, the Cards will play the Giants in the afternoon and the Braves at night. League President Ford Frick gave the Cards permission to attempt this unprecedented day-and-night doubleheader against two different clubs.

Cooper Blasts Two

Walker Cooper blasted homers Nos. 17 and 18 and batted in five runs to lead the Braves to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Ralph Kiner hammered his 39th home run and added two singles to account for four RBI's and lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-6 triumph over the Philadelphia Phils.

Lloyd Merriman's base-clearing triple in the seventh inning off Carl Erskine broke a 3-3 deadlock and gave Cincy's Ewell Blackwell his 15th triumph. Blackie replaced starter Kenny Raffensberger in the second and pitched two-hit ball in five and two-thirds innings.

Jones-Gulfmen Tilt Winds Up in Heated Rhubarb After 1-1 Tie

Third Game Set Tonight at 6 At Athletic Field

Protest Board Parley Scheduled Friday

After one of the most ferocious rhubarbs in the recent history of the City League, the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs were still deadlocked this morning at one game apiece for Boulevard Gulf and Jones Dairy.

As it all turned out, Jones Dairy and Boulevard Gulf wound up in a 1-1 tie Wednesday night when the last half inning was played in semi-darkness.

A vehement protest by members of the Boulevards against playing the sixth inning due to darkness went down the drain when Umpire-in-Chief Rivenberg, trying to get in the extra inning, allowed play to continue. In that extra frame, the Dairymen tied the score at 1-all and thus forced the playing of the bottom half of the inning.

Meanwhile, both clubs are gearing themselves for tonight's third game of the series. Game time is set for 6 o'clock at the Athletic Field. Bill Decker is scheduled to hurl for the Boulevards while Sal Misasi will toe the slab for the Dairymen.

Boulevards Take Lead

Boulevards shoved over what appeared to be the winning marker in the bototm half of the fourth when Cliff Schoonmaker reached second as George Brinkman dropped his high fly ball in the left field corner. After Bob Lyons whiffed, Don Lyons cracked a Texas League single over first, about a foot inside the foul line, as Schoonmaker raced home with the big run.

The run looked bigger than ever until the plate umpire okayed the playing of the sixth frame. In fact, it was a rather peaceful evening until then.

With one out in the sixth, Bill Tierney, who only gave up three hits in the game, walked Tommy Carlino for the third time and followed with a free pass to first to Tom Maines. "Daisy" Schatzel then hit to Bob Lyons at third who appeared to have an easy force at third and a possible double-play. Lyons couldn't find the handle on the ball, however, as Carlino raced across with the equalizer.

The only real threat other than the scoring innings came in the second for the Boulevards. With one out, Don Lyons singled, Tierney cracked a single and "Red" Hinkley singled to left center. On Hinkley's drive, Lyons, after rounding third, evidently thought he could coast home but a rifle shot by Tommy Maines into the plate rubbed out runner.

Messinger's Memos: It was too bad the game had to wind up on a sour note. It was one of the best played games of the season and aside from the sparkling pitching of Tierney and Tommy Fisher, both teams came up with fielding gems. Don Jones, Maines, Mike Rienzo and Schatzel to mention a few came up with outstanding plays. Tierney walked Carlino three times but the third time proved fatal. The little giant scored the tying run and deprived Tierney of a win and the Shaughnessy championship . . . After Fisher fanned Tierney to end the game, the Gulfman stormed Umpire Rivenberg and strong words were exchanged by both parties. The rhubarb finally wound up at the secretary's booth with the league secretary in the middle. After considerable argument, it was learned that a meeting of the protest board will be held Friday at 6 p. m. at the City Hall court room, and at 7 p. m., immediately following, a meeting of the league managers will take place. At the meeting of the league pilots the most valuable player will be selected and plans formulated for the annual banquet . . . Now for tonight's game with fingers crossed:

Oneonta Squares Can-Am Series With Late Rally

Gloversville, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Oneonta and Gloversville moved into the Glovers' Park today tied at one game apiece in the Canadian-American League playoff finals.

The pennant-winning Red Sox outlasted the Glovers, 9-8, at Oneonta last night to square the best-of-five series.

The Glovers, who finished the season in fourth place, used five pitchers. Bob Sise, who relieved starter Guy Coleman, was the loser.

The Sox were outhit, 12-9, but bunched four singles in the seventh inning for the two runs that won the game.

The Glovers threatened in the ninth when Sal Stampiglio knocked in two runs on a double, but Pete Caniglia flied out to end the rally.

Jim DiFrederico relieved Oneonta starter Joe Ross in the fifth and gained credit for the win.

Only Coe Remains

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—If anyone had told you that seven Walker Cup stars would be on the sidelines after three days of competition in the 51st National Amateur golf championship, you'd probably have recommended a doctor. But that's just what has happened. Oklahoma City's thin man, Charley Coe, is the only big name golfer left in the tournament. With the exception of bespectacled Harold Paddock, Aurora, O., linksman, all of Coe's Walker Cup team mates, Frank Stranahan, Willie Turnesa, Bobby Knowles, Jimmy McHale, Sam Urzetta, Dick Chapman and Bill Campbell, are on the sidelines.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Buck White, a somewhat obscure member of professional golf's touring circuit, appears to have found the secret at the ripe old age of 39. Since Aug. 19, the smooth-swinging Mississippi veteran has captured two $15,000 open tournaments—the Sioux City Open and the Empire State Open last week-end at the Shaker Ridge Country Club in Albany.

Until those two triumphs, White was just a journeyman worker fighting insurmountable odds against a field that always included the inevitable Sammy Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff, Ben Hogan and the others.

We had the good fortune to follow White around for the last 18 holes of the Empire State Open in company with Joe Kwasney, Wiltwyck Golf Club's 9-iron expert, and Roy Vogt, the former city champion.

White gave us an object lesson on the importance of knocking down those four and five putts under pressure. At least a half dozen times he had to scramble from short approach shots to within that distance from the cup. Never once did he waver and it was a three-footer on the 72nd green that nailed down the victory.

The Shaker Ridge layout does not lend itself to fantastic sub-par totals even when the country's top shooters are on hand for their annual safari. On the contrary, White was even par for 72 holes to win with 284.

As a rule the professional caravan murders the average layout in the various open tournaments, but not Shaker Ridge. This is a 7,000-yard monster from the back tees and par golf does not come cheapiy.

● Sarazen on the Wire:

We had Gene Sarazen on the wire a couple of nights later. The all-time great is trying to lure Robert Trent Jones, the most famous golf architect of our time, to Kingston for the annual inter-club dinner on September 27.

Sarazen, one of golfdom's immortals, inquired about the Shaker Ridge tournament.

"How did Mangrum look?" was his first query.

"Pretty miserable," we said, "first time we ever saw him miffed on a golf course. He was blowing short putts and hitting his woods badly."

"Is there any particular reason why the Empire State Open doesn't attract stars like Snead and Demaret?" we asked.

"Maybe they don't like the course," countered the Squire of Germantown. "Then again, it's quite late in the summer season and some of those guys are tired and weary. Of course, Snead and Demaret don't need that $2400 first place money quite as much as they did, let's say, 10 years ago."

"I had planned to play at Shaker Ridge," he continued," but the course is pretty soggy and it was raining the first two days. I haven't played too much this year but I was quite pleased with myself in the U. S. Open, and the Motor City Open."

"How about those Walker Cuppers getting knocked out so fast in the U. S. Amateur?" we quizzed.

"It doesn't surprise me a bit," said Gene, "that's just about the toughest golf competition in the world. I didn't figure Turnesa was on his game and Stranahan doesn't seem to be able to pull himself together when the pressure is on. He's been experimenting with different grips and swings but he hasn't yet found the secret. I don't think he ever will."

● That Eighteen-Holer Again:

"I wouldn't be surprised if Sam Urzetta and Big Jim McHale of Philadelphia are the finalists. Urzetta has a nicely grooved game and the shots for the Saucon Country Club course."

The conversation switched to Kingston golf and Gene's recent trips here trying to stir up enthusiasm for an 18-hole course.

"I'm sorry to hear that all the plans fell through," said Gene, "but I think you people are making a big mistake. The longer you wait, the costlier it will be. How about that Thruway, isn't that going to take half of one of your golf courses?"

Now that Sarazen had mentioned it, we had to wonder, too.

Canepa Work Horse With 208 Innings

Rickie Ostrander, a late comer to the Colonial pitching staff, won seven out of ten starts for Manager Johnny Sosh's tossers to wind up with one of the best winning percentages in the 1951 Can-Am League pennant race.

Ostrander, who pitched a brief stint with Amsterdam in the early part of the season and then transferred to the Border League, appeared in 14 games. He pitched 95 innings, yielding 81 hits; 56 walks and chalking up 33 strikeouts. He had eight complete games and two shutouts.

George Uhaze, who joined the Oneonta Red Sox after the season got under way, blazed through with 16 wins and 3 losses for the top wining percentage of .842. Uhaze was a master workman with 17 complete games in 19 starts; 165 innings during which he permitted only 141 hits, fanned 88 and walked 57.

Paul Aylward of Oneonta won 20 and lost 4, while George McPhail, the Pittsfield Electrics' workhorse, emerged as the top winner with 24 games; five shutouts and 189 strikeouts. In 238 innings, the right hander permitted only 172 hits, walked 97 and fanned 189. He tossed 22 complete games, high in that department.

Canepa Stars

Although he showed a losing record, Vince Canepa, Colonial right hander, had a powerful record for a tailend club. Vince won 9 and lost 14, but worked in 32 games; 208 innings in which he permitted 219 hits; walked 110 and struck out 78. He had 17 complete games and one shutout.

Lopez, Stengel Wax Optimistic As Bosox Creep Closer to Top

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Managers Al Lopez of Cleveland and Casey Stengel of New York, recovered from Tuesday's ordeal at the hands of revengebent second divisioners, were beating their chests today and all but predicting the American League pennant.

Lopez, who spent yesterday's off-day playing 18 holes of golf, was especially confident as his Indians moved on to Washington for a night affair.

"Naturally, I hated to lose the second game in Philadelphia," he said. "But I'm not kicking. We're in first place and we all feel we're there to stay."

Stengel, who admitted the Yankees "were awful" in dropping both ends of a double header to the tail-end Browns Tuesday, predicted his team would regain the lead.

The Yankees fell into second place when Cleveland split with the sixth place Athletics and took a full-game lead.

Yanks Not Through—Casey

"We're not through by a long shot," Casey said. "We'll get back to the top. We came back before and we will do it again."

Stengel nominated Ed Lopat (19-7) to pitch against the Detroit Tigers this afternoon. He will be opposed by Virgil Trucks (9-8). Bob Lemon (17-11) will pitch for Cleveland against the Senators' Julio Moreno (4-10).

Lopat and Allie Reynolds are expected to face Lemon and Bob Feller when the Yankees and Indians tangle Sunday and Monday.

While the Indians and Yankees were taking things easy, Boston's third place Red Sox crept closer to the leaders, edging out the Tigers, 2-1. The triumph moved them to within four and a half games of the Tribe.

Bill Wight won the 10-inning hurling duel from Detroit's Ted Gray when Johnny Pesky slammed a one-out triple and scored the deciding run on Clyde Vollmer's long fly.

In the only other American League game, Chicago's White Sox blanked the Senators, 3-0. Billy Pierce stopped the Nats with six hits for his 13th victory. Orestes Miroso drove in two of the victors' runs.

The New York Giants' faint flag hopes were kept alive when Cincinnati slapped a 6-3 defeat upon the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers. The loss cut the Brooks' margin over the Giants to five and a half games.

The Giants were rained out of their scheduled game in St. Louis and will play the game off this afternoon. It is the final game of the year between the two clubs. It took quite a bit of doing to arrange the game since the Cards previously had scheduled a game tonight against the Boston Braves.

As the situation now stands, the Cards will play the Giants in the afternoon and the Braves at night. League President Ford Frick gave the Cards permission to attempt this unprecedented day-and-night doubleheader against two different clubs.

Cooper Blasts Two

Walker Cooper blasted homers Nos. 17 and 18 and batted in five runs to lead the Braves to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Ralph Kiner hammered his 39th home run and added two singles to account for four RBI's and lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-6 triumph over the Philadelphia Phils.

Lloyd Merriman's base-clearing triple in the seventh inning off Carl Erskine broke a 3-3 deadlock and gave Cincy's Ewell Blackwell his 15th triumph. Blackie replaced starter Kenny Raffensberger in the second and pitched two-hit ball in five and two-thirds innings.

Batting—Walker Cooper, Braves—Hammered his 17th and 18th homers, drove in five runs to lead the Braves to 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Pitching—Bill Wight, Red Sox—Pitched four-hit ball to best Ted Gray in a 10-inning hurling duel as the Red Sox nipped the Tigers, 2-1.

Baltimore—Baby Ortiz, 131¼, Los Angeles, stopped Jimmy McAllister, 131, Baltimore (8).

Jones-Gulfmen Tilt Winds Up in Heated Rhubarb After 1-1 Tie

Third Game Set Tonight at 6 At Athletic Field

Protest Board Parley Scheduled Friday

After one of the most ferocious rhubarbs in the recent history of the City League, the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs were still deadlocked this morning at one game apiece for Boulevard Gulf and Jones Dairy.

As it all turned out, Jones Dairy and Boulevard Gulf wound up in a 1-1 tie Wednesday night when the last half inning was played in semi-darkness.

A vehement protest by members of the Boulevards against playing the sixth inning due to darkness went down the drain when Umpire-in-Chief Rivenberg, trying to get in the extra inning, allowed play to continue. In that extra frame, the Dairymen tied the score at 1-all and thus forced the playing of the bottom half of the inning.

Meanwhile, both clubs are gearing themselves for tonight's third game of the series. Game time is set for 6 o'clock at the Athletic Field. Bill Decker is scheduled to hurl for the Boulevards while Sal Misasi will toe the slab for the Dairymen.

Boulevards Take Lead

Boulevards shoved over what appeared to be the winning marker in the bototm half of the fourth when Cliff Schoonmaker reached second as George Brinkman dropped his high fly ball in the left field corner. After Bob Lyons whiffed, Don Lyons cracked a Texas League single over first, about a foot inside the foul line, as Schoonmaker raced home with the big run.

The run looked bigger than ever until the plate umpire okayed the playing of the sixth frame. In fact, it was a rather peaceful evening until then.

With one out in the sixth, Bill Tierney, who only gave up three hits in the game, walked Tommy Carlino for the third time and followed with a free pass to first to Tom Maines. "Daisy" Schatzel then hit to Bob Lyons at third who appeared to have an easy force at third and a possible double-play. Lyons couldn't find the handle on the ball, however, as Carlino raced across with the equalizer.

The only real threat other than the scoring innings came in the second for the Boulevards. With one out, Don Lyons singled, Tierney cracked a single and "Red" Hinkley singled to left center. On Hinkley's drive, Lyons, after rounding third, evidently thought he could coast home but a rifle shot by Tommy Maines into the plate rubbed out runner.

Messinger's Memos: It was too bad the game had to wind up on a sour note. It was one of the best played games of the season and aside from the sparkling pitching of Tierney and Tommy Fisher, both teams came up with fielding gems. Don Jones, Maines, Mike Rienzo and Schatzel to mention a few came up with outstanding plays. Tierney walked Carlino three times but the third time proved fatal. The little giant scored the tying run and deprived Tierney of a win and the Shaughnessy championship . . . After Fisher fanned Tierney to end the game, the Gulfman stormed Umpire Rivenberg and strong words were exchanged by both parties. The rhubarb finally wound up at the secretary's booth with the league secretary in the middle. After considerable argument, it was learned that a meeting of the protest board will be held Friday at 6 p. m. at the City Hall court room, and at 7 p. m., immediately following, a meeting of the league managers will take place. At the meeting of the league pilots the most valuable player will be selected and plans formulated for the annual banquet . . . Now for tonight's game with fingers crossed:

Oneonta Squares Can-Am Series With Late Rally

Gloversville, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Oneonta and Gloversville moved into the Glovers' Park today tied at one game apiece in the Canadian-American League playoff finals.

The pennant-winning Red Sox outlasted the Glovers, 9-8, at Oneonta last night to square the best-of-five series.

The Glovers, who finished the season in fourth place, used five pitchers. Bob Sise, who relieved starter Guy Coleman, was the loser.

The Sox were outhit, 12-9, but bunched four singles in the seventh inning for the two runs that won the game.

The Glovers threatened in the ninth when Sal Stampiglio knocked in two runs on a double, but Pete Caniglia flied out to end the rally.

Jim DiFrederico relieved Oneonta starter Joe Ross in the fifth and gained credit for the win.

The line score:

Gloverstille ...	003 030 002—8	12	2
Oneonta	300 310 20x—9	9	1

Coleman, Sise (4) (L), Baro, (5), James (7), Barkus (8) and Vogt; Ross, DiFrederico (5) (W) and Atwood.

(Teams tied, 1-1, in best-of-five final series).

Only Coe Remains

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—If anyone had told you that seven Walker Cup stars would be on the sidelines after three days of competition in the 51st National Amateur golf championship, you'd probably have recommended a doctor. But that's just what has happened. Oklahoma City's thin man, Charley Coe, is the only big name golfer left in the tournament. With the exception of bespectacled Harold Paddock, Aurora, O., linksman, all of Coe's Walker Cup team mates, Frank Stranahan, Willie Turnesa, Bobby Knowles, Jimmy McHale, Sam Urzetta, Dick Chapman and Bill Campbell, are on the sidelines.

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Buck White, a somewhat obscure member of professional golf's touring circuit, appears to have found the secret at the ripe old age of 39. Since Aug. 19, the smooth-swinging Mississippi veteran has captured two $15,000 open tournaments—the Sioux City Open and the Empire State Open last week-end at the Shaker Ridge Country Club in Albany.

Until those two triumphs, White was just a journeyman worker fighting insurmountable odds against a field that always included the inevitable Sammy Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff, Ben Hogan and the others.

We had the good fortune to follow White around for the last 18 holes of the Empire State Open in company with Joe Kwasney, Wiltwyck Golf Club's 9-iron expert, and Roy Vogt, the former city champion.

White gave us an object lesson on the importance of knocking down those four and five putts under pressure. At least a half dozen times he had to scramble from short approach shots to within that distance from the cup. Never once did he waver and it was a three-footer on the 72nd green that nailed down the victory.

The Shaker Ridge layout does not lend itself to fantastic sub-par totals even when the country's top shooters are on hand for their annual safari. On the contrary, White was even par for 72 holes to win with 284.

As a rule the professional caravan murders the average layout in the various open tournaments, but not Shaker Ridge. This is a 7,000-yard monster from the back tees and par golf does not come cheaply.

• Sarazen on the Wire:

We had Gene Sarazen on the wire a couple of nights later. The all-time great is trying to lure Robert Trent Jones, the most famous golf architect of our time, to Kingston for the annual inter-club dinner on September 27.

Sarazen, one of golfdom's immortals, inquired about the Shaker Ridge tournament.

"How did Mangrum look?" was his first query.

"Pretty miserable," we said, "first time we ever saw him miffed on a golf course. He was blowing short putts and hitting his woods badly."

"Is there any particular reason why the Empire State Open doesn't attract stars like Snead and Demaret?" we asked.

"Maybe they don't like the course," countered the Squire of Germantown. "Then again, it's quite late in the summer season and some of those guys are tired and weary. Of course, Snead and Demaret don't need that $2400 first place money quite as much as they did, let's say, 10 years ago."

"I had planned to play at Shaker Ridge," he continued," but the course is pretty soggy and it was raining the first two days. I haven't played too much this year but I was quite pleased with myself in the U. S. Open, and the Motor City Open."

"How about those Walker Cuppers getting knocked out so fast in the U. S. Amateur?" we quizzed.

"It doesn't surprise me a bit," said Gene, "that's just about the toughest golf competition in the world. I didn't figure Turnesa was on his game and Stranahan doesn't seem to be able to pull himself together when the pressure is on. He's been experimenting with different grips and swings but he hasn't yet found the secret. I don't think he ever will."

• That Eighteen-Holer Again:

"I wouldn't be surprised if Sam Urzetta and Big Jim McHale of Philadelphia are the finalists. Urzetta has a nicely grooved game and the shots for the Saucon Country Club course."

The conversation switched to Kingston golf and Gene's recent trips here trying to stir up enthusiasm for an 18-hole course.

"I'm sorry to hear that all the plans fell through," said Gene, "but I think you people are making a big mistake. The longer you wait, the costlier it will be. How about that Thruway, isn't that going to take half of one of your golf courses?"

Now that Sarazen had mentioned it, we had to wonder, too.

Canepa Work Horse With 208 Innings

Rickie Ostrander, a late comer to the Colonial pitching staff, won seven out of ten starts for Manager Johnny Sosh's tossers to wind up with one of the best winning percentages in the 1951 Can-Am League pennant race.

Ostrander, who pitched a brief stint with Amsterdam in the early part of the season and then transferred to the Border League, appeared in 14 games. He pitched 95 innings, yielding 81 hits; 56 walks and chalking up 33 strikeouts. He had eight complete games and two shutouts.

George Uhaze, who joined the Oneonta Red Sox after the season got under way, blazed through with 16 wins and 3 losses for the top wining percentage of .842. Uhaze was a master workman with 17 complete games in 19 starts; 165 innings during which he permitted only 141 hits, fanned 88 and walked 57.

Paul Aylward of Oneonta won 20 and lost 4, while George McPhail, the Pittsfield Electrics' workhorse, emerged as the top winner with 24 games; five shutouts and 189 strikeouts. In 238 innings, the right hander permitted only 172 hits, walked 97 and fanned 189. He tossed 22 complete games, high in that department.

Canepa Stars

Although he showed a losing record, Vince Canepa, Colonial right hander, had a powerful record for a tailend club. Vince won 9 and lost 14, but worked in 32 games; 208 innings in which he permitted 219 hits; walked 110 and struck out 78. He had 17 complete games and one shutout.

Lopez, Stengel Wax Optimistic As Bosox Creep Closer to Top

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Managers Al Lopez of Cleveland and Casey Stengel of New York, recovered from Tuesday's ordeal at the hands of revengebent second divisioners, were beating their chests today and all but predicting the American League pennant.

Lopez, who spent yesterday's off-day playing 18 holes of golf, was especially confident as his Indians moved on to Washington for a night affair.

"Naturally, I hated to lose the second game in Philadelphia," he said. "But I'm not kicking. We're in first place and we all feel we're there to stay."

Stengel, who admitted the Yankees "were awful" in dropping both ends of a double header to the tail-end Browns Tuesday, predicted his team would regain the lead.

The Yankees fell into second place when Cleveland split with the sixth place Athletics and took a full-game lead.

Yanks Not Through—Casey

"We're not through by a long shot," Casey said. "We'll get back to the top. We came back before and we will do it again."

Stengel nominated Ed Lopat (19-7) to pitch against the Detroit Tigers this afternoon. He will be opposed by Virgil Trucks (9-8). Bob Lemon (17-11) will pitch for Cleveland against the Senators' Julio Moreno (4-10).

Lopat and Allie Reynolds are expected to face Lemon and Bob Feller when the Yankees and Indians tangle Sunday and Monday.

While the Indians and Yankees were taking things easy, Boston's third place Red Sox crept closer to the leaders, edging out the Tigers, 2-1. The triumph moved them to within four and a half games of the Tribe.

Bill Wight won the 10-inning hurling duel from Detroit's Ted Gray when Johnny Pesky slammed a one-out triple and scored the deciding run on Clyde Vollmer's long fly.

In the only other American League game, Chicago's White Sox blanked the Senators, 3-0. Billy Pierce stopped the Nats with six hits for his 13th victory. Orestes Minoso drove in two of the victors' runs.

The New York Giants' faint flag hopes were kept alive when Cincinnati slapped a 6-3 defeat upon the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers. The loss cut the Brooks' margin over the Giants to five and a half games.

The Giants were rained out of their scheduled game in St. Louis and will play the game off this afternoon. It is the final game of the year between the two clubs. It took quite a bit of doing to arrange the game since the Cards previously had scheduled a game tonight against the Boston Braves.

As the situation now stands, the Cards will play the Giants in the afternoon and the Braves at night. League President Ford Frick gave the Cards permission to attempt this unprecedented day-and-night doubleheader against two different clubs.

Cooper Blasts Two

Walker Cooper blasted homers Nos. 17 and 18 and batted in five runs to lead the Braves to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Ralph Kiner hammered his 39th home run and added two singles to account for four RBI's and lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-6 triumph over the Philadelphia Phils.

Lloyd Merriman's base-clearing triple in the seventh inning off Carl Erskine broke a 3-3 deadlock and gave Cincy's Ewell Blackwell his 15th triumph. Blackie replaced starter Kenny Raffensberger in the second and pitched two-hit ball in five and two-thirds innings.

61,370 Watch Sugar Ray Regain Crown in Dramatic Comeback

Turpin Says Round Should Have Continued

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson was middleweight champion of the world again today, a proud champion of a proud division, after having fought perhaps the greatest battle of his career in stopping Randy Turpin of England in the 10th round of a savage brawl at the Polo Grounds.

Two months and two days after he had lost the crown to the 23-year-old Briton in London, the pride of Harlem came back, bloody and tired, to unleash an onslaught which beat Turpin to the verge of insensibility and forced Referee Ruby Goldstein to spare the short-time title holder further punishment with only eight seconds to go in the final, pulse stirring round last night.

The largest crowd ever to witness a fight in this country outside the heavyweight division—61,370—packed the huge ball yard and poured $767,630.96 into the coffers of the International Boxing Club to watch the peerless Negro score the 120th triumph of his 133-fight career.

The gate was expected to go at least a million dollars with movie and theatre television rights contributing a minimum of $225,000. When all of the returns are in Robinson is expected to pick up about $240,000, his richest purse for his 30-minute workout and Turpin about $200,000.

There was only one small doubt to mar as dramatic a comeback as the ring has seen. Turpin, a gamester and a very fine fighter, thought he should have been permitted to finish that final, desperate round, weather a few more of Sugar Ray's lethal blows, take his rest and come out for the 11th round of the scheduled 15 round battle.

In his dressing room after the fight Turpin declared the referee should not have stopped it.

'Heard Count Clearly'—Randy

"I was perfectly keen," Turpin said. "There were only eight seconds to go in the round and I was covering up. I heard the count clearly and you notice I got up well before it was finished."

Robinson said he didn't want to take any chances with the referee stopping the fight after his left eyebrow had been cut.

"It was do or die," said Sugar Ray, "he hurt me several times but not in the tenth."

But before disaster struck him, what a fight the young man from Old England had put up. Robinson has said he will be glad to meet Randy again in London. They are a brace of evenly matched tigers.

Until that instant when he brought an earth shaking bellow from the great crowd by downing Turpin in the 10th, Sugar Ray had done no better, in this reporter's opinion, than break even against the rugged, powerful youth "booth fighter" from England's carnivals.

Turpin Starts Slowly

Turpin had started slowly and gradually had gathered his strength until just before the end, it appeared he almost certainly would grind Robinson down. Going into the fatal 10th he was jarring Robinson with his awkward, jumping left jab, making the Harlem Hotshot wince with the force of his short blows in close. He was forcing the fight. Men around us were saying "Goodbye Sugar."

Turpin, slammed to the canvas by a right to the jaw, had risen shakily at the count of nine, fallen into the nearest ropes, and taken a brutal beating. Robinson, blood streaming from a cut over his left eye, was trying with everything he had to finish his stubborn foeman.

The avenging Sugar Ray, in his desperate haste, was missing some shots. Turpin obviously was aware of his predicament, and was evading some part of the furious fusillade. But others of Ray's shots, brought from far back with every ounce of his strength, were crunching home, and Goldstein had no way of knowing that one of them might not be the one to send Randy home a badly damaged young fighter, or worse.

At any rate, there should be no serious international dispute about the ending. As a matter of fact, had it been a normal, midweek fight at any point in this country, the referee undoubtedly would have called a halt somewhat sooner than Goldstein did. Turpin was out on his leaden feet, his hands hanging helplessly at his side and only his fighter's brain ticking feebly.

Through the ninth round Goldstein had scored it 4-4-1. Judge Joe Agnello had put it down 5-4 for Robinson, Judge Joseph Barnes 5-3-1 in Sugar Ray's favor. This scorer agreed exactly with Goldstein as that big 10th came around.

Both Were Trying

The small difference in opinion was understandable, for there had been rugged round after rugged round in which the two battlers had met furiously, dug into each others vitals, without either scoring any real advantage. It was an exacting struggle to score with any degree of certainty. The only thing for sure was that both were trying.

By the time the eighth round came around, Turpin plainly was beginning to take the ascendency. His youth was beginning to pay the inevitable dividend. Robinson, 31, looked a little tired. Randy won the eighth by a fair margin, the ninth by a wider one. His expression never once had changed except for an occasional grin at the break of a clinch.

Then came the 10th, and with one of the very first blows of the round Turpin slashed open an inch long cut over Robinson's left eye, right through the eyebrow. It was the same wound Sugar had suffered in their original meeting in London.

Robinson flew at Turpin, throwing both fists, and one clean shot struck the Briton squarely on the jaw, rocketing him against the ropes.

Randy recovered from that one, slipping a flurry of punches, and appeared to be on his way out of danger when the second depth charge landed, this time he hit the canvas, and from the time he wobbled to his feet until, Goldstein took mercy on him, there was no doubt the title would not be going back to England. Robinson weighed 157½, Turpin 159.

Rutgers Improves

Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 13 (AP)—The Rutgers' varsity football team showed considerable improvement both on offense and defense in its second scrimmage with Rider College here yesterday. The passing combination of Walt Laprarie, quarterback from Freeport, N. Y., and End Hal Corizzi of Clifton clicked for the first time this season, with two passes accounting for some 45 yards.

World Record on Line

Westbury, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—A world record will be in jeopardy tonight when 11 of the fastest trotters in the land tangle in the $50,000 Roosevelt two-mile trot at Roosevelt Raceway. The star-studded field is headed by Star's Pride, a four-year-old bay son of Worthy Roy owned by E. Roland Harriman of Goshen, N. Y., and L. B. Sheppard, Hanover, Pa. Star's Pride will be coupled in the betting with Florican, owned by Harriman.

Local Moose Will Help Fete Maglie At Polo Grounds

Members of Kingston Lodge, 970, Loyal Order of Moose, are cooperating with plans to honor Sal Maglie, ace New York Giants pitcher, at the Polo Grounds on Sunday, Sept. 23, Tony Erena announced today.

Maglie, a product of Niagara Falls, will be tendered what some baseball writers and announcers predict, will be one of the "biggest days ever accorded to a major league ball player."

Maglie, who has kept pennant hopes alive for the Giants with his brilliant pitching, became the first pitcher in the National League to win 20 games this season when he defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers last Sunday in Ebbets Field by 2 to 1.

According to present plans, a train caravan will leave Niagara Falls early Sunday morning, September 23, and will pick up more Moose members in Albany and at other points along the way.

Several bus loads also are expected to carry fans to the Polo Grounds for the day.

Heading the preparations for Maglie, a member of the Moose in Niagara Falls, is Dominick Iannuzzi, state chairman. Ray R. Rumpff, regional director of the Moose, also is working closely with the committee on plans to honor Maglie.

The September 23 game at the Polo Grounds with the Boston Braves will be the second last home game on the schedule for Manager Leo Durocher's club. The Braves come into New York for single games Saturday, Sunday and the home season finale on Monday.

Local Moose members interested in attending the ceremonies and game are requested to notify Erena.

The polar bear has been known to swim across a strait that is 40 miles wide.

Boring in for a Comeback

Sugar Ray Robinson (right, in light trunks) started off (and finished) like an aggressor in his comeback fight against England's Randy Turpin at the Polo Grounds. NYPGA Would Expel '200 Mile' Violators

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—The Northeastern New York Professional Golfers' Association has called upon the National PGA to expel any member who violates the "200 mile rule."

The rule provides that any tournament circuit professional who takes part in a public match or exhibition within a 200-mile radius of an approved PGA tournament, while play is on, is subject to a fine or suspension from the circuit.

The northeastern New York group sent a resolution to the national association yesterday asking that such a player be expelled from the PGA. The group asked that the resolution be submitted to the National PGA convention at Chicago in November.

The northeastern group acted after a controversy over the appearance of touring pros in exhibitions at Kimesha Lake, about 125 miles south of here, last week while the Empire State Open golf tournament was in progress in Albany.

Sammy Snead and Jimmy Demaret were scheduled to participate in an exhibition match. The PGA committee invoked the '200 mile rule" at the request of the Empire State Open officials and two other players substituted.

Turpin Says Round Should Have Continued

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson was middleweight champion of the world again today, a proud champion of a proud division, after having fought perhaps the greatest battle of his career in stopping Randy Turpin of England in the 10th round of a savage brawl at the Polo Grounds.

Two months and two days after he had lost the crown to the 23-year-old Briton in London, the pride of Harlem came back, bloody and tired, to unleash an onslaught which beat Turpin to the verge of insensibility and forced Referee Ruby Goldstein to spare the short-time title holder further punishment with only eight seconds to go in the final, pulse stirring round last night.

The largest crowd ever to witness a fight in this country outside the heavyweight division—61,370—packed the huge ball yard and poured $767,630.96 into the coffers of the International Boxing Club to watch the peerless Negro score the 120th triumph of his 133-fight career.

The gate was expected to go at least a million dollars with movie and theatre television rights contributing a minimum of $225,000. When all of the returns are in Robinson is expected to pick up about $240,000, his richest purse for his 30-minute workout and Turpin about $200,000.

There was only one small doubt to mar as dramatic a comeback as the ring has seen. Turpin, a gamester and a very fine fighter, thought he should have been permitted to finish that final, desperate round, weather a few more of Sugar Ray's lethal blows, take his rest and come out for the 11th round of the scheduled 15 round battle.

In his dressing room after the fight Turpin declared the referee should not have stopped it.

'Heard Count Clearly'—Randy

"I was perfectly keen," Turpin said. "There were only eight seconds to go in the round and I was covering up. I heard the count clearly and you notice I got up well before it was finished."

Robinson said he didn't want to take any chances with the referee stopping the fight after his left eyebrow had been cut.

"It was do or die," said Sugar Ray, "he hurt me several times but not in the tenth."

But before disaster struck him, what a fight the young man from Old England had put up. Robinson has said he will be glad to meet Randy again in London. They are a brace of evenly matched tigers.

Until that instant when he brought an earth shaking bellow from the great crowd by downing Turpin in the 10th, Sugar Ray had done no better, in this reporter's opinion, than break even against the rugged, powerful youth "booth fighter" from England's carnivals.

Turpin Starts Slowly

Turpin had started slowly and gradually had gathered his strength until just before the end, it appeared he almost certainly would grind Robinson down. Going into the fatal 10th he was jarring Robinson with his awkward, jumping left jab, making the Harlem Hotshot wince with the force of his short blows in close. He was forcing the fight. Men around us were saying "Goodbye Sugar."

Turpin, slammed to the canvas by a right to the jaw, had risen shakily at the count of nine, fallen into the nearest ropes, and taken a brutal beating. Robinson, blood streaming from a cut over his left eye, was trying with everything he had to finish his stubborn foeman.

The avenging Sugar Ray, in his desperate haste, was missing some shots. Turpin obviously was aware of his predicament, and was evading some part of the furious fusillade. But others of Ray's shots, brought from far back with every ounce of his strength, were crunching home, and Goldstein had no way of knowing that one of them might not be the one to send Randy home a badly damaged young fighter, or worse.

At any rate, there should be no serious international dispute about the ending. As a matter of fact, had it been a normal, midweek fight at any point in this country, the referee undoubtedly would have called a halt somewhat sooner than Goldstein did. Turpin was out on his leaden feet, his hands hanging helplessly at his side and only his fighter's brain ticking feebly.

Through the ninth round Goldstein had scored it 4-4-1. Judge Joe Agnello had put it down 5-4 for Robinson, Judge Joseph Barnes 5-3-1 in Sugar Ray's favor. This scorer agreed exactly with Goldstein as that big 10th came around.

Both Were Trying

The small difference in opinion was understandable, for there had been rugged round after rugged round in which the two battlers had met furiously, dug into each others vitals, without either scoring any real advantage. It was an exacting struggle to score with any degree of certainty. The only thing for sure was that both were trying.

By the time the eighth round came around, Turpin plainly was beginning to take the ascendency. His youth was beginning to pay the inevitable dividend. Robinson, 31, looked a little tired. Randy won the eighth by a fair margin, the ninth by a wider one. His expression never once had changed except for an occasional grin at the break of a clinch.

Then came the 10th, and with one of the very first blows of the round Turpin slashed open an inch long cut over Robinson's left eye, right through the eyebrow. It was the same wound Sugar had suffered in their original meeting in London.

Robinson flew at Turpin, throwing both fists, and one clean shot struck the Briton squarely on the jaw, rocketing him against the ropes.

Randy recovered from that one, slipping a flurry of punches, and appeared to be on his way out of danger when the second depth charge landed, this time he hit the canvas, and from the time he wobbled to his feet until, Goldstein took mercy on him, there was no doubt the title would not be going back to England. Robinson weighed 157½, Turpin 159.

Rutgers Improves

Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 13 (AP)—The Rutgers' varsity football team showed considerable improvement both on offense and defense in its second scrimmage with Rider College here yesterday. The passing combination of Walt Laprarie, quarterback from Freeport, N. Y., and End Hal Corizzi of Clifton clicked for the first time this season, with two passes accounting for some 45 yards.

World Record on Line

Westbury, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—A world record will be in jeopardy tonight when 11 of the fastest trotters in the land tangle in the $50,000 Roosevelt two-mile trot at Roosevelt Raceway. The star-studded field is headed by Star's Pride, a four-year-old bay son of Worthy Roy owned by E. Roland Harriman of Goshen, N. Y., and L. B. Sheppard, Hanover, Pa. Star's Pride will be coupled in the betting with Florican, owned by Harriman.

Local Moose Will Help Fete Maglie At Polo Grounds

Members of Kingston Lodge, 970, Loyal Order of Moose, are cooperating with plans to honor Sal Maglie, ace New York Giants pitcher, at the Polo Grounds on Sunday, Sept. 23, Tony Erena announced today.

Maglie, a product of Niagara Falls, will be tendered what some baseball writers and announcers predict, will be one of the "biggest days ever accorded to a major league ball player."

Maglie, who has kept pennant hopes alive for the Giants with his brilliant pitching, became the first pitcher in the National League to win 20 games this season when he defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers last Sunday in Ebbets Field by 2 to 1.

According to present plans, a train caravan will leave Niagara Falls early Sunday morning, September 23, and will pick up more Moose members in Albany and at other points along the way.

Several bus loads also are expected to carry fans to the Polo Grounds for the day.

Heading the preparations for Maglie, a member of the Moose in Niagara Falls, is Dominick Iannuzzi, state chairman. Ray R. Rumpff, regional director of the Moose, also is working closely with the committee on plans to honor Maglie.

The September 23 game at the Polo Grounds with the Boston Braves will be the second last home game on the schedule for Manager Leo Durocher's club. The Braves come into New York for single games Saturday, Sunday and the home season finale on Monday.

Local Moose members interested in attending the ceremonies and game are requested to notify Erena.

The polar bear has been known to swim across a strait that is 40 miles wide.

Turpin Says Round Should Have Continued

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson was middleweight champion of the world again today, a proud champion of a proud division, after having fought perhaps the greatest battle of his career in stopping Randy Turpin of England in the 10th round of a savage brawl at the Polo Grounds.

Two months and two days after he had lost the crown to the 23-year-old Briton in London, the pride of Harlem came back, bloody and tired, to unleash an onslaught which beat Turpin to the verge of insensibility and forced Referee Ruby Goldstein to spare the short-time title holder further punishment with only eight seconds to go in the final, pulse stirring round last night.

The largest crowd ever to witness a fight in this country outside the heavyweight division—61,370—packed the huge ball yard and poured $767,630.96 into the coffers of the International Boxing Club to watch the peerless Negro score the 120th triumph of his 133-fight career.

The gate was expected to go at least a million dollars with movie and theatre television rights contributing a minimum of $225,000. When all of the returns are in Robinson is expected to pick up about $240,000, his richest purse for his 30-minute workout and Turpin about $200,000.

There was only one small doubt to mar as dramatic a comeback as the ring has seen. Turpin, a gamester and a very fine fighter, thought he should have been permitted to finish that final, desperate round, weather a few more of Sugar Ray's lethal blows, take his rest and come out for the 11th round of the scheduled 15 round battle.

In his dressing room after the fight Turpin declared the referee should not have stopped it.

'Heard Count Clearly'—Randy

"I was perfectly keen," Turpin said. "There were only eight seconds to go in the round and I was covering up. I heard the count clearly and you notice I got up well before it was finished."

Robinson said he didn't want to take any chances with the referee stopping the fight after his left eyebrow had been cut.

"It was do or die," said Sugar Ray, "he hurt me several times but not in the tenth."

But before disaster struck him, what a fight the young man from Old England had put up. Robinson has said he will be glad to meet Randy again in London. They are a brace of evenly matched tigers.

Until that instant when he brought an earth shaking bellow from the great crowd by downing Turpin in the 10th, Sugar Ray had done no better, in this reporter's opinion, than break even against the rugged, powerful youth "booth fighter" from England's carnivals.

Turpin Starts Slowly

Turpin had started slowly and gradually had gathered his strength until just before the end, it appeared he almost certainly would grind Robinson down. Going into the fatal 10th he was jarring Robinson with his awkward, jumping left jab, making the Harlem Hotshot wince with the force of his short blows in close. He was forcing the fight. Men around us were saying "Goodbye Sugar."

Turpin, slammed to the canvas by a right to the jaw, had risen shakily at the count of nine, fallen into the nearest ropes, and taken a brutal beating. Robinson, blood streaming from a cut over his left eye, was trying with everything he had to finish his stubborn foeman.

The avenging Sugar Ray, in his desperate haste, was missing some shots. Turpin obviously was aware of his predicament, and was evading some part of the furious fusillade. But others of Ray's shots, brought from far back with every ounce of his strength, were crunching home, and Goldstein had no way of knowing that one of them might not be the one to send Randy home a badly damaged young fighter, or worse.

At any rate, there should be no serious international dispute about the ending. As a matter of fact, had it been a normal, midweek fight at any point in this country, the referee undoubtedly would have called a halt somewhat sooner than Goldstein did. Turpin was out on his leaden feet, his hands hanging helplessly at his side and only his fighter's brain ticking feebly.

Through the ninth round Goldstein had scored it 4-4-1. Judge Joe Agnello had put it down 5-4 for Robinson, Judge Joseph Barnes 5-3-1 in Sugar Ray's favor. This scorer agreed exactly with Goldstein as that big 10th came around.

Both Were Trying

The small difference in opinion was understandable, for there had been rugged round after rugged round in which the two battlers had met furiously, dug into each others vitals, without either scoring any real advantage. It was an exacting struggle to score with any degree of certainty. The only thing for sure was that both were trying.

By the time the eighth round came around, Turpin plainly was beginning to take the ascendency. His youth was beginning to pay the inevitable dividend. Robinson, 31, looked a little tired. Randy won the eighth by a fair margin, the ninth by a wider one. His expression never once had changed except for an occasional grin at the break of a clinch.

Then came the 10th, and with one of the very first blows of the round Turpin slashed open an inch long cut over Robinson's left eye, right through the eyebrow. It was the same wound Sugar had suffered in their original meeting in London.

Robinson flew at Turpin, throwing both fists, and one clean shot struck the Briton squarely on the jaw, rocketing him against the ropes.

Randy recovered from that one, slipping a flurry of punches, and appeared to be on his way out of danger when the second depth charge landed, this time he hit the canvas, and from the time he wobbled to his feet until, Goldstein took mercy on him, there was no doubt the title would not be going back to England. Robinson weighed 157½, Turpin 159.

Rutgers Improves

Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 13 (AP)—The Rutgers' varsity football team showed considerable improvement both on offense and defense in its second scrimmage with Rider College here yesterday. The passing combination of Walt Laprarie, quarterback from Freeport, N. Y., and End Hal Corizzi of Clifton clicked for the first time this season, with two passes accounting for some 45 yards.

World Record on Line

Westbury, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—A world record will be in jeopardy tonight when 11 of the fastest trotters in the land tangle in the $50,000 Roosevelt two-mile trot at Roosevelt Raceway. The star-studded field is headed by Star's Pride, a four-year-old bay son of Worthy Roy owned by E. Roland Harriman of Goshen, N. Y., and L. B. Sheppard, Hanover, Pa. Star's Pride will be coupled in the betting with Florican, owned by Harriman.

Local Moose Will Help Fete Maglie At Polo Grounds

Members of Kingston Lodge, 970, Loyal Order of Moose, are cooperating with plans to honor Sal Maglie, ace New York Giants pitcher, at the Polo Grounds on Sunday, Sept. 23, Tony Erena announced today.

Maglie, a product of Niagara Falls, will be tendered what some baseball writers and announcers predict, will be one of the "biggest days ever accorded to a major league ball player."

Maglie, who has kept pennant hopes alive for the Giants with his brilliant pitching, became the first pitcher in the National League to win 20 games this season when he defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers last Sunday in Ebbets Field by 2 to 1.

According to present plans, a train caravan will leave Niagara Falls early Sunday morning, September 23, and will pick up more Moose members in Albany and at other points along the way.

Several bus loads also are expected to carry fans to the Polo Grounds for the day.

Heading the preparations for Maglie, a member of the Moose in Niagara Falls, is Dominick Iannuzzi, state chairman. Ray R. Rumpff, regional director of the Moose, also is working closely with the committee on plans to honor Maglie.

The September 23 game at the Polo Grounds with the Boston Braves will be the second last home game on the schedule for Manager Leo Durocher's club. The Braves come into New York for single games Saturday, Sunday and the home season finale on Monday.

Local Moose members interested in attending the ceremonies and game are requested to notify Erena.

The polar bear has been known to swim across a strait that is 40 miles wide.

Boring in for a Comeback

NYPGA Would Expel '200 Mile' Violators

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—The Northeastern New York Professional Golfers' Association has called upon the National PGA to expel any member who violates the "200 mile rule."

The rule provides that any tournament circuit professional who takes part in a public match or exhibition within a 200-mile radius of an approved PGA tournament, while play is on, is subject to a fine or suspension from the circuit.

The northeastern New York group sent a resolution to the national association yesterday asking that such a player be expelled from the PGA. The group asked that the resolution be submitted to the National PGA convention at Chicago in November.

The northeastern group acted after a controversy over the appearance of touring pros in exhibitions at Kimesha Lake, about 125 miles south of here, last week while the Empire State Open golf tournament was in progress in Albany.

Sammy Snead and Jimmy Demaret were scheduled to participate in an exhibition match. The PGA committee invoked the '200 mile rule" at the request of the Empire State Open officials and two other players substituted.

Bradley Cagers 'Will Tell All'

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 13 (AP)—Bradley basketball players Fred Schlictman and Jim Kelly, both involved in point-rigging a game last winter, have agreed to tell a grand jury "exactly what happened and give our stories."

The two players, both juniors last season, yesterday signed immunity waivers and agreed to appear before the Peoria county grand jury now in session.

Two other Bradley players connected with the bribe scandal, Gene Melchiorre and Aaron Preece, have not yet been heard from in regard to a grand jury appearance, state's attorney Michael Shore said.

The four players have admitted participating in a $4,000 payoff by gamblers for rigging point spreads in Bradley's game with Oregon State in Peoria, Dec. 7, 1950.

Evidence against five gamblers who tampered with Bradley players over a two-season period is being prepared by Shore for the grand jury. Shore said foremost among them was Jack West, who recently surrendered to New York police after being indicted by a New York grand jury for basketball bribery.

Unit System Is Merely Using Right Man at Right Time, And Making Use of Bench — Stengel

Third of six dispatches by managers of leading major league club written for NEA Service

By CASEY STENGEL
Yankees' Manager

A player who can do better than the one playing has no business on the bench.

The answer to the so-called platoon system is as simple as that.

Not the least advantage of the unit system is that it keeps those in the dugout on their toes.

Remember that this right and left-hand hitting business doesn't go all the way down the line. All pitching looks alike to Mize, for example. I've used right-hand batting pinch-hitters against right-handers and left-hand hitting pinch-hitters against southpaws. It is the type of hitter and pitcher that determines the move.

Maneuvering players has paid the Yankes rich dividends. There was that afternoon two years ago at Yankee Stadium, when I put Cliff Mapes in right field against the Red Sox because of his superior outfielding and throwing.

With the bases full and one out, the batter hit a line single to right. Johnny Pesky, on third, waited to see if the ball would be caught, It wasn't, but it was fielded perfectly, and Pesky delayed his break for the plate so long that he was actually forced there by Mapes' extraordinary, one-hop throw.

I used to substitute Bill Johnson for Dr. Brown at third because he was a little surer in the field, had a bit better arm and no superior as a tagger. Late in a key game with Cleveland, I put Mapes in right field and Johnson on third.

Lou Boudreau opened the Indians' half of the inning by doubling, and Bobby Avila ran for him.

Next: Leo Durocher of the Giants.

SWITCHMAN — Here is Caricaturist George Scarbo's pitch on Casey Stengel. (NEA)

Student Electrocuted

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 13 (AP)—A Texas Christian University freshman was electrocuted by a kite yesterday. Gerald Wilbur Ottman, 18, was flying his kite with a thin wire in a yard across the street from his home. The kite fell behind a house. The wire struck a 7,200-volt power line. Ottmann apparently was killed instantly.

The peach was first grown in China, and named in Persia.

Unit System Is Merely Using Right Man at Right Time, And Making Use of Bench — Stengel

Third of six dispatches by managers of leading major league club written for NEA Service

By CASEY STENGEL
Yankees' Manager

A player who can do better than the one playing has no business on the bench.

The answer to the so-called platoon system is as simple as that.

Not the least advantage of the unit system is that it keeps those in the dugout on their toes.

The right-hand batting Hank Bauer is our man in right field against left-handers, and we brought the switch-hitting young Mickey Mantle back from Kansas City.

Remember that this right and left-hand hitting business doesn't go all the way down the line. All pitching looks alike to Mize, for example. I've used right-hand batting pinch-hitters against right-handers and left-hand hitting pinch-hitters against southpaws. It is the type of hitter and pitcher that determines the move.

Maneuvering players has paid the Yankees rich dividends. There was that afternoon two years ago at Yankee Stadium, when I put Cliff Mapes in right field against the Red Sox because of his superior outfielding and throwing.

With the bases full and one out, the batter hit a line single to right. Johnny Pesky, on third, waited to see if the ball would be caught. It wasn't, but it was fielded perfectly, and Pesky delayed his break for the plate so long that he was actually forced there by Mapes' extraordinary, one-hop throw.

I used to substitute Bill Johnson for Dr. Brown at third because he was a little surer in the field, had a bit better arm and no superior as a tagger. Late in a key game with Cleveland, I put Mapes in right field and Johnson on third.

Lou Boudreau opened the Indians' half of the inning by doubling, and Bobby Avila ran for him.

The next batter hit a towering fly deep into right field, and Avila tagged up for the sprint to third after the catch.

Mapes threw the Mexican kid out on the fly.

Next: Leo Durocher of the Giants.

SWITCHMAN — Here is Caricaturist George Scarbo's pitch on Casey Stengel. (NEA)

Spring and deep well waters usually are well filtered, but contain large quantities of dissolved salts.

Student Electrocuted

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 13 (AP)—A Texas Christian University freshman was electrocuted by a kite yesterday. Gerald Wilbur Ottman, 18, was flying his kite with a thin wire in a yard across the street from his home. The kite fell behind a house. The wire struck a 7,200-volt power line. Ottmann apparently was killed instantly.

The peach was first grown in China, and named in Persia.

Bradley Cagers 'Will Tell All'

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 13 (AP)—Bradley basketball players Fred Schlictman and Jim Kelly, both involved in point-rigging a game last winter, have agreed to tell a grand jury "exactly what happened and give our stories."

The two players, both juniors last season, yesterday signed immunity waivers and agreed to appear before the Peoria county grand jury now in session.

Two other Bradley players connected with the bribe scandal, Gene Melchiorre and Aaron Preece, have not yet been heard from in regard to a grand jury appearance, state's attorney Michael Shore said.

The four players have admitted participating in a $4,000 payoff by gamblers for rigging point spreads in Bradley's game with Oregon State in Peoria, Dec. 7, 1950.

Evidence against five gamblers who tampered with Bradley players over a two-season period is being prepared by Shore for the grand jury. Shore said foremost among them was Jack West, who recently surrendered to New York police after being indicted by a New York grand jury for basketball bribery.

Unit System Is Merely Using Right Man at Right Time, And Making Use of Bench — Stengel

Third of six dispatches by managers of leading major league club written for NEA Service

By CASEY STENGEL
Yankees' Manager

A player who can do better than the one playing has no business on the bench.

The answer to the so-called platoon system is as simple as that.

Not the least advantage of the unit system is that it keeps those in the dugout on their toes.

Remember that this right and left-hand hitting business doesn't go all the way down the line. All pitching looks alike to Mize, for example. I've used right-hand batting pinch-hitters against right-handers and left-hand hitting pinch-hitters against southpaws. It is the type of hitter and pitcher that determines the move.

Maneuvering players has paid the Yankes rich dividends. There was that afternoon two years ago at Yankee Stadium, when I put Cliff Mapes in right field against the Red Sox because of his superior outfielding and throwing.

With the bases full and one out, the batter hit a line single to right. Johnny Pesky, on third, waited to see if the ball would be caught. It wasn't, but it was fielded perfectly, and Pesky delayed his break for the plate so long that he was actually forced there by Mapes' extraordinary, one-hop throw.

I used to substitute Bill Johnson for Dr. Brown at third because he was a little surer in the field, had a bit better arm and no superior as a tagger. Late in a key game with Cleveland, I put Mapes in right field and Johnson on third.

Lou Boudreau opened the Indians' half of the inning by doubling, and Bobby Avila ran for him.

The next batter hit a towering fly deep into right field, and Avila tagged up for the sprint to third after the catch.

Mapes threw the Mexican kid out on the fly.

SWITCHMAN — Here is Caricaturist George Scarbo's pitch on Casey Stengel. (NEA)

Student Electrocuted

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 13 (AP)—A Texas Christian University freshman was electrocuted by a kite yesterday. Gerald Wilbur Ottman, 18, was flying his kite with a thin wire in a yard across the street from his home. The kite fell behind a house. The wire struck a 7,200-volt power line. Ottmann apparently was killed instantly.

The peach was first grown in China, and named in Persia.

McDonald Is . . .

Donald said he will fight any attempt to restore the bail.

"I want to hold this guy," the prosecutor said.

McDonald, tired and grim, sat in on the proceedings involving his key witness, and then, with several deputies and Gross in tow, drove off from the federal building.

The district attorney would not say where Gross would be kept.

"I'm going to put him under such guard that I'll know where he is when I want him," he said.

McDonald said Assistant District Attorney Julius Helfand would move tomorrow to adjourn the trial of the policeman at least until Monday. It was adjourned until Friday when Gross' disappearance became known yesterday.

The prosecutor motored to Atlantic City, N. J., during the night to bring back the wandering gambler.

McDonald and Gross left Atlantic City about the same time—2:15 a. m. (EST)—but in separate autos.

The district attorney arrived at his Brooklyn office at 5:15 a. m. and—tired out after two nights of hunting Gross—went to sleep.

McDonald said any possible bailing of Gross again will be up to Kings county Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz who ordered the $25,000 bail forfeited.

Gross told the FBI in Atlantic City that he had not fled to avoid testifying against 18 suspended or retired policemen accused of accepting his money to protect the $20,000,000-a-year gambling enterprise. He has told of paying $1,000,000 a year.

The former betting kingpin said he had simply strolled away from his police guard for "a walk in the sun."

Gross was arrested at the Atlantic City racetrack late yesterday as police throughout the nation were hunting him.

Race track and state police made the arrest and turned him over to FBI agents on a federal warrant for his arrest as a fugitive witness.

To Relieve Poison

New York, Sept. 13 (AP) — A new remedy for poison ivy, made of magic metal zirconium, was reported today by the National Lead Company to the closing session of the twelfth International Congress of Pure and Applied Chemistry. Zirconium is a white metal, nearly twice as heavy as iron. It is one of the secret new metals for atomic reactors. For poison ivy, the zirconium, with a carbon compound, is mixed in cold cream.

Postal Authorities

buy the money orders made out to their husbands. The signatures of the husbands were forged and the money orders were converted to American dollars in Hong Kong banks.

U. S. Halted Plot

The U. S. government halted the plot last Jan. 31 by eliminating the postal money order business between the U. S. and the Philippines.

The Communist scheme began in Manila. On May 20, 1950, the Philippines government cracked down on the sale of money orders and U. S. Treasury checks to Chinese merchants at 25 per cent profit.

Manila police on May 28, 1950, arrested four U. S. veterans. They were accused of being key figures in the ring specializing in raising U. S. Treasury checks. One had been boosted from $1.37 to $1,374.44.

The four were identified as Charles Clarance, 46, San Francisco; James Hanley, 25, Akron, Ohio; Walter E. Mason, 25, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Carlos Moore Turner, 25, of Florida.

On Sept. 1 all treasury checks sent to Filipino residents were stamped "payable only at National City Bank in Manila."

The United States in the same month declared an embargo on war materiel passing through Hong Kong.

Speculation grew that the communication might contain a new proposal—or a fresh complaint—from the Communist high command.

Oil Trouble Costly

Tehran, Sept. 13 (AP)—Iran will launch a 2,000,000,000 rial (about $60,000,000) loan drive next week in an effort to relieve economic difficulties stemming from the crisis over nationalization of oil.

Allies Win Another

support of ground troops and long-range bombing forays over North Korea's rail and highway network.

By noon Thursday, the U. S. Fifth Air Force had flown 250 sorties, most of them deep into enemy territory.

Red and allied jets clased high above northwest Korea Wednesday for the fifth straight day. Thirty U. S. Thunderjets tangled with 35 Russian-type Mig-15s in the swirling sky fight. Three Red jets were damaged, raising to 10 the number of Communist planes destroyed or damaged since Sept. 9. An F-84 Thunderjet was shot down Wednesday but the pilot was rescued. It was the only allied loss reported for the five days of jet battles.

The Fifth Air Force said an F-51 Mustang was shot down Wednesday by Red ground fire. A North Korean communique broadcast by Moscow radio claimed the Reds shot down eight allied planes Wednesday.

Allied naval units pounded Red supply lines Wednesday on both the eastern and western coasts of Korea. The U. S. heavy cruiser Toledo came under fire from Red shore batteries at Wonsan on the east coast, but was not hit.

Carrier planes from the Essex and Boxer struck targets beyond the reach of the naval guns.

in the office of the board of public works and there was failure or neglect to repair, remedy or remove the defect, danger or obstruction within a reasonable time after filing such notice."

The wording of the amendment is essentially the same as the existing law (Section 118 as amended) except that the existing law contains a "loophole" providing that, in the absence of written notice, action can be taken if "it appears" that the unsafe condition "existed for so long a period of time that the same should have been discovered and remedied in the exercise of reasonable care and diligence." Under the proposed amendment, there would be no exception to the requirement for a prior written notice.

Jury Will Report On Crime Probe At Port Jervis

Goshen, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—The Orange county grand jury, which has been hearing evidence in an investigation of gambling at Port Jervis, N. Y., will make its report Sept. 18, it was learned today.

The jury also will report on the first degree assault charge against a Middletown judge accused of threatening his former wife with a revolver.

The investigation into the alleged gambling at Port Jervis stems from a request made by Acting Chief of Police John J. Powrie of Port Jervis to Orange County District Attorney Clare D. Hoyt of Newburgh.

Corporal Erwin Croswell of the state police was sent to Port Jervis as a special investigator by Hoyt.

Witnesses who have been called to testify before the grand jury at its inquiry included Chief Powrie, Mayor Lester N. Warner, several aldermen, other city officials and members of the Port Jervis police department.

On Sept. 6 the jury heard evidence against City Judge J. Allan Ballman of Middletown. He was charged with threatening his former wife, Mrs. Gladys Ballman, with a loaded revolver on June 28.

Ballman waived examination before Special County Judge W. Newcomb Calyer of Newburgh and now is at liberty in $1,000 bail.

The former betting kingpin said he had simply strolled away from his police guard for "a walk in the sun."

Gross was arrested at the Atlantic City racetrack late yesterday as police throughout the nation were hunting him.

Race track and state police made the arrest and turned him over to FBI agents on a federal warrant for his arrest as a fugitive witness.

To Relieve Poison

New York, Sept. 13 (AP) — A new remedy for poison ivy, made of magic metal zirconium, was reported today by the National Lead Company to the closing session of the twelfth International Congress of Pure and Applied Chemistry. Zirconium is a white metal, nearly twice as heavy as iron. It is one of the secret new metals for atomic reactors. For poison ivy, the zirconium, with a carbon compound, is mixed in cold cream.

PLASTIC CLIPPER AHOY—Something new on the bounding main is the Navy's new 26-foot plastic whaleboat, said to be three times stronger than its wooden counterparts. This is the hull of new boat being molded in one piece at the Norfolk (Va.) Naval shipyard. The plastic boat is lighter than wood, rot-proof and requires no paint.

buy the money orders made out to their husbands. The signatures of the husbands were forged and the money orders were converted to American dollars in Hong Kong banks.

U. S. Halted Plot

The U. S. government halted the plot last Jan. 31 by eliminating the postal money order business between the U. S. and the Philippines.

The Communist scheme began in Manila. On May 20, 1950, the Philippines government cracked down on the sale of money orders and U. S. Treasury checks to Chinese merchants at 25 per cent profit.

Manila police on May 28, 1950, arrested four U. S. veterans. They were accused of being key figures in the ring specializing in raising U. S. Treasury checks. One had been boosted from $1.37 to $1,374.44.

The four were identified as Charles Clarance, 46, San Francisco; James Hanley, 25, Akron, Ohio; Walter E. Mason, 25, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Carlos Moore Turner, 25, of Florida.

On Sept. 1 all treasury checks sent to Filipino residents were stamped "payable only at National City Bank in Manila."

The United States in the same month declared an embargo on war materiel passing through Hong Kong.

Oil Trouble Costly

Tehran, Sept. 13 (AP)—Iran will launch a 2,000,000,000 rial (about $60,000,000) loan drive next week in an effort to relieve economic difficulties stemming from the crisis over nationalization of oil.

support of ground troops and long-range bombing forays over North Korea's rail and highway network.

By noon Thursday, the U. S. Fifth Air Force had flown 250 sorties, most of them deep into enemy territory.

Red and allied jets clased high above northwest Korea Wednesday for the fifth straight day. Thirty U. S. Thunderjets tangled with 35 Russian-type Mig-15s in the swirling sky fight. Three Red jets were damaged, raising to 10 the number of Communist planes destroyed or damaged since Sept. 9. An F-84 Thunderjet was shot down Wednesday but the pilot was rescued. It was the only allied loss reported for the five days of jet battles.

The Fifth Air Force said an F-51 Mustang was shot down Wednesday by Red ground fire. A North Korean communique broadcast by Moscow radio claimed the Reds shot down eight allied planes Wednesday.

Allied naval units pounded Red supply lines Wednesday on both the eastern and western coasts of Korea. The U. S. heavy cruiser Toledo came under fire from Red shore batteries at Wonsan on the east coast, but was not hit.

Carrier planes from the Essex and Boxer struck targets beyond the reach of the naval guns.

in the office of the board of public works and there was failure or neglect to repair, remedy or remove the defect, danger or obstruction within a reasonable time after filing such notice."

The wording of the amendment is essentially the same as the existing law (Section 118 as amended) except that the existing law contains a "loophole" providing that, in the absence of written notice, action can be taken if "it appears" that the unsafe condition "existed for so long a period of time that the same should have been discovered and remedied in the exercise of reasonable care and diligence." Under the proposed amendment, there would be no exception to the requirement for a prior written notice.

A registrar will be on duty at each of the theatres from 7 until 9:30 p. m. daily from tonight until further notice, Davis said. Registration for all branches of defense activity, such as air raid wardens, auxiliary policemen and firemen, will be accepted.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk will be at the Broadway lobby at 7 o'clock tonight to inaugurate the new resistration service and to congratulate the first volunteer to sign up at that place, Davis announced.

Jury Will Report On Crime Probe At Port Jervis

Goshen, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—The Orange county grand jury, which has been hearing evidence in an investigation of gambling at Port Jervis, N. Y., will make its report Sept. 18, it was learned today.

The jury also will report on the first degree assault charge against a Middletown judge accused of threatening his former wife with a revolver.

The investigation into the alleged gambling at Port Jervis stems from a request made by Acting Chief of Police John J. Powrie of Port Jervis to Orange County District Attorney Clare D. Hoyt of Newburgh.

Corporal Erwin Croswell of the state police was sent to Port Jervis as a special investigator by Hoyt.

Witnesses who have been called to testify before the grand jury at its inquiry included Chief Powrie, Mayor Lester N. Warner, several aldermen, other city officials and members of the Port Jervis police department.

On Sept. 6 the jury heard evidence against City Judge J. Allan Ballman of Middletown. He was charged with threatening his former wife, Mrs. Gladys Ballman, with a loaded revolver on June 28.

Ballman waived examination before Special County Judge W. Newcomb Calyer of Newburgh and now is at liberty in $1,000 bail.

McDonald Is . . .

Donald said he will fight any attempt to restore the bail.

"I want to hold this guy," the prosecutor said.

McDonald, tired and grim, sat in on the proceedings involving his key witness, and then, with several deputies and Gross in tow, drove off from the federal building.

The district attorney would not say where Gross would be kept.

"I'm going to put him under such guard that I'll know where he is when I want him," he said.

To Ask Adjournment

McDonald said Assistant District Attorney Julius Helfand would move tomorrow to adjourn the trial of the policeman at least until Monday. It was adjourned until Friday when Gross' disappearance became known yesterday.

The prosecutor motored to Atlantic City, N. J., during the night to bring back the wandering gambler.

McDonald and Gross left Atlantic City about the same time—2:15 a. m. (EST)—but in separate autos.

The district attorney arrived at his Brooklyn office at 5:15 a. m. and—tired out after two nights of hunting Gross—went to sleep.

McDonald said any possible bailing of Gross again will be up to Kings county Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz who ordered the $25,000 bail forfeited.

Gross told the FBI in Atlantic City that he had not fled to avoid testifying against 18 suspended or retired policemen accused of accepting his money to protect the $20,000,000-a-year gambling enterprise. He has told of paying $1,000,000 a year.

The former betting kingpin said he had simply strolled away from his police guard for "a walk in the sun."

Gross was arrested at the Atlantic City racetrack late yesterday as police throughout the nation were hunting him.

Race track and state police made the arrest and turned him over to FBI agents on a federal warrant for his arrest as a fugitive witness.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS of OUR Business
A Customer is the most important person in any business.
A Customer is not dependent on us—we are dependent on him.
A Customer is not an interruption of our work—he is the purpose of it.
A Customer does us a favor when he calls—we are not doing him a favor by serving him.
A Customer is part of our business—he is not an outsider.
A Customer is not a cold statistic — he is a flesh-and-blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own.
A Customer is not someone to argue or match wits with.
A Customer is a person who brings us his wants — it is our job to fill those wants
A Customer is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment we can give him.
A Customer is the life blood of this and every other business.
19 Years of Service
You have convinced us that devotion to these ten commandments is good policy. You have given us your confidence and support. This support, in turn, has made possible our outstanding growth during the past 19 years!
